Farm Security Leads Pack In BadmintonRace

Pete Dulick, Lewis Schnebley Take Four Straight. Co. K Second

A new threat arose in the Badminton tournament fo rthe Record-Observer prize racquets this week when the Farm Security duo comprising Pete Dulick, crack southpaw hurler of last year's Centreville Colts and Lewis Schnebley, the Farm Security man himself, rattled off four straight victories to take a hair's-breadth lead in the race.

Right behind is Company K, featuring Top Sergeant Charles E. Anthony and Buck Private Tony Moore who have won eight and lost one match. The Kaymen have amassed 98 points out of a possible 99 and as the racquets will be presented for point totals, the Kaymen are in a very strategic position.

Billy Thomas and Win Coleman, Farm Bureau stalwarts lost their first game this week when Friel Lumber Company boxed and crated them to the tune of 11-6. The five points lost put the Bureaus well more than a game behind Company K.

Surprises in the early standing are the valiant battles being waged by two feminine teams, Gunston School and Spaniard's Neck. The Gunston duet including Peggy Herzogg and Catherine Cooper have taken two games in three tries while the Spaniard Neckers, Mrs. A. Temple Blackwood and Miss Mary Kathleen Blackwood, collected scalps from several male teams among their half dozen triumphs. Hot stuff, these gals.

The Wright Brothers, Dorsey and Clayton, added another in-and-out performance this week to imperil their chances at the racquets. This pair has plenty on the bird when they play serious badminton.

Right now the tournament is approaching the halfway mark. Each team will play twenty-three games. The Valliants and the Chamber of Commerce teams are the only ones past the mid point.

QUEENSTOWN

The hostess to the Contract Club this week was Mrs. Margaret Cross. Top score for some reason was taken by Miss Pearle Bishop and the floating prize went to Mr. W. I. Tuttle who until the last hand had a fair chancce for the top score. The low score went to one of the club members who asked to have her name withheld so here goes. Guest players were Mrs. J. Griffin Embert, Mrs. Mary C. Bishop and Mrs. Harry Cross, of Baltimore.

Mr. Helen Taft Manning, daughter of former President Taft, spoke at a reception given in her honor by Mrs. David Allen Robertson aod Mrs. A. Morris Carey at the home of Mrs. Robertson, 2229 North Charles street, Baltimore, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Manning, who is Dean of Bryn Mawr College, has for a number of years been an officer of the United States branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, an organization founded by Jane Addams during the World War. Mrs. C. H. Reynolds anr Mrs. J. Calvert Jones of Chester were among those invited ot the reception.

Miss Nettie Bishop has been visiting friends and relatives in Wilmington, for the past few weeks.

Miss Viola Golt and Mr. Henry Carroll of Baltimore spent the week-end with the parents of Miss Golt, Mr. and Mrs. T. Urban Golt of near town. They were accompanied back on Sunday evening by Mr. Joseph Golt who is a student at the Deisel Electrical School in Baltimore.

Attending the Legion Dance in Baltimore were Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge, Mrs. Margaret Cross and Mr. Joseph Ginsberg.

Cards are being received from Mrs. B. R. Cook and Mr. John C. Cole from different points in Florida; also Mrs. Bennett Lane remembers her friends in town.
