TO MAKE OPERETTA A SUCCESS

By Betty Cross, '40

Centreville high intends to make a success of an operetta, which is being directed by our music teacher, Miss Violet Gibson. The operetta is entitled "The Sunbonnet Girl", which is a musical comedy. The scene, as you can tell by the title, is laid in the country.

These simple country folks have their musical interests aroused when the wealthy Mrs. Coleman holds a singing contest and offers a scholarship to the winner: "Sunbonnet Sue" a poor orphan, and heroine of the play, wins the contest. It wouldn't be a success unless it included a romance—when Bob Coleman falls in love with the orphan girl, "Sunbonnet Sue." Like most plays everything turns out just right for everyone—thanks to the village "constabule" with his shining star. It will be held on the evening of February 10, for the benefit of the Centreville high school. The cast is as follows:

Miranda, Hiram and Mrs. Meadow's daughter, Madeline Ireland; Mrs. Meadows, President of the local music club, Evelyn Butler; Louella Lumton a village maid, Anne Covington; Hiram Meadows, a kindly farmer, Jack Moore; Evaline, Abijah and Mrs. Scrogg's offspring, Elsie Covey; Reuben McSpavin, the "Constabule's" son, Edward Covell; Ezra McSpavin, the village Constabule, Warren Slemmer; Mrs. Coleman, a wealthy patron of Music, Josephine Branford; Bob Coleman, her son, Ridgeway Perkins; Barbara Coleman her daughter, Grace Holton; Jerry Jackson, a friend of Bob's, Olin Hunter; Susan Simpkins, a village lassie, Peggy Wolcott; Abijah Scroggs, the henpecked husband, Oliver Berry; Minerva Scroggs, his better-half Ruth Mandrell.

EVERYBODY'S HAPPY

The Average American that we hear so much about but never seem to meet has his day—and night—in the vastly agreeable "Thanks For Everything", showing at the Stevensville Opera House tonight, Thursday, and Friday. Upper row above are Adolphe Menjou, Binnie Barnes and Arleen Whalen. Below are Jack Oakie, Jack (Knitter) Haley and Tony Martin.
