Soybean Exhibit Car Comes to County Monday

The Soybean Exhibit car said to feature soybean products from roof to rails, will be stationed at the railroad station in Centreville for a four hour period of free inspection by the public on Monday. The car will arrive about 10:30 a. m. and will leave at 2:30 p. m. In between are the visiting hours.

The vocational classes of the county high schools are planning to take in the exhibit as are several groups of farmers. Interest in the oil soybean, whose products the car features, has spread markedly in Queen Anne's during the past year and this interest led to the assigning of the car here for a short stay.

Throughout the car uses of soybeans are featured while displays and exhibits stress the wide variety of uses for the bean in foods for animals and man in an exhibit loaned by the United States Department of Agriculture's regional laboratory.

Nov. 6 Is Deadline To Declare For 1938 Vote

Persons who have moved into Maryland from another state and who wish to participate in the general election of 1938 have until November 6 of this year to file a declaration of intentions at the office of the Clerk of Court in the county in which they reside. Such declaration made before November 6 will also enable them to qualify to vote in the primary elections next fall, it has been pointed out.

Under the Maryland law a citizen of another state must file his declaration of intention of becoming a citizen of Maryland a year before he is entitled to vote here. Maryland citizens merely transferring residence from one county to another need only to secure a certificate of transfer.
