vantages and the objects of indemnities granted to them by the general plan, contribute to the mass of indemnities, and especially to the complement of the income of the arch-chancellor of the empire. This resolution shall come within the cognizance of the mediating powers, by application, as usual, to the imperial plenipotentiary."

BASLE, November 4.

The passing of French troops through this city has been very numerous for the last eight days. We have counted in all nine battalions of infantry, five squadrons of cavalry, and a large train of artillery. The whole of these troops have directed their march towards the Argovia and the cantons of the east, passing partly through the canton of Soleure, and partly through the Frickthal. Several battalions are expected to arrive here very soon: they will, in like manner, march through this canton, for the interior of Switzerland.

BOSTON, December 25.

WARNING TO SPORTSMEN!

On Saturday, 11th December, instant, Marlborough Curtis, in company with David Pool, and Elias Pool, (younger brother to the latter) all of Abington, in the county of Plymouth; went out with their fowling-pieces, for recreation. They entered a wood, and separated---David Pool, taking one route, in an oblique direction from the other two, who went off together. They passed some distance, and each party being ignorant of the local situation of the other, nearly at the same instant, discovered a flock of quails, collected in a plat of brush in a right line between the parties, which were now about eleven rods distant from each other. They all took aim at the quails; and David, first discharging his piece, wounded, though not mortally, Curtis, in several places; but to his unspeakable astonishment and regret, lodged a shot in the breast of his brother Elias, which put an end to his life, on the succeeding night, in the 22d year of his age. He left a disconsolate widow, an orphan child, a bereaved mother, and a numerous family of brothers and sisters, to mourn his sudden and untimely death. "The lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposal thereof is of the LORD."

KING SOLOMON.

INTERESTING.

A letter from a gentleman belonging to Boston, and dated at the "Castle of St. Joseph, Vilparisar, in Chili, April 20, 1802," says, "I am happy to inform you that we are all well, though prisoners.—On our arrival here it was rumored we were English; and the idle story had credit with the governor, who demanded our papers, and sent them to the captain-general of Chili, residing at St. Jago. After waiting six weeks the governor informed captain Rowan his papers were ready to be returned to him, on his delivering up 350 muskets we had on board. Captain Rowan informed the governor he could not comply with so unjust a demand until some higher power directed it. Upon which the governor ordered the ship to be hailed, and informed, that unless the demand was immediately complied with, he should sink us. On this, captain R. ordered the colors to be nailed to the mizen-peak; and the Spanish ship Hercules fired a shot into us which did no damage. Matters continued in this state until the next day, when captain R. was informed by letter, that it was the captain-general's orders to deliver up said arms; upon which they were given up. This was supposed to be the end of the business: However, on the morning of the morning of the first instant, the Hazard was boarded by 200 men—worthy the name of brigands—when a general carnage took place. By the interposition of the captain of a Spanish brig, who appeared the only man among them possessing any humanity, captain Rowan's life was spared. I narrowly escaped, as they gave no quarter. The governor of this port has received the severest censure for this affair from the captain-general; who has informed captain Rowan that every satisfaction shall be given, both for the loss of property and for the blood spilt in so wanton a manner. They are ashamed and afraid to have the matter go to Europe. This is a specimen of Spanish bravery. My whole adventure has been plundered, but I have no doubt of receiving heavy damages. If satisfaction should not be given, I am sensible the government of a free and independent nation will notice it. There are a number of Americans here, officers and men.—Three American whalemen brought in this day."

WINDSOR, (Ver.) December 21.

On the 16th inst. at half past 7 o'clock, P. M. the thermometer in this town suddenly fell to 2 degrees below 0, or extreme cold; at 11 o'clock, P. M. it was at 10 degrees below 0. On the 17th, at half past 8 o'clock, A. M. it was 12 degrees below 0; at 9, P. M. 12, and at 11, P. M. 15. On the 18th at sunrise it was 24 degrees below 0, or 56 below freezing point—two degrees lower than it was ever known in this place.

NEW-YORK, December 31.

Entered, snows Polly, Graves, Gibraltar, 50 days; Rachel, Hale, Alexandria, 15; brigs Gayoso, Hamilton, Cape-Francois, via N. Port, 42; Henry, Dennison, St. Croix, 14; Benjamin, Ingraham, Martha Brae, Jam. 25; New-York, Pela, Savannah, —.

Cleared, ship Ceres, Moore, Liverpool; Richard, Perrin, Jamaica; Ohio, Hall, Belfast; brig Ysta de Cuba, Bool, Havanna; schooner John and Elsey, Edward, Charleston.

Brig Fair Manhattan has arrived at Point Petre, from this port.

Brig Vanskab, Smith, arrived at St. Croix, in 12 days from this port.

Barque Pallas, Marshall, is safe arrived at Amsterdam, from this port. Brig Friendship, Reynolds, is safe arrrived at Bordeaux, from this port.

The schooner Adventure, laden with wheat, from this port, went ashore at the Hook, on Wednesday night, but it is supposed she will be got off without experiencing much damage.

The captain of a small sloop from Barnagat, informs, that he yesterday saw a schooner on shore at Squat Beach, with yellow sides, 2 topsails, and cotton over her quarters.

Arrived since our last,

Snow Polly, Graves, 50 days from Gibraltar. Previous to his departure, the following vessels sailed for Naples; ship Java, Bullock, of Salem, without convoy; brig Tiger, Farley, of Boston; brig Nancies, Clement, New-York. Left at Gibraltar, schooner John, Burchman, of Salem; and the schooner Mary, Lambert, of Boston. The frigate Adams, was lying at anchor under Algesiras. Stopped at Teneriffe, and two ports in Porto-Rico, where he was not permitted to enter, all American vessels being refused admission. Left there on the 17th December, and on the day following lost his foremast four feet below the top.

At quarantine,

English brig Benjamin, Ingraham, 25 days from Martha Brae, Jam. December 28th, spoke a ship out 23 days from Lisbon, bound to Baltimore.

Captain Graves, of the snow Polly, from Gibraltar, informs us, that when he left port the frigate Adams was lying at anchor under Algiers; and that the Tripolitan ship had received passports from the emperor of Morocco, signed by the different consuls, with orders to proceed immediately for Tripoli.

The ship Commerce, mentioned in our last to have gone ashore at Coney-Island, is likely to be totally lost. Her stern posts are loose, and yesterday morning she had eight feet and a half water in her hold.

At the last meeting of the Missionary Society at Morristown, New-Jersey, a note was received rom an anonymous lady, in closing an hundred dollar bank note, for the use of the society. It mentioned that, though the sum was small, yet it must be remembered, that it was saved by economy, and obtained by industry.

A correspondent, who expresses pleasure on reading that Dr. Jenner had received "a valuable diamond ring from the empress of Russia," conceives that the American public would be still more gratified to hear that the celebrated Jenner lately sent Dr. Waterhouse a silver box, of exquisite workmanship, inlaid with gold, and inscribed thus, "Edward Jenner to Benjamin Waterhouse," and superscribed by an intimate friend, in these words, "From the Jenner of the old, to the Jenner of the New World."

January 1.

We are informed by the pilot-boat Brothers, which came up last evening, that the schooner Adventure, Pritchard, (mentioned yesterday) from Fredericksburg, (Vir.) with 3600 bushels of wheat on board, ran ashore at the Point of Sandy-Hook, about 2 o'clock, on Thursday morning. She was addressed to John M'Pherson and Co.

The schooner ashore at Squam Beach, (mentioned in our last) was got off yesterday morning. From her having yellow sides, a white bottom, a flag flying with the letter D in it, and being loaded with cotton, it is conjectured she is the Debbe, of this port, from Savannah, belonging to Messrs. Bogert and Mansfield.

The ship Commerce, continued on shore last evening at Coney-Island, full of water, her stern partly broken in.

Entered, ship Phœnix, Hoyt, St. Petersburg, 97 days; schr. Betsy, Brown, Charleston, 13; sloop Maria, Nelson, Fredericksburg, 21.

Cleared, barque Traveller, Vennis, Hull; brig Tiger, Darries, Surrinam; Enterprize, Tombs, Charleston; Eliza, Swain, Savannah; schooner Boyne, Hodsworth, Annapolis; Margaret, M'Kean, Antigua; Aurora, Mason, Charleston; Factor, Chase, Aux Cayes.

Ship Hiram, French, has arrived at Montego-Bay, (Jam.)

Arrived yesterday,

The ship Phœnix, Hoyt, in 98 days from St. Petersburg, and 60 from Copenhagen. Left at St. Petersburg, the ships Charleston, Wyer, to sail for New-York, in 10 days; Delaware, Smith, in 5 days for Philadelphia; and the brig Enterprise, for Salem, in a few days. On the 23d of October, captain Hoyt, put into Norway, in company with 500 sail of vessels—amongst which were only 9 Americans. Captain H. mentions, that the trade of the Baltic, is inconceivably great.

Below last evening,

Spanish brig Bon-Amizade, from Cape-de-Verds; and schooner Polly, from Alexandria.

PHILADELPHIA, January 3.

Arrived, schooner Evelina, Chipman, St. Marys, 8 days.

Cleared, ship Charleston Packet, Silleman, Charleston; brig Hannah, Lord, Savannah.

A fleet of forty sail went to sea on Friday last.

RALEIGH, December 14.

DEMOCRATIC FALSEHOOD DETECTED.

We have it from undoubted authority, that it is not true that the grand jury or any of them at the last superior court in Wilmington district, expressed to Mr. Hill or to major Moore, sentiments unfavorable to the political conduct of Mr. Hill, or inimical to the recommendation he made of a successor. From the best information we can collect, we have no reason to suppose any change has taken place in the political sentiments of the division Mr. Hill represents in congress. The last expression of the public sentiment in that division, as well in the election of an elector as in the last election for representative in congress, was decidedly federal. We should not have taken notice of this attempt to ridicule the characters of two respectable men, had we not observed in the last Newbern paper a paragraph stating that the printer of Wilmington who published the falsity, had refused to give publicity to a correct statement.

FEDERAL GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5.

The ship Eliza, Joseph, 40 days from Magadore for Alexandria, was spoken on the 11th of December last. No latitude or longitude mentioned.

The sloop Mary, Hills, left Boston for this port, the 26th ultimo.

Married on Saturday last, Patrick Grant, esquire, to Miss Jane Gilmor, daughter of Robert Gilmor, esquire, of this city.

—— Last evening, by the Rev. Mr. Inglis, Mr. Jacob Poe, merchant, to Miss B. Kennedy, both of this city.

—— At Philadelphia, on Saturday evening, by the Rev. Mr. Abercrombie, Thomas Wignell, esqnire, manager of the new theatre in that city, to Mrs. Anne Merry, of the same theatre.

From the Trenton Federalist.

The effect produced by the conduct of the two parties in the legislature at the late sitting, has been we understand very favorable to the cause of federalism. Our accounts from the lower counties are very flattering indeed. The dignified conciliating conduct of the federalists has made the most favorable impression on the public mind, while the opposite line pursued by the democratic party, has created the greatest disgust. It is impossible that any other effect than this can result from such measures. The democratic party were offered their choice of the public officers—but no, unless the federalists would give up all to them, they resolved not to appoint any! From their obstinacy all the evils we experience, are to be ascribed. No governor, no chancellor, no chief justice, no senator, no congress election law—because the democrats, the twenty-six democrats in the legislature would not allow the twenty-six federalists an equal voice.

An Alexandria paper says, "A few days since passed through this district, on their journey to the Westward, a small party of Germans, who had purchased 6000 acres of land in the neighborhood of Chilicothe, of general Kosciusko, at three dollars the acre. A second and larger party are we understand daily expected at Norfolk. These worthy people are said to be from the left bank of the Rhine, and will prove valuable citizens to the new state of Ohio."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, December 31, 1802.

A confidential message was received from the president of the United States, [supposed to relate to New-Orleans] the doors were closed till a quarter past 3 o'clock.

Mr. Gray's resolution of the 29th inst. contemplating the appointment of a committee to enquire into the expediency of providing by law for the disqualification of any person for holding an office under the government of the United States, who should hereafter be concerned in a duel, was called up and negatived.

Mr. Dennis presented a petition from sundry inhabitants of the City of Washington and George-Town, praying for an insurance office. Adjourned till Monday, eleven o'clock.

From the Newburyport Herald.

A further JUSTIFICATION of the PRESIDENT'S INVITATION to PAINE!!

Messrs. ALLEN & BARNARD,

IN the "Public Ledger," &c. of July 8, 1794, published in London, I met with a plan proposed by TOM PAINE, to the French government, for revolutionizing the United States of America—a re-publication of which will oblige every friend to his country, whether Federalist or Anti-Federalist.*

A CUSTOMER.

PAINE'S PLAN FOR REVOLUTIONIZING AMERICA.

TOM PAINE's plan for revolutionizing America, is worthy of its author, and the abandoned Pandemonium of which he is the fit and servile agent. It was lately in current circulation in France, published probably with a view of intimidating the United States by the magnitude of the danger with which they were threatened. Mr. PAINE prefaces his proposion by observing, that—"The Republican party in America are too supine and inactive, whilst the Aristocrats pursue measures wholly calculated to bring once more the United States under a British domination."

Pursuing the theme, he adds, "Should GEORGE the third be driven from his throne, America will be his place of refuge; there he has deposited funds; and, incredible as it may appear, there he will be king."

This powerful influence of Britain in America, he states to arise from the inhabitants of the sea-ports; and to annihilate that influence, he proposes to destroy the medium—"The only way (says he) to break up their nest is, to BURN THE SEA PORTS, and in this way compel them to live amongst the planters, far removed from the channels of corruption."

Invoking the Genius of France to punish the Anglo-American faction, as he terms the Government, for resisting the pacific overtures of the Great Nation, he thus details his plan for correcting its political errors:

"To declare war against the United States would be the height of folly; for it would be declaring war against the republicans, the planters and the Indians, from whose support we may derive great advantage. But how, it will be said, can we carry on a partial war? With a small squadron of light vessels, not drawing more than ten feet of water, a few guns and bomb-ketches, you may proceed to the river Savannah in Georgia, and pass the Tibee-bar island at Savannah. Here you may get a handsome supply of provisions, and on your return down the river, BURN the BUILDINGS on each side, even to its mouth. The same plan will do for Charleston, pass the bar and set fire to the buildings on Johnson and Sullivan Islands.

"You may next visit George-Town in South, and Wilmington in North-Carolina, enter the Chesapeake, (perhaps it may be adviseable to make the first operation here) burn Norfolk, Alexandria, Annapolis and Baltimore. You must be careful, my friends, by rapid movements, to prevent a defeat by the English squadron, or by the Americans on shore, who will, at the first alarm, collect in great numbers. In eight days you may do all you wish in the Chesapeake. As Baltimore is farthest up, you had better begin with that, and there you may raise a handsome contribution.—Near Savannah, Charleston, and Norfolk, are small forts that you may easily take in the rear. In the Delaware you must proceed with caution. Lewistown on the left may be easily burnt, and if you were certain there were not an English squadron near the Capes, you might set fire to Philadelphia. It is a business of a week only. Between Sandy-Hook and New-York, you will find a pretty strong fort; this you may silence with your bombs. The buildings at Long-Island and Nantucket are easily burnt; but Boston must be bombarded. The master stroke would be to conclude with Halifax. The English vessels from the East-Indies generally winter there. Not expecting you in that quarter, they will be less prepared to receive you. Should your brave squadron fall in with the Quebec fleet, convoyed by a single frigate, it would be a brilliant affair indeed.

Excuse my freedom, dear Republicans: you are neither tygers nor Septembrizers. Why may you not send the most of your emigrants into Canada? Connected as you are with Spain, you might go to New-Orleans, seize the ports of the Natchez, collect the friends of liberty from the back settlements in the United States, from Kentucky to the frontiers. You will have to distribute a few presents among the Indians. You must put general CLARK and Knoxville in motion, summon to the French standard the Floridas and American troops raised by Genet and Margouris, declare freedom to the black men that are slaves in the southern states, and give to the man of color the sweet enjoyment of the rights of man. This is the only way to humble the British Lion, that now courts an alliance with the American Eagle, only to bring about its destruction."

* The 2d year of WASHINGTON's second presidency.

☞ The Members of the Female Humane Association are requested to meet at Mr. William Baker's on Tuesday morning, the 18th instant, at 10 o'clock, to choose nine directors for the orderly management of the charity school for the ensuing year.
