League Season Ends With Colts Playing Well

Out Of Playoffs, Team Wrecks Federalsburg Chances; Lose Sunday

CENTREVILLE, 9; FEDS, 5

Centreville dashed Federalsburg's hopes of making the playoffs when they defeated the A's 9-5 in the final game between the two clubs at Queen Anne's park Friday night. Prior to the game Comptroller William S. Gordy, jr., spoke briefly in furtherance of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor and when the Colts romped home they preserved their record of winning whenever a notable addressed the fans in the park.

The Colts waved their war clubs early, batting around in the second for four runs, getting another on Socker Joe Holden's homer in the third and polishing off Hertzler, Fed hurler, in the fourth with three runs.

The visitors uncorked their only threat in the fourth when with the Colts five runs ahead they batted around for four runs to make the game close. Their final tally came in the fifth. Thereafter Lloyd Gross, Colt hurler, swung back into form and muffled the A's bats.

Centreville got at least one hit in every inning except the sixth. Norman Wurst accepted a gift double in the first when Fed outfielders let a high fly drop unchallenged between them.

Rist opened the second with a scratch single, Carroll sent him to second with a line single to left and Holden walked. After Usiack fanned, Gross drove to short, scoring Rist and all hands were safe when Dry, Fed second sacker, dropped an easy peg. Marnie fanned. Wurst and Stoviak walked to force two more runs in and Marnie scored on Bethcan's hot single to third. Rist, up again grounded out.

After Holden homered over right center in the third the visitors batted around, fashioned four runs on four hits and two walks.

The Colts promptly got three tallies. Marnie walked. Wurst fanned. Stoviak walked. Bethman singled to fill the bags and Hertzler took a shower. Rist greeted Slowball Barnes with a hot single to center scoring two runs and Bethman tallied on a double steal as Rist was pinched going to second.

The Colts last run in the eighth came on Marnie's double, Wurst's infield out, Stoviak's walk and a double steal engineered by the pair with Marnie crossing safely.

Features of the game were Gross' fine hurling except in the fourth, nice fielding by Stoviak and Wurst and a pair of snappy double plays Gross to Usiack to Wurst and Usiack to Marnie to Wurst.

CAMBRIDGE, 3; CENTREVILLE, 2

Cambridge nosed out Centreville 3-2 in a tense, smartly played pitcher's duel at Queen Anne's park Sunday afternoon, the visitors getting a break with two out in the ninth that decided the contest.

Up to that point Pete Dulick had outpitched his rival, Buck Rodgers. The score was tied at 2-all as the frame opened. Colwell lifted a fly to Stoviak for the first out and Dulick fanned Schram to bring up visions of extra-innings. But Pete lost control of a pitch and hit Ivanicki in the small of the back. Marshall, burly catcher, took two strikes and then whaled a mighty double to the scoreboard to send the deciding counter over.

It was a tough game for Pete to lose. Besides holding the Cards to seven hits he whopped out two himself to keep a couple of rallies going. But his mates were impotent with the bases populated.

In the opening frame Murtaugh of Cambridge shot a grounder to center with one down but languished as Dulick struck out Braner and Stine grounded out. Harry Marnie opened for the Colts with a grounder to left. Wurst missed a long homer by a matter of a feet and then fanned. Stoviak hit into a double play.

Neither side got going in the second. In the third the visitors put two on by a double and walk but Pete got three batters on infield balls.

Matt Usiack opened the third for Centreville with a ground double over third. Dulick promptly slapped a hit into center for the first run. Marnie singled, putting Dulick on second. Wurst sacrificed both along and Dulick scored on Stoviak's fly.

With both sides going down in order in the fourth the Cards broke through in the fifth. Ivanicki and Marshall singled in order. The former scored as Rodgers hit into a double play. Lanifero singled, stole second. Murtaugh was passed but Braner lined into center to score Lanifero with the tieing run.

From then until two out in the ninth Dulick got twelve batters out in order. Centreville threatened hard but vainly. Stoviak singled in the sixth but his mates could not advance him a base.

Carroll opened the seventh with a double. Holden flied out to center. Usiack fouled to the catcher and Dulick got his second hit, an infield single on which Carroll took third. Marnie forced Dulick to end the threat.

In the seventh Wurst singled, was forced by Stoviak. Bethman singled and Rist walked to load the bags. From there on Centreville went out in order. Cielesz, pinch-hitting in the ninth almost pulled the game into a tie with a tremendous foul that was close enough to be exciting.

Eight Colts stranded against six Cards told the story. Dulick was usually ahead of the batters, his two walks being to dangerous to Murtaugh in ticklish spots. Centreville showed snappy fielding, Wurst accepting fourteen chances while Marnie engineerd a fast double play.
