This weather certainly brings to mind the nursery rhyme:
"Rain, rain, go away,
Come again some other day
Little Johnny wants to play."

Summer, the season of the year that seems all too short anyway, is really being cramped by this wet, wet weather. Many who chose these two weeks to enjoy a vacation at cottages on the river or at the seashore are certainly getting spirits and ardor dampened to the n-th degree. Here's hoping Old Sol will hurry and not only peep through the clouds but actually come right out and show his face so we can really get acquainted with him again!
