☞The Orphans' Court of this county will sit on Monday, 19th instant.

"TO THE WHIGS OF DORCHESTER COUNTY."

"The friends of Harrison and Tyler, are requested to meet in their respective election districts, at the usual places of holding elections therein, on Thursday next, the 8th inst. and select five Delegates to meet at Buck Town, on Saturday next, the 10th inst., for the purpose of nominating four candidates to represent Dorchester county in the General Assembly of Maryland.

It is very desirable that this notice should receive general attention. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance. The present contest is one of great importance, and now is the time when every man is required to do his duty." MANY WHIGS.

Monday, Sept. 5th, 1836.

The above notice was stuck up in different parts of the county,—whether meetings took place according to its tenor, we know not—we are of the opinion they did not. The notice was very short. Did the delegates, if chosen, assemble at Bucktown, as hertofore? Nous verrons. By the by, we understood there was a consultation in this place, on Wednesday last, which resulted in the annunciation of the ticket, which appeared in the Chronicle of Saturday last. Some of the candidates heretofore named, it seems, have quit the turf, par fas aut nefas. Is there any difficulty in the camp of our adversaries?—From what we can discover, there is some murmuring. But we suppose the holy welfare of their party, may induce the disappointed to keep quiet, or they may be contented with magnificent promises for future countenance. But with what little ceremony is the great mass of the people treated, in making arrangements, as to the persons, to be candidates &c. &c. It is, however, with the sovereign people to decide for themselves, as to who shall be their rulers. With them, is the ultimate power, if they think proper to exert it.

THE ELECTION IN THIS COUNTY.

As we prdicted, we have reduced the majority of our adversaries, immensely, at the late election in this county. It is said they had out their strongest men, and notwithstanding at the last senatorial election in 1831, their candidates were about 270 ahead, now they are but about 136 ahead, being a clear gain upon them of at least 130. This result is to be attributed to the dissatisfaction of the people, at the miserable mismanagement of the affairs of the state, and their repugnance to Harrison and Tyler. It is true, that by having the official corps exerting every nerve to retain their places, as if their very existence depended upon their efforts, they have been enabled, to elect by a greatly diminished majority, their candidates. But the tide which has commenced running in our favor, will swell our numbers. We must ultimately prevail. The party despotism, which has so long spell bound the people, is fast dissolving under the influence of reason, and we trust ere long, this county will be regenerated, and disenthraled. It only remains for the free and independent voters which have never yet, bowed the cringing knee to the whig Baal, to be true to themselves, and their country, and our political salvation will at last be effected. Let our motto be union and concert, and undying hostility to public profligacy and extravagance, and if nothing else, the approbation of our conscience will be a proud consolation.

It is reported in our last mail papers, that Mr. Rothscild the great London banker died on the 1st of August last.

A young man named Neck, has recently been married to a Miss Heels. They are now therefore, literally tied neck and heels together.

THE LATE ELECTION IN THIS STATE.

According to Baltimore papers and private letters from Harrison as well as Van Buren men, brought over on Thursday morning last, by the Cambridge packet, it was stated that there were 23 Van Buren Electors chosen & nine Harrison, leaving 4 counties to be heard from. This information was given in the Baltimore American (a neutral paper,) as well as the Baltimore Republican. Anxious to put the public in possession of the earliest intelligence, we struck off several extra's, containing the Baltimore news, by the packet.—From later accounts, (although not official, but probably more correct,) it seems there are 21 Harrison electors, and 19 Van Buren, giving our opponents the Senate, by a small majority. At the last-Senatorial election, we had but 12 Jackson electors, and the Anti Jackson party 28, we have therefore gained 7 in the electoral college. The late election also furnishes another fact that the 19 Van Buren electors, get upwards of 2000 votes, more than the 21 Harrison, cleary showing that Mr. Van Buren upon the general ticket system will get the state, at the Presidential election in November. Our opponents are so well satitfied of this, that they have refused bets, to the contrary. A great revolution is going on in the state in our favor—with energy, vigor and perseverance, we shall still beat them. Twelve counties will enable us, to control the vote in the selection of the Executive. We now have a vote equal to 9 1-2 counties, consequently we want but 2 1-2 counties more, to give us the state. In some of the counties the vote against us, is very meagre, and if the change in public sentiment goes on in the same ratio, we may confidently calculate upon the ascendancy in Maryland. Our friends may therefore congratulate themselves, upon our position, being decidedly more favorable than it was before. Our adversaries cannot rejoice, because they have gained nothing, but lost immensely in popular strength, merely retaining their power by the skin of their teeth. They must confess that our getting 19 of the electors, with between 2 and 3000 votes, more than their 21, is running them a very close race indeed. And they clearly see that [illegible] drawing nigh. Our motto, (the watchword of Republicans) should be, unanimity, vigilance, energy and perseverance—under this flag, we shall ultimately regenerate the state, and carry this county to boot. We refraim from publishing a full statement of the polls, until we get the official returns.

The Difference.—The Kennebec Journal says Gen. Jackson was censured by Congress, as well as Gen. Harrison. True, but with this important difference—that old Hickory was censured for pushing the enemy too hard—the "petticoat hero," for running away from them!—Age.

Another Blackguard.—Here is another man, says the Augusta Age, for the Journal to call blackguard,—the Attorney General of the United States. The way MR. BUTLER puts it to the honorable editor is a caution. Hear him:—

"NO MAN OF CHARACTER (mark that) will venture to assert that he (Mr. Van Buren) ever expressed a doubt as to the justice of the war, or expediency of engaging in it at the time it was declared."

Right Smart.—A widower of three wives, from the Eastern Shore, lately took it into his head to address a young lady of this city. The fair one demurred, on account of his having buried so many "better halves."

"Oh, Miss," said the gentleman, "don't be at all alarmed on that score; my two first wives made pretty quick work of it, to be sure, but my last lived right smart—she held on full three years."

Notice.

THE subscriber has been disqualified for a considerable time by disease or mental weakness from attending to any kind of business; but having considerably recovered, intends to prosecute the settlement of his business with all the vigor his circumstances may allow. Having been treated in a shameless manner by many whose duty it was to have acted differently, he will hereafter publish specifically any such treatment derived from whatever source it may be, and will name the persons engaged in it, whether officers of justice or private individuals. The reports that I am about to leave my interest when I even travel from one neighborhood to another, are only kept up for the lowest and most selfish purposes, and to give an idea that I am broken, which is very far from being the fact. Although I have the influence of all those who have taken and divided my property between them without law or justice, to contend against, I still will use all the energy my circumstances admit of to see myself righted, and will expose any neglect or injustice attempted by officers of justice or any any other persons.

P. S. I intend to make a visit to the neighborhoods of Punch Hall and Bridgeville on business of importance to me, but will return immediately. L. T. F.
