HOLLYWOOD STAR-LITES

By Chuck Cochard

No Split:

Despite the fact that there have been ugly rumors that Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone would separate, everything remains just as smooth as silk and nothing of the sort is in view. We hope that it is just another endless Hollywood rumor gone wrong.

—o—

Add Romance:

Although Rudy Valle has been spending most of his time since his arrival in Hollywood for "Gold Diggers in Paris" with Gloria Youngblood, but from the interest he displayed in his new leading lady, Rosemary Lane, there might be romance so it is said . . . George Brent is still tops in Constance Worth's league.

—o—

Off The Set:

Sonja Henie sticks to a color-scheme per year, and it's blue this year . . . Dixie Dunbar hates to be called "Shorty" and always wears 3-inch heels so she'll look tall . . . Simone Simon hates wearing hats because they keep the sun and air from her hair . . . Walter Winchell writes left-handed but gets his facts straight.

—o—

Stylescope:

Joan Crawford gave Boulevard shoppers a preview peep at one of the latest models. The star was wearing a superbly fitted postman blue jacket, and a finely striped, blue, dark red and white skirt. Her slim waist was accentuated by a tight-fitting red wool waistcoat. To complete her ensemble she wore a red and blue turban twisted spiral fashion.

—o—

Preview Peek:

"Happy Landing," the third Sonja Henie is even better than the first two. Aided by Don Ameche, Ethel Merman and Cesar Romero, Miss Henie proves she is a star in her own right. Although not yet an actress, the different kind of personality clicks, and her ice-skating is eye-filling. Songs. A 3-Star-Lite picture.

—o—

Preview Peek:

"The Buccaneer," Cecil B. DeMille's latest triumph starring Frederic March, Franciska Gaal, and Margot Grahame transforms another of those little known chapters of American history into one of the best pictures we've seen in a long while. Miss Gaal of Hungary and Vienna certainly becomes a leading Hollywood figure overnight. A four Star-Lite picture.

—o—

Candid-Take:

John Barrymore, born in Philadelphia, Pa., February 15, 1882. If John Barrymore had not been fired from a job in the art department of a New York newspaper by the late Arthur Brisbane, the screen and stage might not have had him. Then he took to the stage. Love-life: ıFormerly wed to Dolores Costello, Barrymore is now married to Elaine Barrie. His latest is with Gldays Swarthot in "Romance in the Dark."

—o—

Preview Peek:

"Big Broadcast of 1938" starring W. C. Fields, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross and others. Like other yearly musicals of this kind it serves to introduce new people to the screen. It is fairly entertaining, but sadly disappointing at times. Very inconsistent plot. Fields isn't his old self and Lamour and Raye are buried under. Bob Hope is tops. A 2-Star-Lite picture.

"Bringing Up Baby" co-starring Katherine Hepburn and Cary Grant with Charlie Ruggles is one of the most insane comedies we have ever seen, and yet original. There's never a dull moment. Miss Hepburn does a new but difficult role with skill and is matched by the fine performance of Grant. If you like these very modern slapstick comedies you must see this one. A 3-Star-Lite opus.

—o—

Stylescope By Hazel May:

Hollywood studio film stylist tell me that the accent will be on femininity for the spring. That means that those mannish suits, slacks, etc., will be taboo and that everything will be very feminine.

Royer, 20th Century-Fox stylist, tells me that flounces will be all the go. For an evening dress for Simone Simon in "Josette" he has chosen the color grey, which promises to become one of the leading shades for youthful evening wear.

The bodice follows the fitted line popular with full skirts. Diamond shaped neckline, with very brief skill fully draped sleeves. Very modern, however, is the scarf treatment worn at the neck, two long wide ends of net, and clipped together at the base of the throat with a long pin of rhinestones. A knee-length wrap of chalk-white taffeta casually loose and with square wide sleeves, tuxedo revers embroidered in wide diagonal stripes of silver and a similar treatment at the edge of the sleeves is one of the popular evening wraps for spring.
