UP AND DOWN THE Eastern Shore

Only Witness Dies

Elkton—Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Goodyear, 83, removed the only witness of the fatal shooting of her son Howard, who was shot to d eath as he sat on her bed about a month ago allegedly by another son, John Goodyear. The best remaining evidence of the State is the purported confession of John who said that he had shot his brother because the latter used abusive language toward his mother and refused to stop. John Goodyear, who will be tried in December, is one of three surviving children of a family of thirteen.

Close Coast Guard Unit

Ocean City—The Isle of Wight station near here is one of forty-one decommissioned Coast Guard building units of the Service buildings and sites are to be sold, leased or returned to the original grantors. The main station here will be retained.

Dies In Farm Accident

Reliance—Daniel W. Ellis, 77, former member of the House of Delegates from Dorchester county, was killed almost instantly on his farm when he was knocked down by a pair of mules and a wagon loaded with corn passed over his body.

Dine On Version

Elkton—Inmates of the county almshouse and the county jail fared on venison when a Greyhouse Bus traveling south struck and killed a deer with seven points and weighing 250 pounds after the animal started across the road in the path of the vehicle. The carcass was turned over to Sheriff Eugene Racine who divided the meat between the almshouse and the prison.

Beat Explosions

St. Michaels—Local firemen came through an exciting fire successfully when they saved the home of Dr. Edmonds in McDaniel despite the presence of three 50-gallon drums of gasoline and some smaller ones. A series of explosions shooting flames a hundred feet in the air set fire to the dwelling repeatedly. With no water available the firemen shuttled their two trucks back and forth for supplies of chemicals and held the spectacular blaze to one side of the house.

Stomach Blow Fatal

Berlin—Indifference to a stomach injury as compared with a less important wound on his hand was a contributory cause of the death of Harry Webb, 18-year-old employee of a lumber mill near Bishops. Webb was struck on the hand and stomach by a board which flew up when the mill planer broke. He received medical attention for the injured hand,, was advised to seek hospital treatment for the stomach injury but declined. He developed severe stomach pains the next day and died shortly afterwards.

In Whose Lap

Chestertown—Presented with a bill for $558 for a recent recount the County Commissioners rejected the bill, holding that as far as they were concerned there had been no recount and they had had no part in the affair. Bond for $1,000 to cover costs of the recount had been posted by W. Paul Joiner in the names of the County Commissioners and the Supervisors of Elections. One of the two Boards may have to collect for the recount. Neither wishes to make the actual step.

Plan Disposal Plants

Easton — Chestertown and Easton have taken steps to comply with orders of the State Board of Health for adequate sewerage disposal plants. At Easton a project will be undertaken to cost about $105,000, involving digging of a ditch four miles long to the Choptank river, construction of a sewerage disposal plant, force mains, outfall sewer and conversion of existing plants into pumping stations. At Chestertown a plant to cost an estimated $61,000 will be built on a Riverside Drive lot near the Armory. Both projects will be assisted by the PWA.

Truck Hits Child

Cambridge—Seeing a child lying on the road and thinking she was too close to his truck Andrew G. Holliday, the driver, investigated, found that the truck had already struck and knocked down 9-year-old Betty Lou Powell. The driver picked the child up, took her to hospital where she died.

Weighted Body Rises

Rising Sun—A body of an unidentified white man with a twenty-four pound rock tied to one wrist was recovered from the Susquehanna River at Conowingo Dam by Coroner Dr. R. C. Dodson. The rock was wrapped in a shirt and tied to the wrist by a sock adn necktie. It was estimated the body had been in the water nearly a month and with no evidence of foul play a verdict of suicide was given.

Color Inside Of Eggs

Berlin—J. Dirickson Quillin, jr., milling company official,. won his bet with the editor of the Eastern Shore Times when a dozen white Plymouth Rock hens cooped in a store window for seven days laid eggs whose yolks were red, green and other colors. Quillin recently averred that the color of a yolk could be influenced by the laying mash and the editor was from Missouri.

Seek Sinking Boat

Ocean City—Coast Guardsmen are seeking an unidentified cruiser reported submerged about four miles off shore. The vessel was reported by Captain A. J. Lombard who got a line on the craft but was unable to tow it because of heavy seas. He brought back part of the ship's mahogany rail for evidence. A suggestion was made that the derelict, a 75-foot sailing type, had been washed down from the hurricane which swept Long Island.

Join the Navy and...

OLIVIA de HAVILLAND and JOHN PAYNE—seem to be 'right smart sociable'—in one of the lighter moments of Warners' "Wings of the Navy," epic of the naval air service, in which the two are featured with George Brent. John Payne scored notably in his screen debut in "Garden of the Moon" and Miss de Havilland is currently appearing in "Hard to Get," an uproarious modern comedy.
