Senator J. H. C. Legg

An Editorial

Queen Anne's county was saddened Wednesday at news of the passing of former Senator John Henry Clinton Legg.

Senator Legg was one of the county's delightful personalities. Possessed of a cheerful manner, an unfailing fount of good humor and wit a friendly hand for every one, he held a warm place in the hearts of county residents from the most humble to the highest.

His years as a lawyer naturally gave him contacts with people of both races, of all stations in life. Not even Senator Legg himself knew how many people he had defended in court without recompense.

He was a skillful and resourceful lawyer, remarkably well versed in human nature, known for powerful appeals to juries and deftness in weeding out doubtful talesmen.

Born on Kent Island, he always kept that section close to his heart. When watermen were in trouble, when they felt that their rights were being taken away, they came to Senator Legg. And he threw himself into their cause ardently.

He helped organize the Eastern Shore County Commissioners Association, and although not a county commissioner for years, he was permanent chairman of that body. That alone speaks volumes for the respect in which he was held by such a group of Shore leaders as county commissioners must be.

But the honors which came to Senator Legg were but a small part of the reasons for which hewas beloved. His warm nature, his ready and pleasant humor, his rugged purpose in maintaining friendly relationships with every one knit countless to him.

And in his passing the grief of his family is shared by those who knew Senator Legg.
