WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE

At this time of the year many members of the graduating classes of our high schools and preparatory schools, as well as their parents, are very much interested in information concerning colleges. An advertisement in this issue of our paper calls attention to Western Maryland College which we can heartily recommend.

Western Maryland College is primarily a college for this locality. Its curriculum is planned to meet the needs of graduates of our secondary schools, its courses, consequently, acting as a continuation of earlier work without any seeming break in the work or major changes being necessary. In building its curriculum in this manner it has now been possible to maintain those standards that are necessary for all high grade colleges, a fact brought out by its being classed as a Standard A-1 college by the standardizing agencies. In addition to these good points, its beautiful location in the highlands of Maryland, its fine equipment in buildings and grounds, its high grade faculty makes it an attractive place to get a higher education.

Realizing that it must move forward in equipment and teaching force to keep up its standards, the administration has not been idle. Quite recently it has added to its grounds a first class athletic field to insure its students greater facilities for recreation, play being quite necessary to keep pthe student in condition to study properly. A new dormitory for women has greatly helped the residence problem, making for good conditions of living and thus further promoting happiness in its students which is reflected in better work. Since a good college needs money to obtain and keep good teachers, Western Maryland has worked towards increasing its income by making a very substantial addition to its endowment. A portion of this is a gift from the General Education Board (the Rockefeller Foundation) and the remainder comes from loyal alumni and friends. This gift from the General Education Board is significant, in that the Board, by its action, shows its feeling as to the service being rendered by this institution. This work has been accomplished since 1920 and, with all, the college now declares itself absolutely free from debt.

The improvements will not stop here. Plans are already drawn up by an architect for greatly increasing the recitation room and laboratory space and also for providing a new up-to-date dining room and kitchen. It is the belief that the actual construction of these units will begin before the close of the year 1928.

The college offers a wide election in courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Courses may be elected which prepare for the schools of law, medicine, and engineering, and which admit to the best professional schools. A four year course in Home Economics leading to a degree is offered. Students may also elect a course in education, the completion of which secures a certificate of the State Board of Education enabling the holder to teach in the high schools of this and other states. In addition to the regular courses offered, there are supplementary courses in Music and Speech. A regular unit of the Reserve officer's Training Corps is established at the college, the government supplying the teachers of Military Science and Tactics and uniforms and equipment. During the year just ended Western Maryland ranked high among the schools of the Corps Area in this department.

We commend Western Maryland College to our readers who may be considering sending their sons and daughters away to college. The college opens Tuesday, September 11th, for its 62nd year. Students are advised to register in advance.

FOREST AND STREAM CLUB TO HOLD CASTING TOURNAMENT

The first casting tournament ever held in Westminster, will be on the afternoon of Decoration Day between 1:30 and 6:00. Through the kindness of Mr. W. Frank Thomas, the club now has the finest casting grounds in the East. Four events will be given, ⅝ oz accuracy and distance, ½ oz. accuracy and distance. The accuracy events will be cast at floating targets on the water at the Thomas swimming pool and the distance events on the meadow opposite the pool. Members of the casting clubs of Baltimore, Frederick, and Hagerstown will be present. As it is early in the casting season, no records are expected to be broken, as the casters have had but little practice. Plans are being made to hold a series of these events among the State clubs, this year. Next fall the Forest and Stream Club is planning to have a big tournament and invite all the casting clubs in the East. The committee for this tournament is H. L. Hobby, J. Albert Mitten and S. S. Wilson.

The annual meeting of the club will be held this evening, at the County Agent's room, Times Building. At this time the officers for the coming year will be elected, committees appointed, date for camp set and other important business will be taken up.

Seventeen thousand little mouth bass fry were planted in the streams of Carroll county last Monday, by the Conservation Department. The revenue from the angler's licenses has given the State about $12,000 for this work and already more fish are being received for our streams than for a number of years.

Convenience and correct dress demand two watches

In the office and on the road, and when a man pursues his outdoor hobbies, a strap watch proves an invaluable possession.

So too should a woman wear a strap watch for sport. The intricate mechanism of her dress wristlet should not be put to the continued stress of such rigorous activity.

Yet with evening dress a man's strap watch becomes incongruous and a woman's sport model an ornament of doubtful taste. They who hold convenience and correct dress as things of consequence, possess two watches—a strap watch for business and the sports, and a dress watch for social wear.

Our extensive showing of watches dressed in the popular Wadsworth White Gold Cases is especially interesting.

An Ideal and An Aim

"The ideal and aim today of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its associated companies is a telephone service for the nation enabling at all times anyone anywhere to pick up a telephone and talk to anyone else anywhere else, clearly, quickly and at a reasonable cost."

WALTER S GIFFORD,
President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (Bell System)

¶ This statement of the president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company expresses the ideal and aim of the Bell System. It is the principle which has guided the management during the entire life of the system—to give the most telephone service and the best at the lowest cost to the public.

¶ In pursuit of this objective there has been established a great nation-wide system of communication — built and extended in a spirit of service to the public—permitting at all times anyone anywhere to talk to anyone anywhere else, clearly, quickly and at a reasonable cost.

¶ The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City which furnishes your service is a part of the Bell System. Its policies are the same—to give you the most telephone service and the best at the lowest possible cost.

¶ To this end we are constantly setting higher standards of service—then bending our energies to attain them. The year just closed has witnessed greater progress in this direction than any similar period in the company's history.

¶ This year we expect to do better and next year better still. In this way we are striving faithfully to realize the ideals and aims of the Bell System.
