FEDERAL GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, October 4.

The elections in the different wards of this city, commenced yesterday morning, continued thro' the day, & were closed in the evening with that quiet, good order and urbanity which should ever characterise the exercise of the important duty of franchise among freemen. This we impute solely to the distribution of our polls, and that sublime antidote to strife, the vote by ballot. The result will be found in the detail, which follows.

It may be proper to observe, that the only contest worthy of notice, was, as to representatives in the state legislature. Mr. Dixon has always been rather acquiesced in than cordially supported by what is now termed the Smith party. Mr. Purviance was their favorite candidate; and Mr. Dugan openly came forward as his opponent. The federalists, for reasons which may be hereafter noticed, offered no candidate for congress or assembly, and as far as we can learn, confined their votes to the sheriffalty, and in one or two wards to councilmen; thus leaving the field open to the Smithites and their seceders, a party formed by a scism which shewed itself at the last election, and made a dead set against them at the present. Last year it was checked by the untimely interference of the federalists—How far it has succeeded this year, through the resolution of the federalists to stand neuter, the votes for Mr. Dugan and Mr. Purviance, is the only criterion. Never, perhaps, in the annals of elections, was a party more inflated with the ideas of omnipotence, and never was one more compleatly defeated and abashed.

Last year Mr. Purviance, through the assistance of the federalists, had a majority of 400 over Mr. Dixon—This year Mr. D. has a majority over him of 1447, and Mr. Dugan of nearly 1000. Last year Mr. Randall, whom the Smithites should have run with Mr. P. had, although nominated only the day before the election and known only in three or four wards, 660 votes—this year Mr. Purviance, though generally known and supported unanimously by the Smithites, has only 630! Never was a party guilty of more imprudence in shewing their unpopularity and weakness—and from this time and circumstance, may its downfall be dated—and what adds to the mortification is, that they are succeeded by a party as much below them for every governmental qualification, as they themselves are below the federalists.

From the London Gazette.

"Downing Street, August 15th.

"The King has been pleased to cause it to be signified by the right honorable lord Hawkesbury, his majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign affairs, to the minister of Neutral powers residing at this court, that the necessary measures have been taken by his majesty's command, for the blockade of the entrance of the ports of Genoa and Spezia; and that from this time all the measures authorised by the law of nations and the respective treaties between his majesty, and the different neutral powers, will be adopted and executed with respect to all vessels which may attempt to violate the said blockade."

An order has been issued to the inhabitants of Bordeaux to give in a list of all the children born from 1777 to 1788, stating whether they are dead, or what is become of them, in order that all those who are found may be marched off as conscripts to the army. Fine or imprisonment is the punishment for parents, relations to the second degree, tutors or guardians, who neglect making a return, or give it incorrectly.—This is French liberty under the consul!

Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, Sept. 11.

The drought is great here; we had no rain from the 1st of June, to the middle of July; and none for five weeks past from the present time. Vegetation is almost entirely destroyed. The Juniata, is lower than it was ever known before; and many of the mills rendered useless for want of water.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, at their meeting in May last, among their other exertions for the public good, have given the weight of their patronage to vaccination. At the request of certain persons in Philadelphia, styling themselves "Friends of Humanity," they have distributed extensively a small treatise on the vaccine disease, and also Dr. Jenner's instructions on that subject; with a view, as is said, to hasten that expected and desirable event, "the total extermination of that loathsome and fatal disease, the small pox." The general assembly has under its care and inspection seven synods, consisting of 323 ordained ministers. These are dispersed over the eleven southern states. From the patronage of so numerous and learned a body, dispersed over such an extent of country, the speedy and general diffusion of the blessings of vaccination may be expected.

A letter from Edinburgh, of a recent date, received at New-York, says—"Since this war commenced, bankruptcies, to a great extent, have occurred, and are still occurring in London, Manchester, Liverpool, Greenock, and Glasgow. In Greenock, about 43 bankruptcies, & in Glasgow near 200, have taken place. Two of the houses have failed for above half a million each. One of the Newcastle banks, the Berwick bank, the Darlington, the Durham, one at Carlisle, and several others in England, have failed. All our Scotch banks stand steady. Indeed, the English banks are not on so good a footing as the Scotch, as they have to give an exclusive privilege to the bank of England. No bank can be erected there to consist of more than five partners. These, of course, are men often engaged in other trades, and their stock in the bank is but small. In Scotland a bank consists of as many partners as they please, with a capital which none of the partners can draw out for their own particular use; nor get bills discounted, but by having other names than their own on the paper.

Died, at Elkton, on the 29th ultimo, col. Henry Hollingsworth, one of the senators of this state, and an active and influential whig from the beginning to the end of the revolutionary war. His loss is severely felt by his afflicted family, and sincerely regretted by his numerous and respectable friends.

Died, on Thursday the 29th ultimo, at Easton, in Talbot county, after a tedious and painful illness, Mrs. Leah Haskins, the amiable wife of Mr. Govert Haskins, of this city. Her loss will be long and tenderly regretted by her afflicted family and a large and respectable circle of friends and acquaintance, to whom she had endeared herself by an affable and courteous behavior.

From the Pittsburg Gazette.

COLONEL BUTLER.

This officer, was among the first of his countrymen, that appeared in arms and in uniform, in the militia of Pennsylvania, at the commencement of the revoloution; and when troops were raised to compose a regular army, he was commissioned, first as a subaltern, and afterwards as a captain in the 2d Pennsylvania regiment.

In 1780, among five brothers then in actual service, it became his lot to retire from the field, to afford that aid and protection, due to his infirm and aged parents.

In 1791, when our frontiers were harrassed by an Indian war, having the command of a battalion offered to him, he quitted his family and farm, and accepted that appointment.

On the memorable 4th of November, having led his battalion to the charge, he received a wound in the leg—this being dressed, he again advanced to the charge, and fell, having the same leg broken by a rifle ball. To an officer less brave, the first wound might have been a sufficient apology, for withdrawing from the scene of immediate action—this he in both instances declined, and daring to perform an action more heroic than any recorded in the annals of our country, being placed on horseback with his shattered limb, a third time faced the enemy, and aided in making that impression, which enabled the remains of our unfortunate army, to attempt, and effect its retreat.

This conspicuous act of valor added lustre to a character, respected in civil life, and highly esteemed in the army. By regular promotion, he is on the present establishment, second in command.

To the astonishment of the people in this quarter, who remember his services, and appreciate his merits, they are informed, that colonel Butler has lately been arrested, and ordered to Frederick town, Maryland, to be tried on charges exhibited from the war office.

Uniformly attached to the character and principels of Washington, col. Butler has steadily pursued one course.—Trimming not with the times, he declined to trim his war-worn locks, down to that laconic standard which a dull fancy suggested and which caprice prescribed. Has this been cause of offence?

Is his arrest necessary to make way for some favorite minion?

Or is it part of a system, which denounces every man, however meritorious, who does not profess so belong to the present ruling sect? a system by which the renegado of yesterday is elevated, and the revolutionary patriot depressed? which prefers a sword of wood to one of steel? That system which displaced the valiant Miller, and provides for the coward Lyon? Which put down the honorable Giles,* and put up the scoundrel Cox?

If that is the case, (such is known to be the integrity, and high sense of honor, possessed by the gentlemen of the army generally) it is believed to be impossible, to form a court martial, that would bend to such views. Nor would the secretary of war, himself a soldier, be the volutary instrument, on any trivial pretext, to lend his aid in depressing merit so generally acknowledged.
