Juſt Publiſhed,

In five large octavo volumes, and for ſale by G. Hill, M. Conrad and Co. S. Butler, J. Rice, Bonſal and Niles, G. Douglas, and Warner & Hanna,

Blackſtone's Commentaries,

With Notes of Reference to the conſtitutions and laws of the federal government of the United States, and of the commonwealth of Virginia: with an appendix to each volume, containing tracts upon ſuch ſubjects as appeared neceſſary to form a ſyſtematic view of the laws of Virginia, as a member of the federal union.

BY ST. GEORGE TUCKER,

Profeſſor of law in the College of William and Mary, and one of the judges of the general court, in Virginia.

IT CONTAINS,

I. An introduction, or preface.

II. Notes on ſuch parts of the commentaries as treat on ſubjects which relate to correlative powers, delegated by the conſtitution and laws of the federal government, or of the ſtate of Virginia; ſhewing in what inſtances the principles of the Britiſh conſtitution, the maxims of that government, the general cuſtoms, or common law of England, acts of the Britiſh parliament, and particular cuſtoms, or preſcriptions, have been adopted or confirmed; altered and amended; or wholly changed and repealed, by local circumſtances, political conſiderations, or the expreſs proviſions contained in our conſtitutions and ſtature law.

III. To each volume of the Commentaries, there is an appendix; into which are introduced notes of a more conſiderable length, which could not conveniently be inſerted in the body of the work, and ſhort tracts upon ſome ſubjects ariſing out of our own conſtitution and laws.

IV. The appendix to the firſt volume contains 1. A diſcourſe on government. 2. An enquiry into the obligation and authority of the common law and ſtatutes of England, in the United States reſpectively; and whether the ſame be the law of the federal government of the United States or not. 3. A view of the written law of the commonwealth of Virginia as partaking of the conſtitution and laws of the federal government, and treaties made thereby; as well as of its own particular conſtitution, and acts of its legiſlature; together with ſuch acts of the parliament of Great Britain, as may be ſtill ſuppoſed to have any force or obligation therein. 4. A view of the conſtitution of the United States; its relation and connection with the ſtate conſtitutions; a brief examination of their reſpective powers; a ſhort parallel between it and that of Great-Britain; an examination of ſome of its defects; and a view of the amendments thereto propoſed by the ſeveral ſtate conventions; and of ſuch as may ſtill be proper to be taken into further conſideration. 5. A ſhort view of the conſtitution of Virginia; an examination of ſome of Mr. Jefferſon's poſitions reſpecting it; ſome hints with regard to an amendment of it, &c. 6. Obſervations on the right of conſcience and the freedom of the preſs, in the United States of America. 7. A view of the origin, progreſs, and preſent ſtate of ſlavery in Virginia, with a plan for its gradual abolition. 8. View of the laws reſpecting glebes and churches in Virginia.

V. The appendix to the ſecond volume contains a ſhort abſtract of the land laws in Virginia, with a reference to ſuch as are not to be found in any general code. 2. A diſcourſe on the law of deſcents in Virginia. 3. An engraved copper-plate table of deſcents according thereto. 4. A table ſhewing the manner in which eſtates in parcenary ſhall be divided purſuant thereto. 5. A view of the laws reſpecting eſcheats and forfeitures, paſſed during the revolutionary war, and of the rights of foreigners to hold lands in Virginia. 6. A view of the laws reſpecting ſlaves as property. 7. A diſcourſe on the ſubject of the laws reſtraining uſury.

VI. The appendix to the third volume contains a ſhort view of the courts of the United States, and of the commonwealth of Virginia, with an abſtract of the laws by which the practice therein is regulated: ſtrictures on the trial by jury in Virginia under the exiſting laws, and a plan for their amendment.

VII. The appendix to the fourth volume contains an abſtract of the criminal juriſdiction of the federal government, and of the commonwealth of Virginia; and a ſhort diſcourſe on treaſon.

VIII. The tracts mentioned in the fourth ſection—together with the editor's preface and the commentator's introduction, being all attached to the firſt volume of Blackſtone, are, in this edition, divided into two volumes—the preface and introductions, and the five tracts firſt mentioned in the fourth ſection, are attached to the firſt volume, and the other three tracts mentioned in the ſame ſection, make the appendix to the ſecond volume.

☞ The notes diſperſed throughout the work will amount to fourteen or fifteen hundred. Thoſe which refer to the conſtitution and laws of the United States are very numerous.

A ſelection of the moſt applicable of Chriſtian's Notes is printed under their proper references.

A Propoſal,

By WM. YOUNG BIRCH & ABRAHAM SMALL, of the city of Philadelphia, for publiſhing by ſubſcription, that celebrated work

GIBBON's HISTORY OF THE

Decline & Fall of the Roman Empire:

Together with Memoirs of the Life and Writings of the author.

NO book could be offered, which ſtands in leſs need of encomium and recommendation—It has been read in almoſt every European language—The hiſtory of the long and intereſting period from the reign of Auguſtus to the taking of Conſtantinople, and the death of Mahomet the IId. is no where elſe to be found in the ſhape of regular and well arranged hiſtory. The publiſhers preſume to hope, that they do a ſervice to their country in giving an edition of it from the American preſs. They will briefly ſpeak of their intentions, and the ſuperiority of this edition.

1. It will be the moſt compleat edition of Gibbon extant—Becauſe it will be enriched with the memoirs of his life and writings, written by himſelf. This will be an addition to the London copy of nearly 200 pages.

2. It will be about one-third cheaper than the London copy.

3. It will be executed in the beſt ſtile. The publiſhers, with confidence, recommend to the public an inſpection of the books publiſhed by them within the laſt three years—They are, Ruſſell's Ancient and Modern Europe, 7 volumes—The Domeſtic Encyclopædia, 5 vols. and Tucker's Blackſtone, 5 vols. They promiſe not to degenerate.

Conditions:

I. It ſhall be printed from the laſt London edition, and be publiſhed in eight octavo volumes, during the year 1804.

II. It ſhall be delivered to thoſe ſubſcribers who take it in volumes, at two dollars per volume, in boards.

Thoſe who wait for the completion of the work may have it either at ſixteen dollars in boards, or in a good and handſome binding, at twenty dollars, payable on delivery.

It will be enriched with two whole ſheet maps—one of the eaſtern, the other of the weſtern part of the Roman empire—A Map of the parts of Europe and Aſia adjacent to Conſtantinople, and an elegantly engraved Head of the Author.

☞ Subſcriptions will be received by the bookſellers in Baltimore. Dec. 1. eo

Information Wanted,

WHETHER GEORGE FREDERICK MARTENS is ſtill alive, or dead? Said gentleman was born in the dukedom of Brandenburg, near Lentzen, and is at preſent (if living) about the age of 58. He went in the year 1786, or 1787, to Baltimore, in the employ of Mr. Gaetjens, or Geertz, ſugar baker of ſaid place. His only brother, Daniel Martens, in Hamburg, would gladly hear from him, ſhould he not chuſe to return to Europe; but heartily wiſhes to ſee him in Hamburg, being without heirs or any near relation, and advanced in years. Any perſon who could give an account of the above mentioned G. F. Martens, or procure a certificate of his death, in caſe of his deceaſe, would confer a great obligation on his brother. All reaſonable expences ſhall be duly paid, beſides a handſome gratuity if required. Any information, directed to the Courier Office, Charleſton (S. C.) will be thankfully received.
