IN MEMORIAM.

ALBAUGH.—In sad but loving remembrance of our darling ELSIE, who died five years ago today—January 1st, 1907.

Gone, but not forgotten.

How we watched to see her coming,
How we waited to hear her call;
How we miss you, dearest Elsie,
No tongue but ours can tell.

1 AUNT ALICE.

AMENT.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, BARBARA AMENT, who died six years ago today—January 5, 1907.

Gone, but not forgotten.

1 BY HER DAUGHTER, LENA.

BARTOL.—In sacred and loving remembrance of my friend, JOHN D. BARTOL, who departed this life January 5, 1909.

Gone, but not forgotten.

1 BY HIS FRIEND, MARIE Q.

BIERMANN.—In memory of my beloved wife and our dear mother, JOHANNA BIERMANN, who died six years ago—December 31, 1906.

Just six years ago we laid you to rest
And folded your cold hands upon your breast;
In silence you suffered, in patience you bore,
Until God called you home to suffer no more.

Grieve not, dear loved ones, I am at rest,
And shall forever be;
I cannot come on earth to you,
But you can come to me.

1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

CROSBY.—In loving remembrance of my dear wife and mother, KATIE CROSBY, who died four years ago—December 31, 1908.

As the stars overhead are gleaming
Oftimes I sit alone;
In my heart there is a feeling
That my dear wife must come home.

By the beautiful gates she stands and waits,
My wife, from pain set free;
I shall clasp her hand and feel her kiss
When the hinges turn for me.

1 BY HER HUSBAND AND DAUGHTER.

FLENTJE.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, EMILIA FLENTJE, who died January 6, 1911—two years ago.

In the years fast fleeting by
Thou wilt not be forgot;
For in our hearts for thee still blooms
The sweet forget-me-not.

1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

GREASER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, ETHEL M., who departed this life one year ago (January 4, 1912) and our only son and brother, HOWARD O., who departed this life June 29, 1911, also our son-in-law and dear husband, CHARLES A. JEFFERY, who departed this life April 11, 1912.

Like unto a rose was she who has gone,
Only a bud, not yet half grown;
Death shears clipped her from life's vine—
Not our will, oh, Lord, but Thine.

By the beautiful gate they stand and wait,
Our dear ones from pain set free;
We will clasp their hands in that heavenly land
When the hinges turn for us.

BY MOTHER AND FATHER.

One long sad and weary year we have spent
Since God called the treasure He only lent;
Called her to His mansion grand,
There to join His heavenly band.

Dearest ones, how we miss you
Since from earth you've passed away,
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you each day.

1 BY SISTERS AND WIFE.

HAMLEN.—In memory of my beloved son, JOSHUA V. HAMLEN, who died eleven years ago today—January 5th, 1902.

Creep on, oh, years, yet love keep green
Affection, tomb and faith unseen
Points upwards to thy Father's throne,
For he is His and yet my own.

Sleep on, sleep on and rest
At the close of earth's weary day;
Ah, call it not death, but life—
This beautiful passing away.

So shall it be at last in that bright morning,
When the soul waketh and life's shadows flee;
O in that hour, fairer than daylight dawning,
Shall rise the glorious thought I am with thee.

1 BY HIS FATHER.

IN MEMORIAM.

HAMLEN.—In loving remembrance of my dear friends, JOSHUA V. and WADE A. HAMLEN, respectively, who departed this life January 5th, 1902, and April 24th, 1907.

Where has thy loved ones fled?
Dear friends, tell me where,
Dwell they yet with the dead,
And I know they are happy there.

Where has my loved ones fled?
Oh, some one tell me where.
They are with the loathsome dead,
Their forms so good and fair.

Where does my loved ones dwell?
Can you tell me where?
To think they lay in the dreary tomb,
And I often visit there.

Oh, no. Where all is lasting bliss,
Where their bright spirits dwell,
There I shall find my love ones yet,
The ones I loved so well.

1 BY THEIR FRIEND, J. W.

HEIGER.—In loving remembrance of JOHN HEIGER, who died January 5, 1901.

1 BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

HIMMELHEBER.—In sad but loving remembrance of KATHERINE HIMMELHEBER, who died January 4th, 1906.

Sleep on, dear one, and take your rest,
God took you home—He thought it best;
It was hard, indeed, to part from thee,
But God's strong arm supported me.

When they asked us if we miss her
How it fills our heart with pain;
But her voice is sweetly saying,
"Courage, we shall meet again."

1 BY HER HUSBAND.

Oft we wander to the graveyard,
Flowers to strew with tender care
On the grave of our dear mother,
Who's sweetly resting there.

1 BY HER CHILDREN.

HINES.—In loving remembrance of my daughter, MAGGIE C. HINES, who departed this life six years ago today, January 6th, 1907.

You are not forgotten, Maggie, dear,
Nor ever will you be;
For as long as life and memory last
I will remember thee.

1 BY HER MOTHER.

HOOPER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear daughter, ELLA HOOPER, who departed this life January 6th, 1909—four years ago.

Oh, dearest, sweetest daughter,
Since you have passed away,
It seems not that it is years ago,
But only yesterday.

Whene'er we speak your loving name
Our eyes with tears are wet;
Oh, daughter, how we loved you,
And love cannot forget.

There is one that still will linger
Near the spot where she is laid,
And will come and scatter flowers
O'er the grave that death has made.

1 BY HER LOVING MOTHER.

HUBBARD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, JAMES T. HUBBARD, beloved husband of Margaret Hubbard, who departed this life four years ago—January 6, 1909. R. I. P.

O, God, what a weight of sorrow
Must I, the lonely one, bear;
The silent room, the empty bed
And the lonely, vacant chair.

Tenderly nursed and cared for him,
Trying in vain to restore his health;
This would have been worth an emperor's throne;
His life to me was worth more than wealth.

I once had a cheerful, happy home,
And a devoted husband who stood by me,
But now, since he is dead and gone,
My home is not what it used to be.

1 BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Mass at St. John's Church. 1

JONES.—In memory of Mrs. CHANEY JONES, who departed this life July 30th, 1912, at the age of one hundred and twelve years. She was the mother of fourteen children, sixty-nine grandchildren, eighty-one great-grandchildren and fifteen great-greatgrandchildren. [Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Washington and Essex county (Va.) papers please copy.]

KALTENHAUSER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, GEORGE KALTENHAUSER, who departed this life one year ago—January 4th, 1912.

We will pray for the soul of our father,
A right that cannot be taken away:
It is one of the beautiful gifts of our faith,
For prayers are the flowers that never decay.

1 BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

KALTENHAUSER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear brother, MARTIN KALTENHAUSER, who departed this life one year ago—December 31, 1911.

The depths of sorrow cannot tell
The loss of a brother we loved so well,
And while he rests in peaceful sleep
His sacred memory we will keep.

BY HIS MOTHER, SISTERS AND BROTHERS. 1

POSTON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, MARY A. POSTON, who died five years ago today—January 5th, 1908.

Into sweet rest she has entered,
No more to wake or weep;
She is smiling upon the Good Heaven—
Our dear mother has fallen to sleep.

The God whom we love, in His wisdom,
Knows well what is right and best,
And we pray today for patience
Till we meet in the land of rest.

Loved in life; in death remembered.

1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

REIBOLD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my beloved husband and our father, ARTLEY B. REIBOLD, who was suddenly called from earth to Heaven three months ago today—October 5, 1912.

Silently the shades of evening
Gather around our lonely door;
Tenderly they bring before us
Your dear face we see on earth no more.

Oh, smile upon us from on high,
Ask God to lead us when we die,
That we may meet you up above
Some glad sweet day we pray and live.

HIS LONELY WIFE AND DEAR LITTLE CHILDREN. 1

SCHWEMM.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, CATHERINE F. SCHWEMM, who died ten years ago today—January 5, 1903.

We loved her so dearly
And we loved her with all our hearts,
And there can never be a day as sad
As the day we had to part.

She was a tender and loving mother,
A mother kind and true;
A mother and a friend who would never shrink
Whenever a kind act she could do.

1 BY HER CHILDREN.

SERT.—In sad but loving remembrance of our grandmother, ELIZABETH SERT, who departed this life four years ago—January 1, 1913.

Grandma has fallen asleep.

Grandma was tired and weary,
Weary with aches and with pain—
Put by her needle and thread—
She will not need them again.

Into sweet rest she hath entered,
No more to suffer or weep;
After life's long, fitful fever
Grandma has fallen asleep.

Rest the worn feet now forever,
Dear wrinkled hands are so still;
Pulseless the heart that no longer
Sorrow can quicken or thrill.

Tears will glide o'er her gently,
Fading the shadowland deep;
Drive back thy tears, would you wake her?
Grandma has fallen asleep.

BY HER GRANDDAUGHTER, MRS. ANNA ADAMS.

There is such a sad longing
Deep down in my heart today,
To see once again my dear mother,
Whom death has taken from me away.

Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears of sorrow silently flow,
Fond memory keeps my mother near me,
Though Heaven claimed her four years ago.

You ask me why I'm downcast,
Why I whisper your sweet name;
Only those who have lost a mother
Know the anguish of my pain.

BY HER GRANDDAUGHTER, MRS. ELIZABETH WEIDMAN. 1

SHUETTE.—In memory of our friend, ELLANORE SHUETTE, who died one year ago.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
The loss of a friend we loved so well,
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her sacred memory we will always keep.

1 BY HER FRIENDS, LAURA AND MARIE.

SNACK.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, ELIZABETH SNACK, who died January 2, 1905, and our dear father, JOHN H. SNACK, who died October 31, 1908.

O, dearest, sweetest parents,
Since you have passed away,
It seems not that 'tis years ago,
But only yesterday.

Whene'er we speak their loving name
Our eyes with tears are wet;
O, parents, how we loved you,
And love cannot forget.

The Lord took you from us—
It was His holy will,
And left in our hearts a vacancy,
Which never can be filled.

But in our saddest moments
One happy thought holds sway;
We will meet again, dear parents,
And be happy some sweet day.

Loved in life; in death remembered.

1 BY THEIR CHILDREN.

STRECKFUS.—In sad but loving remembrance of our son and brother, JOSEPH LEONARD STRECKFUS, who departed this life January 4, 1908—five years ago.

Gone, but not forgotten.

In the years fast fleeting by
Thou will not be forgotten;
For as long as life shall last
We shall remember thee.

1 BY HIS PARENTS.

TEUBNER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, MARY G. TEUBNER, who died five years ago today—January 5th, 1908.

Mother, dear mother, we miss you
Since to Heaven you have gone;
You prayed "God bless your children,
And bring them to the throne."

We know that you are happy,
And that God answers prayers;
We mourn our loss, dear mother,
And will try to meet you there.

1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

WEBSTER.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, MOSES A. WEBSTER, who died one year ago—January 4, 1912.

My husband gone and I love him yet,
And his memory is dear to me;
He loved us so we can never forget
In the coming eternity.

And as he sits by his throne above,
With God's angels to sing and praise,
O, wonderful was his sincere love
To his dear wife in his days.

No wish of ours could he refuse,
He gave us his sweetest and best.
For Heaven was his home to choose,
And his gift was the haven of rest.

BY HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.
