PARIS, January 27.

Gen. Lannes, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the prince regent of Portugal, was, on Sunday presented to the first consul, by the minister for foreign affairs. At this audience he took leave of the first consul, previous to his return to his station at the Portuguese court.

The first consul recommended to him, to do justice to, and to protect the French trade at Lisbon, as he had begun to do in the first year of his mission. He particularly signified that he was satisfied with general Lannes' services in that station up to the present hour.

St. Cloud, January 23.

The government of the republic, having considered a report by the minister for internal affairs, ordains as follows:

Art. I. In the port of Rouen, there shall be a staple for the reception and sale of all goods and commodities from the colonies, or elsewhere, which are not prohibited by law.

II. The town of Rouen shall provide suitable public buildings for the staple. A plan of the ground and buildings shall be presented to the government. That plan, if approved, will receive the sanction of a special order from the government.

III. The staple at Rouen shall be considered in law, as part of Havre. Ships freighted for Rouen, shall therefore first present at Havre exact accounts of the quantities and qualities of the goods which they are to deliver at Rouen. The chief officer of the customs at Havre shall, upon receiving such account, formally record and authenticate the declaration conveying it.

The officers of the customs at Havre, when there are no suspicions of smuggling, shall be at liberty to exempt any vessel from the necessity of entering the port of Havre.

Ships arriving at Rouen from Havre shall present the account authenticated by the principal officers of the customs at Havre, to the custom-house officers at Rouen, when these come on board the said ships in the river. If the goods are not exactly such in quantity and quality as the authenticated declaration describes them, the owners shall be held guilty of an act of fraud. The cargo shall be inspected at its entrance into the staple of Rouen, and if its value be either greater or less than it is stated in the declarative act, this shall be taken as a proof of the fraud.

IV. The weight and qualities of all cargoes of goods re-exported from Rouen, shall be specified in a manifesto from the director of the customs at Rouen. That manifesto shall be transmitted to the chief officer of the customs at Havre. At Havre the cargo shall be inspected in comparison with the manifesto. If the goods be either greater or less in value, than is there expressed; this shall, also, be regarded as a act of fraud.

V. The ministers of the treasury, and the ministers of internal affairs, are directed to put this decree in execution, and to add it to the register of the law.

The first consul,
(Signed) BONAPARTE.
By the first consul.
The secretary of state,

HALIFAX, (N. S.) February 24.

On Tuesday arrived here, in 20 days from Barbados, the brig Rover, captain Freeman. A great number of troops had arrived Barbados, from England, under the command of general Greenfield, making a force in that place of 5,500 men. When capt. Freeman sailed, the 5th battalion of the 60th regiment were embarked for this place, on board a large ship armed en flute. Brigadier-general Beresford died at Barbados a few days before the Rover left that island. Positive orders were received by the commander in chief in the windward islands, not to deliver up the French islands, unless the treaty had been before the receipt of the orders, complied with.

Extract of a letter to a respectable merchant in this city, dated

MARTINIQUE, March 1, 1803.

"To add to our misfortune, when we expected trade would revive, an edict has been (yesterday) published, taken from an old law of 1727, which prohibits all strangers from doing business after the 20th of June next. It says, we are not to have a store, and that after that time any French captain, or merchant, in a merchant ship, arriving from France, can turn us out of the store, on paying a just value: But as we are not allowed to have a store, this act would be out of the question. No Frenchman is allowed to have a concern in or with any stranger; neither is he to have a stranger as clerk, or any ways direct or indirect employed by him, or any ways concerned, under penalty of 6000 livres, himself and stranger to be banished. We are allowed to hire a private house, and to own our properties of houses or plantations in the country, the same as French citizens; but not to trade. This is the most arbitrary step imposed in a French colony, since the years 1756 to 1763, at the peace of Aix la Chapelle."

On the 10th instant, the schr. Ann Eliza, Brown, arrived at Newport, in 10 days from Havanna. Capt. Freeman Mayberry, of that town, a passenger in the above vessel, informs, that on the morning of the 8th instant, a packet arrived at the Havanna from Cadiz, with dispatches to the governor; that immediately on her arrival the council was called, and continued sitting when our informant came away; that all persons, except the king's officers, were prohibited from going on board of her. Nothing had transpired, as to the proceedings of the council; that it was the opinion of the most respectable merchants at Havanna, that an embargo on all foreign vessels would take place immediately on the rising of the council.

The aged and infirm,

WHO at this season are suffering the excruciating pains of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, may find immediate relief, and expect a speedy cure, by the use of

HAMILTON'S
ESSENCE and EXTRACT of MUSTARD.

This valuable remedy is prepared both in a fluid state as well as in pills, and thus excellently adapted both for external as well as internal use.

The pills operate mildly by urine and by insensible perspiration, expelling the superfluous and morbid humors; they are highly cordial to the stomach, create appetite, aid digestion, remove flying pains, and cold or windy complaints in the stomach and bowels.

The essence is a wonderful assistant to the pills in rheumatism, gout, lumbago, and palsy; and by its peculiar penetrating and dispersing quality, removes the most violent sprains, bruises, numbness, stiffness of the neck, joints, &c. swelled faces, head-ache, indurated breasts, white swellings, frozen limbs, &c. and will infallibly prevent the ill effects of wet or damp in the feet.

Some may be surprised that this medicine should be prescribed with equal success in such a variety of cases; but this surprise will cease when it is recollected that all these complaints result from the same cause—a slowness in the circulation of the lymph, or obstructions in the lymphatic vessels.

From Dr. Weatherburn.

Wythe County, (Virginia).

GENTLEMEN,

I purchased at your shop the preparation you call Hamilton's Essence or Extract of Mustard, which I believe has perfectly removed a chronic rheumatism, (of that kind named Sciatica, or of the hip joint) under which I had labored for a long time, and which had baffled every article in the Materia Medica, and every mode of treatment received into practice for the cure of this obstinate disease. If you think this letter useful you are at liberty to make it public.

Yours, &c. WEATHERBURN.

JOHN HOOVER, rope-maker, south Second-street, between Mary and Christian-streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath as follows: namely, that his wife, Mary Hoover, was so severely afflicted with violent rheumatism, very dangerously situated, the consequence of a severe cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for several weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehension of remaining a cripple for life, notwithstanding the most respectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted; when seeing several cases of cures performed by Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No 17, south Second-street. The first application enabled her to walk across the room, and the use of one bottle restored her to her usual state of health and strength.

JOHN HOOVER.

Sworn and subscribed before Ebenezer Ferguson, esquire, one of the justices of the peace for Philadelphia county.

NOTE, particularly, that the great and extensive celebrity acquired by this medicine has induced some to prepare counterfeits, which are imposed on enquirers by the meanest arts possible. Therefore, apply ONLY at the book and stationary store of WARNER and HANNA, corner of Baltimore and south Gay-streets.

BY AUTHORITY.

City of Baltimore.

A SUPPLEMENT to the ordinance, entitled, an ordinance for regulating the sinking of wells and erecting and repairing pumps within the city of Baltimore.

WHEREAS the ordinance to which this is a supplement, has been found insufficient to meet the full purpose for which it was intended, and it is believed that if the superintendance of the pumps was concentrated in fewer persons that the complaints would be redressed—

Sect. 1. BE it enacted and ordained by the mayor and city council of Baltimore, That two persons be annually appointed to superintend all the wells and pumps in the city of Baltimore; that it shall be the duty of one of them to superintend the sinking of new wells and erecting and repairing pumps in that part of the city of Baltimore which lies west of Jones's Falls, and the other to perform the like duty in that part of the city of Baltimore which lies east of Jones's Falls; and that each superintendant shall be allowed four hundred dollars, and no more, for his services, and that the ten per cent. formerly allowed the superintendants for their services, shall be collected for the use of the city.

Sect. 2. And be it enacted and ordained, That whenever it shall be necessary to sink a new well, put down a new pump, or make any alteration or addition to any well or pump, which requires the inhabitants to be taxed for the expences of the same, that the superintendant of the one district shall call upon the superintendant of the other district to assist him in levying the tax on the said inhabitants, or to do any other duty which is now required of one superintendant by another.

Sect. 3 And be it enacted and ordained, That the superintendants of their respective districts are hereby authorised to draw on the register of the city for such sum or sums of money as may be necessary to keep the pumps of their respective districts in constant repair: Provided, that no greater sum than five hundred and forty dollars be expended for the repairs of pumps in the western district, nor no greater sum than four hundred dollars be expended for the repairs of pumps in the eastern district; and that before the said superintendants shall have power to draw any money from the register, they shall give bond, with security to the satisfaction of the mayor, for the faithful performance of their duties.

Sect. 4. And be it enacted and ordained, That whenever any pumps shall require repairs, or the inhabitants of any neighborhood desire a well sunk, or any other duty be required of the superintendant which this ordinance declares he shall perform, that seven or more persons owners of property interested thereby, shall make application to the superintendant, either in person or in writing, expressing the repairs wanted, and describing the place where the pump stands which needs repairs, or the neighborhood or street where a new well is required. The superintendant shall attend to the said application so given within twenty-four hours, (except he can give a good and sufficient reason, to the full satisfaction of the mayor, why he could not give his regular attention) or forfeit and pay for every such neglect, twenty dollars, to be recovered before a single magistrate, as small debts are recoverable; and the same when recovered, to be appropriated as follows, to wit, one half to the informer and the other half for the use of the city.

Sect. 5. And be it enacted and ordained, That any thing contained in the ordinance to which this is a supplement, which is repugnant to, and inconsistent with this supplement, be and the same is hereby repealed.

WILLIAM JESSOP, president of the first branch of the city council.
