IN MEMORIAM.

ELLICK.—In lovingly remembrance of my loving husband, HENRY W. ELLICK, who died January 30, 1912.

Sleep on dear husband;
And take your rest.
God called you home,
He thought it best.
He saw your sufferings,
Here so great,
And opened wide
The Golden Gate.
You are not forgotten, husband dear;
Nor will you ever be;
For as long as life and memory last
I will remember thee.

BY HIS WIFE.

1

HENNINGS.—In sad, but loving remembrance of my dear husband, JOHN H., who departed this life three years ago, January 30, 1910.

Although he is absent from me,
And three weary years have fled.
Since I stood by his bed in sorrow
And knew my husband was dead.
I love him today, yes, I love him,
Just as well as I did years ago;
And I miss him, oh, how sadly I miss him,
And my heart is still aching so.
But one thought comes to me in my sadness,
He is free from all sickness and pain;
And I trust when my journey is ended
I will meet my loved one again.
What happy days I once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory's still;
But they leave an aching void
The world can never fill.
Till God in His mercy sent down from above
An angel that whispered a message of love.
You will not be forgotten, father, dear,
Nor ever will you be;
For as long as life and memory last
We will always remember thee.

BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.
