Government Regulation Is Assailed By Tydings

Restraint of government authority so that civilization and prosperity may progress was advocated before the Congress of American industrys' first-day session by Senator Millard L. Tydings of Maryland.
He asserted that widening government regulation is the enemy of civilization and Progress. Yet he added a desire is evidenced now in many quarters to weaken the constitutional Democracy of this country so that government may assume more power.
From history we will learn that civilization and prosperity progress directly. As governmental authority is restrained—that human liberty flourishes as the activities of govern are curtailed—and that constitutional democracy dies in every nation where planned economy takes root and grows. He said, "the shortcomings of agriculture, transportation, manufacturing, mining, the utilities, banking and finance, medicine, education and other activities are in the future to be controlled by the central government. Thus the United States which it is claimed has really been one gigantic failure so far is o be made a nation of nothing but successes all provided for by government.

In Memoriam

KOLATA—In loving but sad memory of our dear Son and Brother, KARL, who passed away December 8, 1936.
Two bright eyes a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile.
Do not ask us if we miss him,
There is such a vacant place.
Oft we think we hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near us,
Though he left us three years ago.
HIS LOVING MOTHER, DAD, BROTHER and SISTER.
