WOULD CONTROL THE LEGISLATURE

REPUBLICANS KEEPING HANDS OFF SENATORIAL FIGHTS.

CONTEST IN CHARLES COUNTY

Split in Democratic Ranks There Will Make Their Defeat Almost Sure—Walter Mitchell and William Frere at Odds, and, Seizing This as a Lever, Republicans Hope to Win a Victory—Plans for Lincoln Banquet Complete.

Seeing that the state Democratic party is going to have a fight within itself over the senatorial contests, Maryland Republicans are going to start a most strenuous campaign to secure control of the next legislature. In any senatorial contest the Republicans are going to keep "hands off" and content themselevs with electing their candidates next fall to the 1914 session of the General Assembly.

While their opponents are stirring up trouble for themselves in producing so many candidates for the long and short senatorial terms, the Republicans are asking:

"Why shouldn't we have a majority in the Maryland House of Delegates and Senate?"

And why not? The state now has a Republican governor. He was elected by a good majority, but when he took his office a legislature whose majority was Democratic bucked up against him.

The indications are that Charles county will be the first battle scene in the Republicans' contest for legislative majority. In fact, underneath the surface of that county's political situation, the contest has already started and the Democrats are up against a factional fight.

By about 300 majority William Frere was elected three years ago state senator. His term has expired. When he entered the fight he was given the support of the Democrats of his county and was elected. However, in the three years that have passed a factional feeling has developed which is now at its height. Mr. Frere has not announced whether he will be a candidate, but his friends have urged him to do so. In the event that he does not, he will have a great deal to do with the naming of his friends' candidate.

Walter Mitchell, who is conceded to be one of the Democratic leaders in Charles county, will probably oppose Mr. Frere's candidacy, or any one that he might suggest. On the one hand there will be a faction led by Mr. Frere, and on the other there will be a faction led by Mr. Mitchell. This will mean the Democratic vote in that county will be split.

The county Republicans have as yet not put up any candidate, but will do so shortly. Friends of F. Stone Posey, son of Adrian Posey, have mentioned him as being the logical successor to the senatorial chair of Mr. Frere. Mr. Posey was elected to the legislature of 1912, and it is said that his record there proved so satisfactory that the Republicans are willing to send him to the Senate.

When asked yesterday whether he would be a candidate for the state Senate, Mr. Posey said that he had been asked to do so by his friends and might agree.

The Republicans are now content to await until the big Union League banquet is over. The banquet is to take place on February 12, the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Hundreds of persons will attend. The arrangements have been practically completed.

Col. Joseph R. Baldwin, state treasurer of the Progressive party, returned from New York yesterday, where he held a conference with Col. Theodore Roosevelt and Frank A. Munsey. He discussed with them the future of the party and upon his return issued the following statement:

Colonel Roosevelt is very much opposed to the "Get together" proposition, while Mr. Munsey thinks some plan should be worked out whereby the rank and file of the two parties could join forces in Maryland and go to the polls next fall with a winning ticket. Mr. Munsey made it very clear to me that he is against the bosses and that he will not stand for any man that wishes to have the "Get together" plan molded for his own selfish interest. I heartily agree with him. Our party is not a one-man party.

Pimples Quickly Disappear from Face, Arms, Neck and Back, and Insure a Beautiful Complexion.

You can get rid of them just in time by taking Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

These wonderful little workers have cured bad boils in three days, and some cases of skin diseases in a week.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers have not a particle of poison in them. They are free from mercury, biting drugs or venomous opiates. This is absolutely guaranteed. They cannot do any harm, but they always do good—good that you can see in the mirror before your own eyes a few days after.

Don't be any longer humiliated by having a splochy face. Don't have strangers stare at you, or allow your friends to be ashamed of you because of your face.

Your blood makes you what you are. The men and women who forge ahead are those with pure blood and pure faces.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will make you happy because your face will be a welcome sight not only to yourself when you look into the glass, but to everybody else who knows you and talks to you.

DR. MEAD CONGRATULATED

Members and Friends Glad He Has Declined Call.

Members of First Methodist Episcopal Church are delighted that their pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles L. Mead, has declined the call which he received to Calvary Church of New York and will remain in Baltimore. They realized that the call to New York was a very flattering one, and all of yesterday Dr. Mead was kept busy answering the numerous questions which were put to him by friends over the phone who were anxious to hear from his own lips that he had decided to remain.

Among those who called at Dr. Mead's house was John J. Holmes, of the Young Men's Christian Association, who had been appointed by the members of the Bible class, of which Dr. Mead has charge, to thank him in the name of the whole class and to tell him how glad they were that he was to remain with them. William H. Morriss, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., expressed himself as being very much relieved to hear that Dr. Mead was to remain in Baltimore. In reaching his decision Dr. Mead said he had been guided by God. In speaking of the plans of the church for the future, Dr. Mead said that an earnest effort would be made to increase the membership. Revival services will be conducted by him about the 1st of March, for which preparations are now being made. Dr. Mead will preach at both morning and evening services today and an unusually large congregation will be present to hear their pastor make the announcement of his declination of the New York call.

A special dispatch to The American from New York last night stated:

Chairman Harry A. Bramley, of the committee of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church here, which had conducted the correspondence with Rev. Dr. Charles L. Mead respecting the call, confirmed the story in today's American that Dr. Mead had decided to decline. Mr. Bradley received a formal letter from Dr. Mead addressed to the committee of Calvary Church, setting forth the reasons why he declined the call of the largest and most prosperous Methodist church in America. The reasons were, briefly, that he could not afford to leave his present charge, even to become the successor of Dr. Goodell, and that he appreciated highly the honor of being asked to become the pastor of Calvary Church. Seen tonight, Chairman Bramley said to The American correspondent:

"We received Dr. Mead's letter of declination and regret his decision. His letter will not be read to the members of the church. He states the reasons for declining our call, but we shall not make public the letter embodying them. The incident is closed. There is nothing more to be said."

THE LADIES FIRST

Will Be a Slogan at the Eagles' Convention.

The ladies.

First, last and always, the ladies.

This will be another slogan of the coming great Eagles' Convention, which will be held here next August, and a special committee of 50 or more wives, sisters, daughters and female relatives of the members of Baltimore Aerie, No. 59, is now being appointed to take charge of the entertainment of the ladies, who will visit Baltimore by thousands. In this big undertaking they will be assisted by Louis Sanders and Joseph Pippitone, who have been especially selected by reason of their courtesy and affability, as the nucleus of a masculine committee to formulate plans for the good times that await the visiting femininity.

The Eagles' clubrooms will be turned over to the fair sex exclusively and will be the scene of a constant succession of entertainments, concerts, vocal and orchestral, luncheons, afternoon teas, pleasing social functions and other diversions. Each lady visitor will be given a special badge on arrival, which will entitle her to admission to the clubrooms at all times as well as to participate in all the other pleasures provided. Not the least among these, should the weather be propitious, will be automobile rides and trolley parties on specially chartered cars to the principal points of interest of the city and suburbs, as well as extended rides to the bay and river shore parks. Then there will be picnic parties in the city parks and trips to Fort McHenry and other historic points, as well as steamboat and yacht rides about the harbor and down the Bay. Tally-ho parties in the old English coaching style will be another feature that will, no doubt, prove highly attractive. Side trips to Washington and historic Annapolis will be arranged, as will others to Gettysburg and to Pen-Mar.

The night carnival will be where the ladies will shine most brilliantly. They will pose in tableaux on the floats, ride horses and in automobiles and carriages in the masquerade parade, participate in the merrymaking and confetti throwing generally and lend beauty and animation to the picturesque scenes.

GAS VICTIM IDENTIFIED

Walter Steinberg, of New York, Found Dead in Hotel Here.

The man who was found dead in a gas-filled room in the St. George Hotel with Elizabeth Schmidt, 30 South Washington street, last Monday, was Walter H. Steinberg, 23 years old, of 115 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, New York city. He was positively identified yesterday by Aaron Abrams, of 23 Patchen avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Abrams is a brother-in-law and came to Baltimore after receiving word from Acting Marshal Manning that the man might be Steinberg. Thursday Acting Marshal Manning found among the man's belongings a card which asked that Mrs. Steinberg be notified in case of accident. It gave the New York address. Although the man had been positively identified by a roommate named Hamilton as Arthur Bondy, the police did not put much credence in it and searched for clues which would aid them in positively establishing the man's identity.

Acting on this theory the police found the card and Acting Marshal Manning sent a telegram to the New York Police Department, which resulted in Abrams coming to Baltimore. A few minutes before Steinberg's family was notified that the man here might be their son a telegram was received from St. Louis saying that Mrs. Annie Blake, of that city, a daughter, had died of pneumonia. Mr. Abrams yesterday was not inclined to put much faith in the suicide theory, and said that if such was really the case he could assign no reason for his brother-in-law's act. He was a traveling salesman for a kimona and rubber-goods house, according to Abrams, and was making good money.

Steinberg was born in New York. As yet no arrangements have been made for taking the body home. Abrams took Steinberg's suit case and belongings with him. The body is still at the Morgue. Steinberg is survived by his parents (Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Steinberg), two sisters (Mrs. A. Abrams and Miss Ida Steinberg) and one brother (Harry Steinberg).

The delegations from Maine and California will be headed by the governor of each of the two states. It is also said that delegates from as far north as Montreal will make the trip to Louisville. The Baltimore special will be met at Washington by a number of prominent out-of-town canners, who will share the pleasures of the trip with the local canners.

Among those making reservations for the canners' special train, which will leave Camden Station at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, will be:

The following is a list of the out-of-town members who will meet the special at Washington, D. C.:

Recors, Wilmington, Del.; G. F. Hotaling, Albany, N. Y.; A. R. and S. R. Whittall, Montreal, Canada; W. P. King, Peters Creek, Pa.; W. D. Lambreth, Bristol, Pa.; R. B. Hyson, Bridgeton, Pa.

PROGRESSIVES IN ACTION

File Petition for Recognition by Election Supervisors.

The Progressive party has taken its fight for recognition as one of the two leading parties in Maryland into the courts. A petition for mandamus, asking the court to compel the election supervisors to appoint Progressive judges and clerks of election instead of Republicans, was filed in the City Court yesterday by Alfred A. Moreland, chairman of the Progressive City Committee, through Attorney David M. Newbold, Jr. The action was taken after agreement with the supervisors, who are anxious to have the question settled once and for all. The case, of course, will finally go to the Court of Appeals.

Tomorrow morning the petition will go before Judge Harlan, together with an order requiring cause to be shown why it should not be granted. Lewis M. Putzel, counsel for the supervisors, will immediately file his answer, which will include a demurrer to the petition. The court will then be asked to set a date for the hearing. The petition states that the Progressive party polled in 1912 a larger number of votes for electors than any party except the Democratic, and it then claims that by reason of this vote the Progressive party is one of the two leading parties of Maryland. The claim is made that the supervisors in naming judges and clerks for 1913 should select Progressives and Democrats. The petition is virtually an appeal from the ruling of the supervisors of elections.

DONATIONS FOR ST. LUKE'S

Many Gifts Sent to the Hospital on North Avenue.

From early in the morning until late at night bundles of linen, packages of groceries and other necessities arrived at St. Luke's Hospital yesterday, the first day of the donation month at the hospital. Quite a little sum of money was received at the hospital from friends of the institution in response to a number of letters which were sent out by the committee on old bills.

In the afternoon tea was served under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Linen Guild. All this month there will be two members of the Ladies' Auxiliary at the hospital daily. They will be glad to show any persons through the institution who are interested in its work.

Dr. R. C. Catlin, chairman of the committee on old bills, is optimistic concerning the future of the hospital and is delighted at the way the persons who have received letters asking for aid have responded. A meeting of the staff and the official board will be held at the hospital tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

BIG CONVENTION EXPECTED

At the Coming Ad Club Gathering in June.

Men active in the On to Baltimore movement in the Eastern division of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, now estimate that the attendance at the Baltimore convention from the Eastern division, which includes 11 states, will exceed 5,000. This is the word which Alfred I. Hart, chairman of the press and publicity committee of the Advertising Club of Baltimore, brings back after spending 10 days or more in conference with the officers of the Eastern division and others in the city of New York.

In a talk with Mr. Hart, Hugh MacN. Kahler, editor of How to Export, expressed himself as follows:

"I heartily favor the largest possible international representation at the Baltimore convention, and can foresee many definite benefits likely to result from it in favor of American export trade. We have suffered greatly in the past through the failure of the press in certain countries, notably in Latin-America, to understand the truth about us, our politics, and particularly our business. If we can get some representative publishers to attend in person, or to send real representatives to the Baltimore convention, they will have much of modern American business put before them in visible form, and will carry home a totally different conception of this country, its business men and methods. This will prevent the publication of much of the erroneous and misleading matter which now finds its way into the foreign press; and in addition, we can look for some highly favorable comment, a better understanding, the extension of American advertising in foreign papers; in a word, a closer and more profitable relation between the American producer and the foreign consumer."

In this connection also, J. Shepherd Clark, of the export journal, El Comercio, in an interview with Mr. Hart, said:

"When I founded our export journal, El Comercio, 38 years ago, I made a thorough study of the possibilities of the manufacturing cities of the United States for profitably exporting their products to the valuable markets of Latin-America, and this study led me to select Baltimore as a city that had a special advantage of being both a large manufacturing center as well as a seaboard city. I then made a systematic effort to interest Baltimore manufacturers, but while a few showed some interest, it never took shape in any systematic effort, and Baltimore stands today just where she was nearly 40 years ago, plenty of stuff to export, but no market worked up for it, while other cities comparatively small in importance, have gained an attractive export trade. I believe, however, that after all, Baltimore is seeing the light, and feel assured that the Export Advertising Club of America, founded by Alfred I. Hart, will be the means, during the convention to be held at Baltimore next June, of bringing about among Baltimore manufacturers, a thorough and better understanding of this export proposition, one that will result in their at least doing something."
