BIRD HILL MAN FINED $75

Urner Shipley, Bird Hill, was convicted Monday morning, before Police Justice Robert E. Lee Hutchins, on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, and sentenced to pay a fine of $75 and costs. A large number of habitues of the place testified that men and boys congregate there frequently, playing poker and cyclone pitch, for money. Among the witnesses were three boys, aged respectively 17, 16, and 14 years, all of whom testified that they had played with others at Shipley's place, two and sometimes three times a week during the past year and a half. The youngest boy testified that he had never won anything, but had on some evenings lost as much as $2. The witnesses also testified that a glass tumbler was kept on the table, and the players under certain conditions put nickels in it, and that Shipley got the money. The boys testified that when a certain amount of money was in the glass, they were permitted by the accused to go to his cellar, and help themselves to hard cider. The State was represented by State's Attorney Theodore F. Brown, and the accused by Edward O. Weant, who entered an appeal to the Circuit Court.

BILL AT GARDEN THEATRE

Mirth and melody will be the keynote for the titanic bill to be offered the week of April 30 at the New Garden Theatre, Baltimore, home exclusively of Keith-Albee Big Time Vaudeville.

The program is headed by Ella Shields, the character impersonator, who was born in Baltimore but who gained much of her success on the stage in London. Her "Burlington Bertie" is regarded as a stage classic and is of the type of characterization work that improves with the passing of years.

"Gossips of 1928" is a musical extravaganza which is elaborately staged and costumed. It is replete with catchy songs, some clever dancing and chuckles galore.

Incidentally, Billy Dale, who wrote the book, lyrics and music for the "Gossips," is part of the show and is to be seen in a single act of his own which is a riot of fun from beginning to end.

One of the best of the lady orchestras now before the public is also offered. This is headed by Marjorie Moore, who calls her players "The Ten Buds." Just to hear these young women playing snappy jazz music is a real show in itself. Ray Powell, Marty Gibbons, Daniel Lehay and Fred Kuhlman do specialties during the progress of the number.

"Before and After" is the name of the comedy skit in which Hibbit and Hartman are being starred. It carries sixty laughs to the minute from beginning to end during the song and patter of the duo.

Another pair of fun producers, this time a couple of young women, have a novel method of offering a song revue. They are Alice May Howard and Sophie Bennett and work much on the order of Dolly and Billy, who are at present creating a furore in Paris with their comedy number.

"Six California Peaches" are a bevy of beautiful girls from the land of almost perpetual sunshine, who have a unique dance revue to offer. Each and every one is a talented stepper and all the latest ballroom and stage dances are being shown by them during the course of their number.

"The Ward Brothers," Bob and Al, another pair of humorous characters, wind up the vaudeville part of the bill.

"The Shield of Honor," a Universal release with an all-star cast, a thrilling drama of police life, will be the feature picture to be shown.

Sold! $17,000 worth of Cars and less than two-tenths of 1% for the Telephone

In speaking of Long Distance — the sales manager of a well-known automobile company says: "I consider the TELEPHONE the most valuable, and at the same time the cheapest, sales asset I have."

With only ten long distance calls, costing the sum of $19.50 (one-tenth of one per cent), this man sold $17,000 worth of cars at a considerable profit to himself.

Another prominent motor vehicle concern makes four contacts every month with 300 customers in the smaller buying centers three of which are made by telephone, and the fourth, by a personal visit of the same salesman. They have found that this method pays real returns.

CENTENARY METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Dr. Hayes, the pastor will preach at 10:45 A. M., and at 7:30 P. M. A popular address will be given by Rev. W. Y. Chang, of Tientsin, China. Mr. Chang is a graduate of college, and of a Theological Seminary, and for the past year has been a post-graduate student at the Westminster Seminary; he is a Christian, a minister, and a very fluent speaker, with a great message; he will speak on "Present Conditions in China," and will tell whether that great land wishes to do away with the missionaries or not. The music will be given by an orchestra of six pieces, pipe organ, piano, trombone, trumpet, cornet and violin. All are cordially invited.

Henry Ford made a speech in 29 words in England some days ago, but Cal Coolidge could do it in fewer words than that.
