KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS NEWS

Two major activities will feature an extension program adopted by Charity Lodge No. 58, Knights of Pythias at its meeting last Tuesday night, according to the Chancellor Commander, who announced that increased attendance at lodge meetings and a goal of twenty-five applications for membership would be the principal objective of the lodge during the early spring. Both of these activities, he explained, were in harmony with a program outlined by Supreme Lodge Officers and in which a large number of the six thousand lodges were now engaged. An attendance committee has been appointed to work with the entertainment committee to provide programs of unusual interest each week.

There has been a general awakening among all fraternal societies in the importance of a better attendance at lodge meetings. Many lodges have divided their membership and instituted contests in attendance and in the number of applications for membership. Our attendance committee is at work on a plan which we believe will appeal to our members and result in a much greater percentage of attendance and bring a large number of new members.

The attendance committee is composed of John Weller, chairman, and Guy Smith, Samuel Engleman, William Heagy and Maurice Englar.

All over the country there is a growing demand for a more definite and practical program of fraternal endeavor. It will be the work of this committee to present broader conceptions of the value of fraternity through more regular attendance at lodge meetings. The Pythian fraternity has been a great factor in community life. It is composed of men who have gone out into the world and by ministration touched life with sympathy and practical aid. In recent years, the lodge, like many other, fundamental service institutions, has been neglected. It is the purpose of this committee to restore our membership to a greater degree of appreciation of fraternal brotherhood and enlist them in a more practical application of fraternity to community needs of the time.

Herbert G. Mathias, Keeper of Records and Seal, announced that all members of the lodge could obtain a free medical examination for themselves and their families by writing to the Insurance Department of the order located at Indianapolis, Ind. He urged the members to avail themselves of this service as a means of protecting themselves against any lurking disease. This service, he said, will give information which may be invaluable because it will discover hidden malady in time to correct it by consultation with the family physician. He said that a letter addressed to the insurance department would bring information covering the extent of this service.

RURAL WOMEN LOOK FROM FARM HOMES TO COLLEGE CAMPUS

Short Courses In Home Economics at University of Maryland Attracting State Wide Attention

June 18 to 23 Dates of Classes This Year

"From the home to the classroom is no longer a novel or unusual step for the rural women of Maryland," says Miss Venia M. Keller, of the University of Maryland Extension Service. "The 518 rural women attending the annual Short Course offered last year by the University proved themselves well able to make the change from housekeeper to student at short notice, and with greater ease than the average girl who must reverse the order in returning from her student life to the home."

The Short Course work this year will be given from June 18 to 23. Arrangements are being made for many prominent lecturers, and the popularity of the work among the women of the state insures a capacity attendance.

If the Short Course for rural women has demonstrated anything in the five years since its inauguration, it is that the rural woman has the knack of adapting herself readily to new and untried conditions. The increasing attendance has left no doubt about the ability of the rural woman to step gracefully from the door of her home one day and to be perfectly at ease the next in the environment of the classroom and laboratory.

It is not difficult to understand what a week at the University of Maryland means to the rural woman who is able to take advantage of it. First of all comes the instruction, provided on a generous scale among practical lines. They acquire knowledge of foods and nutriton, discover new ways of cooking and serving meals, gather hints here and there on appetizing salads and tempting desserts, and gain a better understanding of the processes of canning and preserving.

To understand how eagerly the rural woman grasps the opportunity provided by the course in clothing and millinery, it is only necessary to observe the close interest of the class in these subjects. The essentials of costume planning, the selection of textiles, the choice of suitable millinery and the construction of attractive and inexpensive hats are ever popular and absorbing subjects.

The convenience, comfort and attractiveness of her home are other matters of appealing interest to the average rural woman. From the lectures and demonstrations in household management and house furnishing, many new and practical ideas in the renovation of furniture, the proper choice of color combinations, in the use of correct drapery materials and in the selection of suitable furniture are carried back home from the Short Course to be put into use. Equally valuable suggestions for the exterior improvement of the home are obtained from the course in landscape gardening.

And so it is with the other courses; with dairying, with poultry, health, parliamentary law, and citizenship. From all of them the rural woman is able to secure help and increased inspiration.

The instruction provided during the Short Course, however, is but one of the appealing features of the week at the University of Maryland. The relief from routine of household duties, opportunities to meet new people, to make new friendships and exchange ideas are of value in giving the rural woman a real week of relaxation and profit.

Great many people reported injured by falls, particularly by falling in love.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords — an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

GIRLS' 4-H CLUBS IN CARROLL

The Sykesville and Taneytown 4-H clubs have recently reorganized for the year. Both clubs have decided to take "Own Your Own Room" as their project for the year. Each girl will study her own room conditions and make as many improvements as possible during the year. Painted articles, linens, and furnishings will be included in the year's work. In addition to this, each girl will take care of her own room. A great deal of interest has been shown in the meetings already held.

The Warfieldsburg 4-H club, after a vacation of several months, will meet again the first of April and will continue the clothing project already started.

A new 4-H club project this year has been worked out, a flower growing club. If any group of rural girls are interested in this project, write to the Home Demonstration Agent, Westminster, for information.

It is claimed that people should know how to do carpenter work, and anyway the politicians are repairing their fences.

Having started out to acquire $1,000,000 in the first 10 years, the American youth is disappointed at the end of the year to find only $1.59 in his pockets.

Automobile accidents are extremely costly to the people of Maryland, but they feel they would lose a second or two of their valuable time if they took the proper precautions.
