DISTILLERY X is neither the largest nor the smallest distillery in Maryland but one which is well up among the leaders. A report from its purchasing agent shows that during the year 1938 Distillery X purchased goods and services from 57 different firms, all but four of which have headquarters or branch offices in Maryland cities. The total purchases of Distillery X in 1938 amounted to $679,620, the great part of which was spent within the state of Maryland, while the amount paid in wages and salaries exceeded $133,600. Distillery X is only one of twelve distilleries in Maryland which annually spend millions of dollars in the state while supporting nearly 3,000 workers in regular jobs.

Reasons Why Every Woman Wants to Own MAJESTIC COOKWARE

FOODS TASTE BETTER . . . Natural flavors are preserved that are lost when foods are cooked by usual methods. Vegetables and meats cook in their own moisture . . . saving for your table the delicious goodness which nature puts into food.

SAVES HEALTHFUL VALUES . . . More vitamins and minerals are preserved because there is a minimum of dissolving and evaporation during cooking. More of the healthful food values are retained and not boiled out and poured down the drain by cooking the Majestic waterless way.

SAVES WORK . . . Less peeling and slicing, no basting, little or no stirring or other attention required while meals are cooking. Cooks over low heat, so you can leave it and give attention to other things.
