IN MEMORIAM.

ANDERSON.—A tribute of love to our dear sister, LOUISE V., who departed this life one year ago—March 24, 1912.

May she rest in peace.

Dear sister, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away,
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you each day.

Farewell, dear Louise,
May you be as peaceful as your love,
And when God shall call us homeward
May we meet in Heaven above.
1 BY HER SISTER, MARY BEVERLY.

BATHAM.—In remembrance of my father, EUGENE H. BATHAM, who died two years ago.

Gone, but not forgotten.

Thou hast gone to the grave and I will not thee deplore,
Though sorrow and trouble encircles your tomb;
For the Saviour has gone—its portals before thee,
And his love shall be your lamplight through the gloom.
BY HIS DAUGHTER, ELLA M. HARMAN
(NEE BATHAM). 1

CLEARY.—In memory of my dear son-in-law, J. ROBERT CLEARY, who departed this life two years ago (March 18, 1911) at Panama.

Gone in the best of his days,
Blighted in manhood's bloom,
Gone from the hearts that loved him,
To sleep in the silent tomb.
How often we shed tears
Till there breaks the last.
And brightest Easter morn.
BY HIS WIFE.

CRANDELL.—FLORENCE CRANDELL, who died four years ago today—March 23d, 1913.

Four years since last we saw thy face
Or held thee close in fond embrace,
Or looked into thy sad, sweet eyes
An angel came and took our rose,
Perhaps to keep always, who knows,
Blooming in Paradise.
MOTHER.

We reach out empty hands—
We never can forget;
Oh, heart, at last that understands,
Do you remember yet?
1 SISTERS AND BROTHER.

EMRICH.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, CATHERINE EMRICH, who died two years ago—March 21, 1911.

Mother, we who linger only know
How much was lost two years ago,
But why repine—a few more years,
A few more broken sighs and tears.
You ask us why we weep,
Why we whisper your sweet name;
Only those who have lost a mother
Know the anguish of our pain.
1 BY HER DAUGHTER, TINA.

ERMOLD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear brother, FREDERICK A. ERMOLD, who departed this life five years ago today—March 22d.

On that happy Easter morning
All the graves their dead restore—
Father, mother, husband and brother
Meet once more.
BY HIS LOVING SISTER, KATIE E. HILTON. 1

FORD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my mother, IREAN R., who departed this life eight years ago—March 22.

Eight years have passed, my heart is sore;
As time flies on I miss her more;
She sleeps—I leave her in peace to rest;
The parting was painful, but God knoweth best.
1 BY HER DAUGHTER, FLORENCE.

GRIFFIN.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, ANNIE L., who departed this life two years ago today—March 23d, 1911.

She has crossed the shining river
And has gained that radiant shore,
Where no heart with grief can quiver
And all parting scenes are o'er.

She has met the dear departed
And has heard the welcome home
By the true and tender-hearted
That before her hence have flown.
What grief and pain she suffered here
None of us will ever know;
For Jesus took her home with Him,
Where no more will ever flow.
1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

HADDAWAY-STARR.—In loving remembrance of our dear father, JOHN S. HADDAWAY, who died three years ago (March 21) and mother, who died two years and seven months, and our sister, EMMA V. STARR, who died ten years and two months ago.

Father, dear, you were called away so suddenly,
Without time to say good-by,
But we know your thoughts were with us
When you were asked to die.

Rest, dear mother, thy work is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more;
A faithful mother, both true and kind,
A truer mother you could not find.

Oh, the sorrow of the morning,
As we stood with aching hearts,
Seeing our sister, we loved so dearly,
Pierced by death's most cruel dart.

We shall find our treasures, one by one,
Lost links from love's broken chain,
And the tender touch of their hands
We will clasp them over again.
1 BY SONS AND DAUGHTERS.

HOFSTETTER - LAUTENKLOS.— In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, JOHN H. HOFSTETTER, who died March 23, 1905, and my dear mother, BARBARA LAUTENKLOS, who died March 23, 1902.

Jesus our Comforter.
Though cast down we're not forsaken.
Though afflicted, not alone;
Thou didst give and Thou hast taken
And entered them in Paradise.
Blessed Lord, Thy will be done.
HIS WIFE—HER DAUGHTER.

LEWIS.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, FREDERICK LEWIS, who was killed in Camden yard thirteen years ago—March 21, 1900.

On the resurrection morning
Soul and body meet again;
No more sorrow, no more weeping,
No more pain.

For a space the tired body
Lies with feet toward the lawn,
Till there breaks the last
And brightest Easter morn.
BY HIS WIFE.

LOHMANN.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, HENRY C. LOHMANN, who departed this life thirteen years ago—March 18, 1900.

No more his cheerful smiles we see,
No more his welcome voice I hear,
That always in my troubled hours
Would make my heart rejoice.
BY HIS WIFE, KATE LOHMANN.

Though this world is full of trouble,
Full of sorrow and of pain,
Yet to us it would be Heaven, dear father,
If you were only here again.
1 BY HIS SON AND DAUGHTER-IN-LAW.

LUCK.—In memory of my mother, ELIZABETH LUCK.

Why should we call it death,
This calm, sweet sleep of peace,
When the tired head, in slumber rests
And all of life's sorrows cease?

This beautiful passing away
From the shadow and gloom of night
Into the glory of paradise,
Gleaming with wondrous light.

'Tis but drifting away from grief,
Laying all burdens down,
Setting aside the cross of care—
To wear evermore His crown.

Sleep on, sleep on, and rest,
At the close of earth's weary day;
Ah, call it not death, but life,
This beautiful passing away.

"Asleep in Jesus, far from thee,
Thy kindred and thy grave may be;
But time is still a blessed sleep
From which none ever wakes to weep."

Often we seem to be cheerful—
We smile and they think we are gay;
But, alas, we are gloomy and tearful,
Because of the one far away.

There is a grief that cannot find comfort
And wounds that cannot be healed,
And the sorrow too deep in the human heart
That cannot be revealed.
BY HER DAUGHTER.

MOFFETT.—In loving remembrance of my dear grandmother, SARAH E. MOFFETT, who departed this life one year ago—March 21, 1912.

Gone, but not forgotten.

I will cling to the hope to meet again
When my task here on earth is o'er;
For she is not gone forever, I know,
Just a little while before.

Her busy hands are folded,
Her toils on earth are done,
Her troubles are all ended,
Her heavenly crown is won.
1 BY HER GRANDSON, THOMAS.

IN MEMORIAM.

McJILTON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our darling, NORA EVELYN McJILTON, who passed from this earth one year ago—March 21, 1912.

Gone, but not forgotten.

We miss you all through the weary hours,
We miss you as others do sunshine and flowers;
Daytime or night time wherever ye go,
Dear little hands, we miss them so.

The night dew that falls, in silence it creeps,
Shall cover with verdure the spot where you sleep,
And the tears that we shed, though in secret
they flow,
Shall long keep your memory wherever we go.
BY HER PARENTS.

Dear sister, thou art at rest,
And shall forever be;
You could not stay on earth with me,
But I can come to thee.
1 BY HER LITTLE BROTHER, TRESSEL.

MOFFETT.—In memory of Mrs. SARAH MOFFETT, who died March 21, 1912.

Yes, I miss her, oh, how I miss her,
When I see her vacant chair,
And how sad the home is without her,
For there is no mother there.

Death has robbed me of my mother,
Whom I loved and cherished dear;
It was mother, yes, dear, mother—
Can I help but shed a tear?
1 BY HER DAUGHTER, SUSAN MERRICK.

NOLAN.—In sad and loving remembrance of our dear and only brother, who departed this life two years ago—March 24, 1911.

Why should we call it death,
This calm, sweet sleep of peace,
When the tired head in slumber rests
And all life's sorrows cease.
BY HIS SISTERS, IDA, MARTHA, MAMIE, ANNIE. 1

ROHE-BIENSACH.—In remembrance of my beloved daughters and sisters, MARY A. ROHE and MARGARETE BIENSACH, who departed this life March 23d, 1908, and April 4th, 1910.

Their dear heads are pillowed upon the cold
sod,
Their young hearts in silence reposes;
They dwell in the beautiful garden of God,
An angel amid Heaven's roses.

No words will ever be so sweet
As the words they used to sing,
Showers of blessings we bring.
1 BY THEIR MOTHER AND SISTERS.

SHIPLEY.—In loving remembrance of my dear daughter, JESSIE, who died three years ago today—March 23, 1910.

Darling that I loved, remembered still by me,
How often at midnight hour I think of thee,
And when at morn I rise my first thoughts
I awake in sad remembrance—my darling is dead.

I have only the face of my darling
To hang on the picture wall;
'Tis the picture of dear Jessie,
Who loved me best of all.
1 DEVOTED MOTHER.

SMITH.—In sad but loving remembrance of our beloved mother, SARAH RACHAL SMITH, who departed this life nineteen years ago—March 24, 1894.

Nineteen years have passed and gone
Since our mother left our side;
We are all left here alone
Since she is dead and gone.

How much we miss her kind advice
In this great struggle of life;
How often we find times now
Than when she was here in life.

Loved in life; remembered in death.
BY HER SONS, EDWARD AND FRANK, AND DAUGHTER, MARGARET. 1

STEWART.—In memory of my beloved husband, WILBUR W. STEWART, who died seventeen years ago today—March 23, 1896.

How often, as through this dark valley I roam,
I think of the dear one now gathered safe home:
That home where the circle ne'er broken
shall be,
And storm clouds of sorrow we never shall see.
BY HIS WIFE.

TYSON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, THOMAS J. TYSON, who died two years ago (March 20th, 1911), also of our beloved son and brother, HARRY E. TYSON, who died January 6th, 1912.

The grief is great at parting
With those whom we all loved,
And with saddened hearts we bow
To the will of God above.

They have crossed the shining river
And have gained that radiant shore,
Where only joy and peace quiver
And all parting scenes are o'er.

They shall sleep, but not forever,
In the lone and silent grave;
Blessed be the Lord that gave,
Blessed be the Lord that take.

In the bright eternal city
Death can never, never come,
In His own good time he'll call them
From their rest to their home, sweet home.
1 BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

UHLHORN.—In sad and loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, JOSEPH A. UHLHORN, who departed this life three years ago today—March 23d, 1910.

Anniversary mass for the repose of his soul at St. Peter's Catholic Church.

"Gone, but not forgotten." 1

WICH.—In loving remembrance of our dear father, JOHN N. WICH, who died suddenly seven years ago—March 22, 1906.

Gone, but not forgotten.

Father, dear, you were called away so sudden
Without time to say good-by;
But we know your thoughts were with us
When you were asked to die.
1 BY HIS DAUGHTERS, MARY AND ALICE.

YOUNG.—In loving remembrance of our dear son, MICHAEL J., who departed this life one year ago—22d March, 1912.

In a casket, white as snowflakes,
Nestling all among the flowers,
Lies our darling blue-eyed son,
Who such a little while was ours.

A tear within a mother's eye,
A father's breaking heart,
Can only heaven tell
How hard it is to part.
1 BY HIS MAMMA AND PAPA.

ZEHNER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my beloved wife, MARGARET A. ZEHNER, who died three years ago today—March 23d, 1910.

Just three years ago today we laid you to rest
And folded your cold hands upon your breast;
In silence we mourn, our loss none you bore,
Until God called you home to suffer no more.
Gone, but not forgotten.
1 BY HER HUSBAND.

As the evening sun is setting,
Oftimes I sit alone,
In my heart there comes a feeling
If my dear mother could only come home.
Gone, but not forgotten.
1 BY HER SON AND GRANDSON.
