December 5. tu-th&s6t

This day is Published,
And for sale by M. & J. CONRAD & Co. No. 138, Market-street,
THE FIRST NUMBER OF THE LITERARY MAGAZINE,
AND AMERICAN REGISTER,
To be continued monthly, and delivered to subscribers at 50 cents per number. Each number shall contain at least 80 pages in large octavo, and shall comprehend seven departments. The first shall include original, moral, literary and scientific performances, and biographical or historical sketches. The second shall contain reviews of American publications and of English works republished here. The third shall comprise such extracts from foreign publications, as shall be considered peculiarly interesting and deserving the attention of the people of America. The fourth department shall consist of pieces of original or selected poetry. The fifth department shall include notices of publications preparing for the press; notices of literary characters and incidents; and such portions of information of a scientific, commercial, and agricultural nature, as shall be deemed most remarkable and most deserving of notice. The sixth shall contain an accurate detail of political intelligence foreign and domestic, particularly a clear summary of the proceedings of the congress of the United States during their session. The seventh department shall consist of all such interesting and important occurrences as the past month shall have produced: such as casualties, crimes, &c. and shall likewise contain as full and accurate a list of marriages and deaths in the United States as can be obtained.
A work of the nature now offered to the attention of the people of the United States, has long been demanded. It is conceived that if properly conducted it would eminently promote the literature of this country, and would prove in all respects favorable to the gratification of taste and extension of useful information. The editor promises all that his talents and labors can perform toward the successful execution of the work, and hopes by this appeal to literary taste that this desire to diffuse knowledge among all classes of society will not, like other attempts which have preceded it, be rendered fruitless by a cold and depressing reception.
