Dwelling Razed At Crouses Mill

W. G. Lynch Home Burned To Ground

Fire believed to have started from an overheated chimney destroyed the dwelling house on the Charles Jarrell farm near Crouse's Mill tenanted by William G. Lynch about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Ridgely Fire Company answered the alarm but was summoned too late to do more than protect outbuildings. Loss on the dwelling is said to be fully covered by insurance.

The Lynch family was away from home because of a death when the fire occurred. It started in the upper floor of the dwelling and had such headway when discovered that only a small amount of furniture from the lower rooms was saved.

The loss marked the second dwellng house on the farm burned to the ground in recent years.

The coal and wood yard of Percy E. Thomas at Chester was endangered by fire Sunday when a woods blaze behind the premises spread toward the yard. The Queenstown Fire Company was called and checked the fire.

Show Boat To Tie Up At Crumpton Next Week

The Original Floating Theatre, now on its 24th annual tour, is to tie up at Crumpton all next week presenting a repertoire of plays under management of Captain Milford Seymour.

Through the entire week comedy will predominate, interspersed with music, dancing and girls. Boob Brasfield's comedians are featured with petite Bonnie Brasfield as leading lady. Pup Shannon's Swingcopators create the music.

The bill for next week includes such plays as "Sin Takes A Holiday," "The Devil Is Hovering Over the White House," "The Golden Siamese God," and on Friday evening, "Lena Rivers."

Tells Aids For Home Pressing Of Clothes

To do good pressing of odd shaped parts of clothing, curved seams, and sleeves, the large ironing board needs to be supplemented by two or three pressing pads that will fit into corners and curves. Miss Helen Shelby, clothing specialist for the Universtiy of Maryland Extension Service, says that a pressing pad should be made of ticking or heavy canvas, filled with sawdust or shreds of woolen cloth. She suggests making one board long and narrow for the sleeves, and another somewhat in the shape of a ham for armholes and curved seams. To make a "tailor's ham", as it is often called, cut two oval-shaped pieces of the ticking or canvas, each about 12 inches long and graduating in width from 6 to 2 inches. Stitch these together, leaving an opening for the filling, stuff tight with sawdust or shredded scraps of cloth, and close. Cover with outing flannel; then have a removable, washable cover of muslin.

Another pressing help is a roll for pressing open seasms that might become mussed if pressed on a board. A small sleeve board has its place, too, Miss Selby says, in the collection of pressing accessories. It should be padded and covered like the regular ironing board.

The United States has put to beneficial use less than half of its agricultural possibilities.

QUEEN ANNE

Mrs. Selby Smith, of Ridgey, and Mrs. M. F. Carigues, of Baltimore, were guests on Wednesday of last week of Mrs. Bernard Sparks. In the afternoon Mrs. Sparks and her guests visited Mrs. Joseph White, of Denton, and Mrs. Lelia J. Nickerson, of Hartly.

names of the entire Centreville roster and told me they were all big leaguers. That would have been too great a strain on my gullibility, which bruises easy, anyhow.

Eddie Feinberg is a shortstop, a rangy kid of only 17 and well known in the tag-end of the city, where he was a three-letter athlete at Southern High. Eddie was a catcher, but was converted ino a shortstop at Centrevile and became a good one.

Pitko is a slugging outfielder, tall, well built and fast. And if his throwing arm is of any less caliber than the Big Bertha that tossed Krupp's confetti into Paris, then Patsy should take two for lyin' and remember to be a good Far Downer.

The other three are pitchers—Ogden, Gross and Lomas. O'Rourke describes them all as being fast which if nothing else indicates they at least have the fundamental requirements for pitching in select company.

"Perhaps J. Petrucio is unduly enthusiastic about all these sprouts from the farm, but as I say if only one of them makes good the Phils will not have lost money in their minor league enterprise, but turned a neat profit."

American Boy Introduces A New Fotball Game

In the early fallissues of THE AMERICAN BOY there'll be presented the story of a new game—six-man football—fast as professional football, wide open as basketball, thrilling as hockey!

The game came to life through the need of small schools for some substitute for 11-man football, which was too expensive. Stephen Epler, a Nebraska graduate student in athletics, developed the game of six-man football to meet this need. In six-man football anybody can score, the possibility of injury from mass plays is minimized, and the game is open enough for spectators to follow every exciting development.

The new game is a hit. New schools are taking it up every day. In coming issues THE AMERICAN BOY tells the world about this practical new game. In addition, it presents The American Boy Official Handbook, which can be obtained from the magazine at 20 cents a copy, or 15 cents when bought in bulk.

NOTE: Subscription prices of THE AMERICAN BOY will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect; one year at $1.00 or three years at $2.00. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newsstands the price is 15c a copy. Adv.

Maurice E. Newnam & Son organization—schooled for nearly forty years in honest value . . . can produce, the highest quality memorials at the lowest cost anywhere. But they are not miracle men. They cannot produce a perfect memorial to sell at the same price as a memorial that isn't perfect. There are numerous good-looking memorials that sell for very cheap prices, but they have been produced to sell at a cheap price.

Newnam Memorials cannot compete with these cheaper memorials in COST . . . any more than the cheaper one can compete with NEWNAM MEMORIALS in QUALITY.

It is the privilege of any buyer to pay less for his memorial than Newnam's modest prices . . . but when he PAYS less, he should EXPECT less.
