UP AND DOWN THE Eastern Shore

Revival of Dredging

Crisfield—In the building of a new boat, a large batteau capable of carrying upwards of 500 bushels of oysters, the first of its kind to be outfitted at this port in a decade, watermen and seafood packers foresee a revival of the dredge boat industry. For years the fleet of big dredge boats has been declining, notably schooners, bug-eyes and brogans. The new batteau is being built for Capt. Orville Parks and will be named the "Joy Parks". She is expected to be under sail by Nov. 1 when the dredging season opens.

Boardwalk Aid Sought

Ocean City—Mayor W. Thomas Elliott and business men of this seashore resort have asked Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough to aid them in obtaining a Federal grant of $100,000 from the National Flood Relief Council for use in rebuilding the Ocean City boardwalk which was wrecked by the recent hurricane. Ocean City's charter stipulates that property owners shall bear the expense of such repairs but the townsfolk have attacked the charter as unfair.

Death and Life

Salisbury—For the first time in recent years an Eastern Shore Court has meted out the supreme penalty in the sentencing here of Robert Crawley, Dorchester County Negro, to be hanged for the murder of Richard Jarman, another Cambridge Negro. Judge Benjamin Johnson, who pronounced the sentence, also sentenced James Wyatt to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of Virginia Broughton, Dorchester County Negress.

Greenleaf Bobs Up

Bozman—Ralph Greenleaf, 13 times world pocket billard champion who recently was the object of a nationwide radio and police teletype search at the request of his wife, is very much alive, it was indicated in New York last week when Greenleaf announced that he will launch a comeback campaign, his first match being slated against Charles Seaback of Danbury, Conn. Greenleaf owns a farm here.

Canal 25% Complete

Chesapeake City — The Chesapeake and Delaware canal will be ready for big ship traffic by July 1, 1938, army engineers have estimated. When completed the cost will reach $14,000,000. The old waterway is being deepened from 12 to 27 feet, and widened from 90 to 250 feet. The job is now 25% complete. Meanwhile property owners along the canal are protesting that their lands are being used as disposal areas in violation of rights of way agreements, and Judge W. Calvin Chestnut, in Baltimore District Court, has ordered the Government to post $85,000 for the purchase of disposal areas.

Virginians Fined

Berlin—The long dispute over invasion of Maryland waters by Virginia commercial fishermen flared into gunfire last week when Conservation Officer Blades fired on two Chincoteague Islanders in a launch to bring them to a halt. The Islanders, Charles and Elton Bradford, were haled into court, and the former drew a fine of $25 and costs for fishing without a Maryland license.

Catsup Factory

Federalsburg—The lawn at the home of William S. Waters, frequently the repository of strange, ill-assorted articles because trucks are unable to negotiate the sharp curve opposite the home, took on the appearance of a catsup factory when a heavily laden tomato truck lost its load on the yard.

Goldsborough Endorsed

Salisbury—Describing Representative T. Alan Goldsborough "as the best friend the letter carriers have ever had in Congress" the Eastern Shore Branch of the Maryland Letter Carriers Association went on record as endorsing Mr. Goldsborough in his campaign for reelection. Clarence F. Stinson, assistant secretary of the National carriers, asked the mail men not only to support the Congressman but to put their families to work in his behalf.

Hospitals Must Wait

Cambridge—The new $150,000 extension to the Eastern Shore hospital for the insane which is expected to be completed within two months to increase the capacity by 100 patients cannot be usedl for at least a year, Gov. Harry W. Nice told Dr. George H. Preston, chairman of the State Board of Mental Hygiene, because funds in the amount of $6,000 are not available for equipment. The legislature must make an appropriation, the Governor said. Conditions at the hospital were described to the Board as a "menace" and a "shame to the State."

Check Passer Caught

Rising Sun—Leon Sparks, of Gloucester, N. J., who allegedly under the name of "James J. Ryan" victimized local merchants with a flock of bogus $20 checks has been apprehended in Philadelphia.

County Fair Scheduled

Chestertown—A county fair as a benefit for the Kent-Queen Anne's General Hospital will be held in the armory here on October 6 and 7. The program includes puppet shows, dances, canning exhibits and needlecraft with Mrs. Jesse D. Maxwell as chairman of the arrangements committee.

Election Law Upheld

Elkton—The constitutionality of Cecil County's new election law which provides for two sets of judges and clerks, the second set to come on after the polls close to tabulate the vote, thus avoiding the payment of a higher overtime rate to the original set, has been upheld by the Circuit Court. In the first joust over the new law, Police Magistrate Walter C. Miller declared it unconstitutional.

To Blast Sunken Craft

Fderalsburg—Believed to have been contributory factors in Federalsburg's million dollar flood last year, a sunken tug boat and barge in Marshy Hope creek are to be blasted out by dynamite. The craft sank about twenty years ago after being struck by lightning and burning to the water's edge. Removal is part of a $26,254 WPA project.

★ Your winter coats, furs and sport suits need regular Sanitoning. Sanitone not only makes clothes clean and odorless, it also removes the dirt particles that become imbedded in the fabric. This imbedded dirt cuts the fibres, dulls the color and robs the garment of its softness.

Sanitoned clothes wear longer because this discoloring and abrasive dirt is removed. It restores natural oils that make fabrics and furs soft and pliable and makes the garment fresher and cleaner.
