RAN away from the subscriber, about four weeks ago, a negro boy named RICHARD, from 18 to 20 years of age, about 5½ feet high, slim made, has remarkably long and narrow feet; speaks good English, tells a plausible story—bred to the carpenter's business, but very capable of cooking or waiting, and in every respect a very active, smart servant. The original name of the above negro man was Luke, which was changed by his present master to Richard—it is probable he may pass by his former name. The above fellow, a few days before the John & Elsy, capt. Edwards, left Charleston for Baltimore, told a gentleman that he was going as cook of said vessel. Twenty dollars will be paid upon delivery of the said negro in Charleston; and one hundred dollars reward upon conviction of any person or persons who may have been guilty of taking the aforesaid negro out of this state.

In case the above negro failed with capt. Edwards (as it is believed it can be proved) if he will return the aforesaid negro to the subscriber, he shall be exempt from any prosecution he has subjected himself to, by such an illegal act.

Young Ladies' Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. BACONAIS,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Baltimore and its vicinity, that they propose opening an Academy, upon an extensive scale, for the most liberal education of Young Ladies, comprising, besides the usual & indispensible female accomplishments, such as sewing and embrodery of all kinds, &c. the grammatical and ornamental parts of English and French idioms, geography and the use of the globes, writing, arithmetic, &c. &c The pupils will have a constant opportunity of speaking the French language, all the members of said academy (except the English tutor) to the number of four or five, being French natives, whom a residence of above ten years in this country has accustomed to its language and manners, some of them even having received their education in the well known and approved academy formerly kept under Mrs. Lacombe's direction, where they have had an opportunity both of contracting an acquaintance with several of the most respectable families in this city, and familiarising themselves with the rules and discipline of a regular education.

Mr. Baconais, the head of the institution, will undertake to teach Drawing and Dancing to such of his fair pupils only, as may have a wish to learn these handsome accomplishments, a task to which a successful practice of several years in Philadelphia, has proved him, as he thinks, fully adequate. As for the literary part of his [illegible], he feels encouraged to undertake it with the more confidence, as the liberal education his birth and former means have enabled him to receive in the most distinguished seminary of Paris, must have qualified him for the teaching of any of the useful branches to which female instruction must necessarily be confined.

Mr. Baconais has made choice of the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Lacombe and Petit, near the French seminary, one of the most eligible situations in point of salubrity, and now happily secured against the inconveniences it lay under by the street not being then paved.

The academy will be ready, and is intended to be opened for the reception of scholars, on the first day of October. The parents who may be inclined to encourage this new institution, are desired to be early in their applications—which will be received by the Rev. Wm. Du Bourg, president of the French college, who will give further information respecting the terms and other particulars.
