IN MEMORIAM.

BOEHM.—In loving remembrance of my beloved husband and father, HENRY E., who died two years ago—February 10th, 1911.

Two years have passed—our hearts still sore,
As time flies on we miss him more;
He sleeps, we leave him in peace to rest,
The parting was painful, but God knoweth best.

We often sit and talk of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

BY HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

BURKHOFF.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, CARRIE BURKHOFF, who departed this life one year ago—February 11th, 1912.

We loved her in life; in death you shall be remembered.

The month of February once more is here,
To us the saddest of all the year,
Because it took from us away
My dear wife and from the children a mother.

God called her home—it was His will,
But in our hearts we love her still;
Her memory is as dear today
As in the hour she passed away.

Dearest wife and mother, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away;
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you each day.

BY HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

CROMWELL.—In sad but loving remembrance of my beloved wife, NEVA CROMWELL, who departed this life one year ago—February 8, 1912.

Into sweet rest she has entered,
No more to wake or weep;
She is smiling on earth from Heaven;
My dear wife has fallen to sleep.

Oh, how hard we tried to save her,
But our cares were all in vain;
Angels came and took her from us;
She is with the Saviour, free from pain.

BY HER BEREAVED HUSBAND, JAMES E. CROMWELL.

Silently the shades of evening
Gathered around our only door,
Silently they bring before us
That dear face we will see no more.

Dear loved one, how could I give you up,
The one I loved so dearly;
God loved you, too, and thought it best
And took our loved one home to rest.

The midnight stars are beaming
Upon the silent grave
Where sleepeth without dreaming,
The one we could not save.

God of Love, send me some token
From the spirit world above;
That my heart, all crushed and broken,
May be healed by heavenly love.

BY MRS. BELL CROMWELL, HER AUNT. 1

IN MEMORIAM.

DENNINGER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my husband and our father, Capt. AUGUST DENNINGER, who departed this life five years ago (February 8, 1908) and my dear brother, HENRY DENNINGER, who departed this life seventeen years ago (February 12, 1896).

Loved in life: in death remembered.
Gone to a brighter home
To meet the loved ones.

BY HER DAUGHTER AND HIS SISTER, K. D. 1

ECKERT.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, MINNIE ECKERT, who departed this life February 8, 1912.

The one that we loved is missing,
The voice we loved is stilled,
Her place in our home is vacant
And never can be filled.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding
O'er the spoils that death has won,
We would at this solemn meeting,
Calmly say "Thy will be done."

A beautiful life is ended,
A dear daughter laid at rest;
Safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe on His gentle breast.

BY HER LOVING PARENTS.

God alone knows how I miss her,
Miss her more than tongue can tell;
But some day I hope to meet her
And in her then all I'll tell.

BY BROTHER DAVE AND SISTER-IN-LAW. 1

FITZPATRICK.—In sad but loving remembrance of our darling baby, EARL JAMES, who passed away one year ago—February 10th.

A bud the Gardener gave us,
A bud we thought would live;
He gave him to our keeping,
To cherish undefiled.
But just as it was opening
To the glory of the day
Down came the heavenly Gardener
And took our bud away.

BY HIS MAMMA AND PAPA. 1

HARRISON.—In memory of our dear brother, WALTER HARRISON, who died one year ago—February 7th.

Brother, little did we know
When we left you the night before
That God would call you so soon
And we would never see you alive on earth any more.

Brother, dear, you were called away so sudden,
Without time to say good-by.
But we know your thoughts were with us
When you were asked to die.

BY HIS BROTHERS AND MOTHER.

HARRISON.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear papa, WALTER I. HARRISON, who departed this life February 7, 1912, one year ago, and my aunt, ANNIE HARRISON, who died August 5, 1908.

The midnight stars are beaming
Upon a silent grave,
Where sleepeth, without dreaming,
The one we could not save.

God of love, send us some token
From the spirit world above,
That the hearts, all crushed and broken,
May be healed by heavenly love.

BY HIS DAUGHTER, ANNIE. 1

HOWELL.—In memory of my dear mother, SUSAN HOWELL, who departed this life four years ago—February 12, 1909.

Oft I wander to the graveyard,
Flowers to place with loving care,
On the grave of my dear mother,
Who so sweetly sleepeth there.

BY HER LOVING DAUGHTER, ANNIE. 1

HYSER.—In loving remembrance of our dear SADIE, who died six years ago—February 7th, 1907.

Like unto a rose was she who has gone;
Only a bud, not yet half grown;
Death's shears clipped her from life's vine;
Not our will, oh, Lord, but Thine.
There's a sacred grave that is dear to me,
Though over it no willow weeps;
For underneath this grassy sod
My darling's mouldering ashes sleep.

Roses of love in scarlet dye,
Buds of hope that bloom in the skies;
I'll gather them up in moments sweet,
And lay them at my dear Sadie's feet.

BY GRANDMA. 1

KEMPER.—In loving remembrance of Mrs. ANNIE KEMPER who departed this life one year ago—February 8th, 1912.

Gone, but not forgotten.

I will cling to the hope to meet her again,
When my task here on earth is o'er;
For she is not gone forever,
Just a little while before.

Her busy hands we folded,
Her toils on earth are done,
Her troubles are all ended,
Her heavenly crown is won.

L. W. 1

KEYS.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son, CHARLES ELMER KEYS, who departed this life two years ago—February 9, 1911.

Loved in life; in death remembered.

The cheeks' pale tinge, lids' heavy fringe
As they lie like a shadow there,
Were pretty in the eyes of all
With his bonny light hair.

But though that lid may never awake
From its dark and dreamless sleep,
He has gone where young hearts do not break;
Then, wherefore, do I weep?

His dear head is pillowed upon the cold sod,
His young heart in silence repases;
He dwells in the beautiful garden of God,
An angel amid Heaven's fair mass.

MAMMA, PAPA AND BROTHERS.

KURTZ.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, CHARLES F. KURTZ, who died two years ago—February 5, 1911.

Loved in life; in death remembered.

Time cannot heal my wounded heart
Or fill the vacant chair;
I miss thee at all times,
I miss thee everywhere.

Think not, dear husband, that thou art forgotten,
For by me thou shall never be;
As long as breath and memory last
My thoughts will be of thee.

BY HIS WIFE. 1

LAYNE.—In loving remembrance of our beloved wife and mother, ANNIE, who died February 6th, 1909.

Four years have passed—our hearts still sore,
As time flies on we miss her more;
She sleeps, we leave her in peace to rest,
The parting was painful, but God knoweth best.

We often sit and think of her
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

BY HER DAUGHTER, MARY HUTSON, AND FAMILY.

Oh, the sorrow of the morning
As I stood with aching heart,
Seeing the one I loved so dearly
Pierced by death's most evil dart.

A tear within a daughter's eye,
A daughter's breaking heart,
Can only tell the agony
How hard it is to part.

BY HER DAUGHTER, JULIA HASS, AND FAMILY. 1

REGNER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, ELIZABETH REGNER, who died one year ago—February 7th, 1912.

Into sweet rest she has entered,
No more to suffer or weep;
After life's long, fitful fever
Mother has fallen to sleep.

The depths of sorrow cannot tell
The loss of mother we loved so well,
And while she rests in peaceful sleep,
Her sacred memory we will always keep.

BY HER CHILDREN. 1

STALLER.—In memory of mother, ANNA STALLER, who died eight years ago today.

Could the sightless, sunken eyes
Closed beneath the soft gray hair;
Could the mute and stiffened lips
Move again in pleading prayer.

Still, aye still, the words would be,
"Let me hide myself in Thee."

BY HER SON, JOHN, AND WIFE, ELLA HAMILTON STALLER. 1

IN MEMORIAM.

SCHLIMM.—In sad but loving remembrance of my husband and our father, Capt. AUGUST SCHLIMM, who died one year ago—Friday, February 7th, 1912.

O, our home is sad and lonely,
Sad hearts gather here today;
One we loved has died and left us
For the dark and silent tomb.

BY HIS SONS.

One year has passed, my heart still sore,
As time flies on I miss him more;
He sleeps, I leave him in peace to rest.
The parting was painful, but God knoweth best.

BY HIS WIFE.

SCHMOLL.—In sad but loving remembrance of EDWARD SCHMOLL, who died three years ago—February 8, 1910.

Although he is absent from me,
And three weary years have fled;
Since I stood by his bed in sorrow
And knew my son was dead.

I love him today, yes, I love him,
Just as well as I did years ago;
And I miss him sadly I miss him,
And my heart is still aching so.

But one thought comes to me in my sadness,
He is free from all sickness and pain;
And I trust when my journey is ended
I will meet my loved one again.

What happy days I once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory's still;
But they leave an aching void
This world can never fill.

What a many happy day
Have I spent with my children all alone,
Till God broke the column and called one of them home.

BY HIS MOTHER.

SMITH.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, JANE SMITH, who departed this life three years ago—February 10, 1910.

How often, as through this dark valley I roam,
I think of the dear ones now gathered safe home;
That home where the circle ne'er broken shall be,
Where storm clouds of sorrow we never shall see.

BY HER SON AND DAUGHTER, CHARLES AND JENNIE.

So shall it be in that bright morning,
When the soul waketh and life's shadows flee;
Oh, in that hour fairer than the daylight dawning
Shall rise the glorious thought—I am with thee.

BY HER DAUGHTER, MRS. GLAESER.

TALBOTT.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and our loving papa, JOHN V. TALBOTT, who departed this life one year ago—February 11, 1912.

What grief and pain he suffered here
None of us will ever know;
For Jesus took him home with Him,
Where no tears will ever flow.

I will cling to the hope to meet him again
When my task here on earth is o'er;
For he is not gone forever, I know,
Just a little while before.

BY HIS LONELY WIFE AND CHILDREN.

ZIZWAREK.—In loving remembrance of our darling daughter, RUTH A., who died February 9, 1906.

Gone, but not forgotten.
