Council Hears Mrs. Spoerlein

President Of State Homemakers Gives Address

The Queen Anne's County Council of Homemakers Clubs were entertained by the Carmichael Homemakers Friday afternoon, the guest speaker at the affair being Mrs. Randall Spoerlein of Carroll county, president of the Homemakers Clubs of Maryland. Mrs. Spoerlein made a strong appeal for better home life as applied to its influence upon the youth of today.

A delightful luncheon was served at noon following which a short business session was held. Mrs. Finely Wooters was reappointed chairman of the Flower Show for 1940, her work in that capacity this year being highly appreciated. Mrs. Lee Bell was appointed Historian for the Council and Mrs. Harry C. Reynolds was named Peace chairman.

Miss Ruby Kirk gave a few details of the Rural Women's Short Course and urged an attendance of at least thirty members. A report of the progress of the Culture Committee was given by Mrs. Howard Anthony. Mrs. Algernon Carter, president of the Council, conducted the meeting.

Twenty-nine were present for the luncheon but only twenty-eight for the remainder of the session as State Senator Spoerlein concluded he would not be missed with so many women around.

QUEEN ANNE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rice, near town, were recent guests of Mrs. Rice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cherry, near Ridgely.

The Hillsboro Epworth League held its last meeting of the season on Sunday evening, and adjourned for the summer. The next meeting will be held in September.

Six members of the Wolf Patrol, Hillsboro-Queen Anne Boy Scout Troop, attended the overnight encampment at Garland Lake, near Denton, on Saturday and Sunday. Ten or eleven patrols from Denton, Easton, St. Michaels, Federalsburg and other places attended. Scout Executive Andrews was also present. Charles Cannon Barton is leader of the local Wolf Patrol. The others who attended the encampment were Rawley and Bernard Sparks, jr., George Page Murphy, Luther Short, jr., and Billy Moore.

Mrs. Victor Pepper has been on the sick list with la grippe, but is better as this is written. There have been many cases of colds and grippe in the neighborhood this spring.

Mrs. Ella Jump has returned from several weeks spent with her niece, Mrs. Maude Smith ,of Wyoming, Del.

Mrs. Fannie Legg has returned to her home in Stevensville, after spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. May Dean.

June Week at Tri-County high school will begin on Sunday morning, when Rev. A. W. Strickland, of the Hillsboro Methodist Church will preach the baccalaureate sermon. The nineteen members of the graduating class of 1939 will march into the auditorium in a body just before 11 o'clock, attired in caps and gowns, as has been the custom at the school for the past few years. There are ten boys and nine girls in the class this year. Music on Sunday morning will be furnished by the combined choirs of the Queen Anne and Hillsboro churches.

On Thursday evening, June 11, the class night exercises will be held and the class play, "Streamlined Sue," will be given. Commencement exercises will be held on Friday evening ,at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the school. Class officers are: Bernard Sparks, jr., president; Marie Comegys, vice-president; Mary Jane Starkey, secretary-treasurer. The Commencement program will have Bernard Sparks, jr., Paul Boyle, Marie Comegys and Norma Hicks taking part; music will be furnished by the school Glee Club. The speaker will be Rev. Jesse Hobbs, pastor of the Cambridge Methodist Church, South.

Mrs. Albert Cahall and daughter May, were dinner guests of Mrs. May Dean on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Crouse of Denton were also recent guests of Mrs. Dean.

A COUPLE OF PAIRS

The leading members of "Boy Friend" keep in step—all but Jane Withers—as they come off the sound stage for a pick-me-up between scenes. Shown above are George Ernest and Jane Withers, and attractive Arleen Whelan and Richard Bond. The film will be featured at the Stevensville Opera House tonight, Thursday, and Friday nights.

PONDTOWN

Mrs. Edna Starkey, of Chestertown, spent one day recently as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blackiston.

Mrs. Bertha Pinder has been confined to her bed last week with grippe .

Master George Arthur Rhoads has been quite sick in bed with the grippe for the past week.

Miss Elsie May Alexander spent last Sunday evening in Ridgely, and also visited friends in Fredericktown last Tuesday.

Mr. Virgil Morris, of Templeville visited friends here last Friday.

Mr. Theodore Blackiston is now employed near Chestertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Morris, of near Templeville, visited her mother here last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Charles Moffett, of Dover, Del., has been spending the past few days at the home of her daughter, Miss L. May Ringgold, who has had quite a lot of sickness in her home for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Tate of Busic, spent last Sunday at the homes of Miss L. May Ringgold, and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Faulkner.

Mr. Edgar Kimbles of Church Hill, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander last Sunday evening.

BARCLAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman Clow and family visited relatives in Philadelphia, Sunday.

The Homemakers' Club are holding their chicken supper today, Thursday.

John Ware, who has been quite sick with quinsy at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ware, is much improved.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church, South, was entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rembert Phillips.

BAWLS and STRIKES

The Red Sox had their victories snipped a game when President Harry S. Russell upheld Dover's protest on the 6-5 Sox victory Tuesday night, May 16, at the Queen Anne's Park. Manager Brubaker protested the game in the seventh when with Bell on second Walsh was called out for interference, a ruling changed by Umpire Gilbert to failure to stay in the baseline for the last 45 feet. On the ruling Bell took third. Brubaker protested that he should not have been allowed to advance. Bell subsequently scored on King's sacrifice and Clark drove in the winning run with a homer.

—o—

Now the victory is thrown out and the game will be played at the Queen Anne's Park June 20. The game will start in the last of the seventh with the score tied at 4-all, Bell on second, one out and King at bat.

—o—

Brubaker was right in his protest. Certainly if Centreville had made a similar protest the fans would have wanted it upheld . The odd part of the affair was that the base umpire called Walsh safe while Gilbert who was watching the scramble between the visiting first sacker and Walsh for possession of the baseline to first, called Walsh out on two different charges.

—o—

Complaint is coming from feminine fans about loose language on the playing field. The diamond is too close to the stands and some of the players should watch their words. Mustn't say the naughty ones.

—o—

Roy Lee plays neads up ball at all times. Saturday afternoon he hit a single to left. The visiting gardner took his time with the ball knowing it to be but an honest single. While he went through slow motions Lee kept on to second and slid under the throw for a double.

—o—

Alton Bell's string of games in which he made one or more hits was snapped by Vogel of Dover at Dover on Wednesday night of last week: Bell had rung up one or more bingles in eleven successive tilts. There was no fluke about it either. The Sox slugger was up five times. But the genial outfielder started right in again Thursday at Pocomoke. He socked three base hits in four tries.

—o—

Herbert Freeman, Mumford, N. Y. boy who will play shortstop with any one in the league, socked a couple of homers down at Pocomoke Thursday night. He earned ten dollars spending money thereby. Pioneer Point gives the lads five smackers for every four-baser in the local park and just to even things up John P. Corcoran has been giving the lads the same reward for homers the boys set up in other parks.
