"CRIME" TO BE PRESENTED AT AUDITORIUM

Next week's production by the Knopf-Farnsworth Company at the Auditorium will be the Shipman-Hymer melodramatic success "Crime." This will be the first local presentation of this play that ran an entire season at the New York Eltinge Theatre and throughout the theatrical year at the Queen's Theatre in London. Much of the credit for the exceptional reception of the play in both New York and the British metropolis was credited to the expert staging by A. H. Van Buren and this director was brought to Baltimore by the Knopf-Farnsworth organization to assure Baltimore playgoers the same standard of theatrical excellence that characterized the two previous major productions of the play. Frankly melodramatic in theme "Crime" is one of the most engrossing, colorful and theatrically effective plays of recent years. With over thirty-five spoken roles, four acts and seven scenes it presents a vivid and swiftly moving picture of a lurid phase of metropolitan life. The action begins innocently enough on a park bench in Central Park where a boy and the girl-friend, carefully count their fortune of One Hundred, Thirty Dollars and No Cents, and plan a blissful honeymoon on Coney Island. Love's young dream is rudely interrupted, however, and Tommy and his Annabelle become unwilling participants in one of the most thrilling and breath-taking adventures in the history of crookdom. Kenneth MacKenna will remain in Baltimore to play an important role in this production while Frances Fuller of "Bobby Halevy" fame, will be cast to rthe role of Annabelle. A. J. Herbert, Harlan Briggs, Lorna Elliott, Reed Brown, Pen Hubbard, Albert Hayes, Katharine Hepburn, Helen Dodge, Jerry Cowan and William Webb are others in the lengthy cast now rehearsing under Mr. Van Buren's direction for the production of "Crime." The settings, seven of them, are now being constructed in the Knopf-Farnsworth studio from original designs of Arne Lundberg.
