DEATH REGISTER.

BAILEY.—On March 27th, at 12:15 A. M., after a short illness, which she bore with Christian patience, SOPHIA, beloved wife of Charles G. Bailey, and daughter of the late Mary Heath, and niece of the late Joseph H. Thomas.

Leader of faithful souls and guide
Of all that travel to the sky,
Come and with Me, even Me, abide,
Who would on Thee alone rely.
On Thee, my departing spirit stay,
While held in life's uneven way.

Stranger and pilgrim here below,
This earth I know is not my place,
But hasten through the vale of woe,
And restless to behold Thy face.
Swift to my heavenly country move
My everlasting home above,
Patient the appointed race to run,
This weary world I cast behind,
From strength to strength I strongly travel on
The New Jerusalem to find.
My labor this my only aim
To find the New Jerusalem.

Funeral from her late residence, 1421 Jefferson street, this Sunday, March 30th, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends respectfully invited. Interment in Asbury Evergreen Cemetery. 1

One less at home,
The charmed circle broken, a dear face
Missed day by day from its usual place,
But cleansed saved, perfected by grace.
One more in heaven,
One less on earth,
Its pain, its sorrow and its toil to share;
One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear;
One more the crown of the blest to wear
At home in Heaven.

Due notice of funeral will be given. *2

IN MEMORIAM.

BENHOFF.—In loving remembrance of my dear wife and mother, SUSANNA, who departed this life eight years ago—March 29th.

She has crossed the shining river
And has gained that radiant shore,
Where no heart with grief can quiver
And all parting scenes are o'er.
She has met the dear departed
And has heard the welcome home
By the true and tender-hearted
That before her hence have flown.
What grief and pain she suffered here
None of us will ever know,
But Jesus took her home with Him,
Where no tears will ever flow.
1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

BOWERS.—JOHANNER, in sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, who departed this life two years ago—March 27.

In the graveyard sweetly sleeping,
In her narrow casket bed,
Lies our kind and noble mother,
With the calm and peaceful dead.
Oftimes our footsteps wander,
Flowers to strew with tender care,
On the graves of our dear loved ones,
Who are sweetly resting there.
1 BY HER DAUGHTERS AND SONS.

BREMMER.—In sad but loving remembrance of our beloved children—WILBUR E., died February 16, 1909; IRENE M., died March 29, 1909; LILLIAN M., died January 29, 1912.

Gone, but not forgotten.
Do we forget when winter snows lie deep
Above the beds where our beloved sleep,
And we no longer wildly weep—
Do we forget?
Because when comes the holy Christmastide,
And love and joy are scattered far and wide,
We check our sighs and strive our tears to hide—
Do we forget?
Because across the widening gulf of years
There comes no loving word to quell our fears,
No watchful hand to brush away our tears—
Do we forget?
Do we forget? Nay, in each heart there lies
A secret place, where, hid from mortal eyes,
Dwells, strong and true, a love that never dies,
We can forget?
1 PAPA, MAMMA AND ELSIE.

CAMPBELL.—In memory of my beloved son, JOSEPH W. CAMPBELL, who died March 28, 1912.

Dearest son, how I miss you
Since from earth you passed away,
And my heart is aching sorely
As I think of you each day.
No more his cheerful smile we see,
No more his welcome voice,
That always in our troubled hours
Would make our hearts rejoice.
BY HIS MOTHER, MARGARET CAMPBELL. 1

EULER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son and our dear brother, ERNIE J. EULER, who departed this life three years ago—March 26th, 1910.

Dear Ernie, how I miss you
Since from earth you passed away,
And my heart is sad
As I think of you each day.
Oh, when I speak of you
My eyes are filled with tears.
The depths of our sorrow we cannot tell
At the loss of our dear brother we loved so well,
And while he sleeps in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
BY HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

GARDNER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my darling daughter, IRENE, who departed this life two years ago—March 30, 1911.

Her dear little head is pillowed upon the cold sod,
Her young heart in silence reposes,
She dwells in the beautiful garden of God,
An angel amid Heaven's roses.
Dear sister, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away,
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you each day.
BY HER LOVING WIFE AND BROTHER, CHARLES. 1

IN MEMORIAM.

GARDNER.—In loving remembrance of my dear baby, IRINE, who died two years ago—March 30, 1911.

The month of March once more is here,
To me the saddest of the year,
Because it took from me away
My darling baby two years ago today.
She will never be forgotten;
Never will my memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the spot where she is laid.
1 BY HER FATHER.

GROSS.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and father, FREDERICK GROSS, who departed this life six years ago—March 31, 1907.

Gone, but not forgotten.
'Twas morning when the Master's voice
Called softly "Come and rest;"
He smiled and sweetly answered
"Yes, my mind on Thee is stayed,
And through the valley of death I'll walk,
With Thee I am not afraid."
2 BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

GUTZKE.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son, CHARLIE, who departed this life ten years ago—March 26, 1903.

Charles, we are sad and lonely
Since you have gone from us,
And it seems there is no pleasure
In this dreary world for us.
Gone, but not forgotten.
1 BY HIS PARENTS AND SISTER.

HAGNER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, father and son, ADAM A., who departed this life one year ago—March 29, 1912.

One sad and lonely year has passed
Since my dear husband breathed his last;
O how I miss the voice I loved so well,
Only a wife's heart can tell.
Farewell, dear father, is an awful word,
Which has a sad sound for me;
But, O, it is the will of God
Our dearest ones must part.
BY HIS WIFE AND SON.

It has been one sad and dreary year
Since we were forced to part,
But the memory of my dear son
Is still fresh within my heart.
No words will ever seem so sweet
As the words he used to say;
No hour will ever be so sad
As the hour he passed away.
1 BY MOTHER AND GRANDMA.

HOFFERBERT.—In sad remembrance of my dear husband and father, PHILIPP HOFFERBERT, who departed this life twenty-five years ago today—March 30, 1888.

Twenty-five years ago today, dear husband,
You left me from our home,
Where we lived so long together;
But now I am all alone.
Farewell, dear husband and father, sad farewell;
The loss to us no tongue can tell;
Your stay on earth was short, but sweet;
We hope in Heaven to meet again.
1 FROM HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

JACKSON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, CAROLINE V., who departed this life six years ago—March 24, 1907.

Our dear mother dwells in that City,
Whom we placed beneath the sod;
And our hearts are still aching,
But we leave it all with God.
Through her suffering she breathed not a murmur,
For the Comforter stood by her side
And said, "Fear not, I am with thee;
With Me thou shalt abide."
There's no one like mother to cheer us today;
Her love and kindness can ne'er fade away.
In winter, in summer, in sunshine or rain
Our dear mother's love was always the same.
1 BY HER LOVING CHILDREN.

KORN.—In loving remembrance of my dear father, CHARLES A., who departed this life thirteen years ago—April 1st, 1900.
1 BY HIS DAUGHTER, LOUISE.

KUSTER.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, MARY J. KUSTER, who died March 29 (six years ago), 1907.

Why should we call it death.
This calm, sweet sleep of peace,
When the tired head, in slumber rests
From all of life's sorrows cease?
This beautiful passing away
From the shadow and gloom of night
Into the glory of Paradise,
Gleaming with countless light.
'Tis but drifting away from grief,
Laying all burdens down,
Setting aside the cross of care—
To wear evermore His crown.
Sleep on, sleep on, and rest,
At the close of earth's weary day;
Ah, call it not death, but life,
This beautiful passing away.
"Asleep in Jesus, far from thee,
Thy kindred and thy grave may be;
But time is still a blessed one
From which none ever wakes to weep."
1 BY HER HUSBAND.

MICHEL.—In sad but loving remembrance of my husband, JOHN MICHEL, who departed this life three years ago—March 28th.

I will cling to the hope to meet again
When my task here on earth is o'er;
For he is not gone forever, I know,
Just a little while before.
1 BY HIS WIFE.

MONTGOMERY.—In loving remembrance of my beloved mother, KATE CAULFIELD MONTGOMERY, who died the 29th of March, 1893.

Loved in life; in death remembered.
Sleep on, dear mother, and take your rest,
God took you home; He thought it best;
In silence you suffered, in patience you bore;
Until God called you home to suffer no more.
1 HER LOVING DAUGHTER, LENORA.

MURDOCK.—In remembrance of LILLIAN, the only child of William and Blanche Murdock, who died March 29th, 1897.

I miss you all through the weary hours,
I miss you as others do sunshine and flowers;
Day time or night time, wherever I go,
And the tears that I shed, though in secret they flow,
Shall long keep your memory wherever I go.
1 BY HER MOTHER AND FATHER.

ORTMAN.—In loving but sad remembrance of my dear wife and mother, IDA ORTMAN, who departed this life three years ago—March 29, 1910.

My wife is sleeping, free from all pain,
Awake her not, Sweet Spirit, to suffer again;
She slumbers so soundly, oh, let her sleep on;
Her sufferings are over, her troubles all gone.
Oh, think how she suffered and groaned with pain
In the long night hours, so I soothed her in vain,
Till God, in His mercy, sent down from above
An angel that whispered a message of love.
1 BY HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

POPP.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband and father, FREDERICK POPP, who departed this life six years ago—March 29, 1907.

Dearest father, you are gone, but not forgotten,
Nor never will thy memory fade,
For as long as life and memory lasts
We will remember thee.
1 BY HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

SMALLWOOD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear children, ANNIE SMALLWOOD, who died twenty-three years ago; OWINGS SMALLWOOD, who died nine years ago.

Have I forgotten? No; in my heart there is a secret place where, hid from mortal eyes, dwells strong and true a love that never dies nor can forget.
1 MOTHER.

STEPHENSON.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, THELMA O. STEPHENSON, who departed this life eight years ago—March 30th, 1905.

Like unto a rose was she who has gone,
Only a bud, not yet half grown;
Death's shears clipped her from life's vine—
Not our will, oh, Lord, but Thine.
So sleep, dear one, in thy grave so lone,
For thy place is assured at the Saviour's throne
Till we worship the King of Infinite Grace,
Together again in that glorious place.
Kind angels, watch the sleeping dust
When Jesus comes to raise the just;
Then she will arise in sweet surprise,
And in her Saviour's image rise.
1 BY HER PARENTS.

STREVIG.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and our father, HARVEY S. STREVIG, who was killed seven years ago—March 31st, 1906.

I often sit and think of you
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
1 BY HIS WIFE, ADA M. STREVIG.
