ALICE K. SHEA, Social Editor, Centreville 148

With the excitement of the holiday season almost forgotten and the prospect of a delightful and enjoyable baseball season ahead, this week finds most of us relaxing and just marking time, and even allowing ourselves to be caught in the clutches of that annual visitor "spring fever."

One of the first important events on the spring social calendar is the play being given by the Little Theatre Group at the Little Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

—o—

The Wednesday afternoon bridge club whose meetings were discontinued during the Lenten season resumed their weekly get-together last week with Mrs. R. E. C. Lowe as hostess and the honors were carried away by Mrs. H. F. McPherson. This week the same club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. S. Thomas and Mrs. James M. Corkran's score topped all the others.

—o—

Mrs. James McCallum was hostess to the members of her bridge club last week at her home on Commerce street. Mrs. Robert Newell was high scorer and Mrs. Clarence Woodward took consolation.

—o—

Mrs. Charles S. Morris, of Lewes, Del., is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lillie M. Maddux. Mrs. Maddux had as her guests on Sunday her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Barron, of Philadelphia.

—o—

Mrs. Clayton T. Cann and Mrs. William H. Carter spent several days last week in Harrisburg, Pa., as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Walter.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ozmon, of New York City, were the week-end guests of Mr. Ozmon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Ozmon.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kemp, of Henderson; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young and family, of Goldsboro, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner.

—o—

Mr. John T. Bruehl, jr., of Berlin, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. Mrs. John T. Bruehl.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Combs Burch and son Charles, were dinner guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Barton, Chsterfield avenue.

—o—

Mrs. Adolph Doehler is spending a few days in Baltimore.

—o—

Miss Blanche Zittel, a teacher in Buckingham high school, Berlin, spent the week-end in Centreville.

—o—

Mrs. Edward Sherman and daughter Martha Elizabeth, arrived Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max C. Sherman, of Bennett's Point.

—o—

Miss Lorraine Doehler, a student at St. Mary's Seminary, returned to her studies Tuesday after spending her spring vacation with her mother, Mrs. Adolph Doehler.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson entertained as their week-end guests, Miss Mildred Smith and Mr. Mason Dunham, of Easton.

—o—

Mrs. William J. Price, jr., has opened her home on Liberty street after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. L. V. Alexander in Greenville, S. C., with friends in Florida, and with her son, Mr. William J. Price, 3d, in Ruxton.

—o—

Mrs. E. Sterling Price and daughter Virginia, have returned to Centreville, after a visit with friends in Baltimore.

—o—

Mrs. Fred Kochli and daughter Marianne, of Chevy Chase, were guests last week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kenton and sister, Miss Louise Kenton. They returned home Sunday taking Mr. and Mrs. Kenton with them for a visit.

—o—

Miss Sara Turpin entertained as her week-end guests Miss Helen Schneider of Washington.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Barron of Philadelphia, were week-end visitors of his mother and sister, Mrs. Lillie M. Maddux and Miss Eleanor Maddux.

Chanaud, sceretary-treasurer. These officers and the Rev. Francis J. Fisher, Mrs. Gurdon Buck and Miss Grace Brown form the board of directors. Play on the courts is expected to start the latter part of this week.

Centreville Homemakers Meet Tuesday

The Centreville Homemakers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Bennett Carter on Tuesday with sixteen members present and two visitors. Mrs. Charles Mullikin was admited to membership at the session.

The meeting was marked by a program in keeping with Arbor Day. Mrs. Benjamin Hayden gave a solo, "Trees", with Mrs. Elmer C. Kessler at the piano. Readings were given by Mrs. J. T. Pittman and Mrs. B. S. Mallonee. A demonstration of the selection of pictures for the home was given by Miss Ruby Kirk while plans for the Flower Mart and discussion of the Rural Woman's Short Course marked the business meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and the club invited to meet with Mrs. William Willis for the May meeting.

Tommy Ogden Called Home By Father's Death

Tommy Ogden, pitcher for the Colts last year and now with Montgomery, Ala., was called home to Philadelphia last week because of the death of his father, Edward Ogden, who died on Tuesday, April 19 after two weeks' illness.

Mr. Ogden had visited Centreville a number of times last year to see his son pitch and made a number of acquaintances here. He was Deputy Sheriff of Delaware County, Pa., at the time of his death and had been in public life almost from the time he gave up major league baseball.

As a young man he played third base with the St. Louis Browns. Later he was a sealer in the Delaware County Bureau of Weights and Measures and for sixteen years served as Commissioner for Upper Darby Township. Besides his son, Tommy Ogden, he is survived by his wife and three daughters.

FOR BEETLE WORK

A Howard Johnson of Centreville has been named one of the twenty-three members of a state Entomology committee organized to aid in the fight against Japanese beetle and other insect pests by Dr. T. B. Symons, director the University of Maryland Extension Service.
