War Flashes
From The Queen Theatre Screen Front
Well friends it is some battle. Bursting shells of mirth nearly left the Queen Theatre a complete wreck Tuesday and Wednesday when Baby Sandy let loose a barrage of imi iddles. What a fight! Old Sourpuss Gloom retreated to the back trenches.
General Bing Crosby like we told you last week goes over the top this Thursday, Friday and Saturday with an army of kids in his new picture "The Starmaker". Bing and the kids all your favorite old songs as well as new ones. Don't forget Bing will Sound Taps beginning Thursday.
The screen front will then bring "Maisie". The gal who mows the enemy line to a frazzle. Maisie has so much oomph that we will only trust you with her one day, Monday.
Then the big push under the leadership of Gary Cooper in "Beau Geste". A 4-day showing that will rock old Sourpuss Gloom into oblivion. See Gary in the Foreign Legion unloading a three-inch gun full of romance . . . action . . . splendor.
