appeared Jacob A. Seaton, who, being by me first duly sworn to answer truly all interrogatories propounded to him, deposes and says: I am 59 years old. Occupation, barber. P.O. address, 242 S. Dallas St., Baltimore, Md. I have known Thomas J. Harris about 40 years, I suppose. I knew him before he went in the army. I think he was in the 39 Regiment. He was a healthy young man about 35 or 40 I suppose. I was boarding with him at the time. He had two sons who went in with him, William and Thomas. I went to Jersey to live and returned in October 1865. I saw them soon after that, upon their return from the army. I have seen him off and on every year since. He has been complaining several years. It must be 8 or 10 years since I heard him first complaining. It may have been longer than that. I cant say what it was. It may be the rheumatism. I think it was the rheumatism, but I am not sure. I dont remember anything else. Yes, since you call my attention to it I think I have heard him compla of piles. That was his greatest trouble. I am not sure whether he has complained of diarrhoea of late yea I have a slight recollection that he had it when he came out of the army but I dont remember an thing about it since that time. When I went up for him, it was not to say anything about his troubles, but how long I had known him. I did not say anything about his complaints. I was not questioned about them. He was the only one with me. A small gentleman did the writing. I was sworn down the street by a middle-aged magistrate. No, the paper I signed was not read to me. I was sworn in this office. I was speaking of today when I said I was sworn down the street. That was in John Smith's case. No, I do not know what is stated in that paper, but I only know what I have already told you. This paper has been read to me and I am correctly reported.
