Red Sox Beaten Three Straight; Out Of Playoffs

Hot Cambridge Team Rides Roughshod Over Sox. Card Pitching Tight

CAMBRIDGE, 6; RED SOX, 1

The Red Sox were eliminated from the 1939 playoffs when Cambridge handed Centreville its third straight defeat, 6-1 at Queen Anne's Park Friday night. As usual Cambridge fashioned a big inning which proved too great of a handicap for the Sox.

Renkwitz, visiting moundsman, was shaky at the start and the Sox seemed headed for a winning evening. Neither side scored in the opening frame. In the second Grant started for Centreville with a walk. After Johnson fanned and Clark flied out to left Duncan kept the inning open with a sharp single to center. Steffens walked to fill the sacks and Freman also worked a pass to force Grant in with Centreville's first and ultimately last run. Williams made a great bid to roll up a score when he belted a long fly to right, not quite long enough to clear the fence. That ended the Sox first and last threat.

Cambridge got rolling in the fourth when Jones walked. Koval bounded a ball to left. Conway attempting to sacrifice forced Jones. Olt's drive to short got through Williams and Koval tied the score when Steffens cut off a perfect peg to the plate in a vain attempt to snag a runner at second. A single and homer followed to bury the Sox under a 5-1 score. Cambridge added an unnecessary run in the seventh when Mellor doubled and came around with two sacrifices.

Renkwitz tightened up when he had a lead and allowed but five hits, three by Duncan, one each by Williams and Walsh.

Score by innings:

									R	H	E
Cambridge ..	0	0	0	5	0	0	1	0	0	6	1
Red Sox	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	5

Batteries. Cambridge—Renkwitz and Roberts. Centreville — Steffens and Clark.

CAMBRIDGE, 9; RED SOX, 4

Again using a left-hander Cambridge throttled the Red Sox 9-4 at Cambridge Thursday night to take a commanding lead in the first playoff series.

The Cards started on Bud White in the opening frame, punched out four singles and a double by Roberts, drove White from the mound with but two out and piled up four runs. The Sox got two runs back in the second on Johnson's walk, Clark's double and an error.

Cambridge added a pair in the fourth on a walk, sacrifice, single and double and amassed their final tallies in the sixth on two walks, a sacrifice and two singles. Doubles by Cress and King sent over single tallies in the seventh and eighth for the Sox.

Score by innings:

									R	H	E
Cambridge ..	4	0	0	2	0	3	0	0	x	9	1
Red Sox	0	2	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	4	0

Batteries. Cambridge — Wargo and Roberts. Centreville—White, Cress and Clark.
