We are authorized to announce

William Geoghegan, of Jno.

AS a candidate to represent Dorchester County in the next General Assembly of Maryland.

We are authorized to announce

Phillip H. Graham,

As a candidate to represent Dorchester county in the next General Assembly of Maryland.

July 30th 1838

☞ The Orphans' Court of this county, will sit on Monday the 6th of August.

LOUISIANA.—The whigs are claiming a great victory in this State, because they have carried the election. It is well known that Louisiana is a whig State. At the election before the last, the whig candidate for Governor rec'd. a majority of some 15 or 1600 votes. At the recent election, the whig candidate beat but about 6 or 700, yet the whigs make a great fuss about a great victory &c. What nonsense.

The Chronicle is anxious to know whether Messrs. Breerwood, Rowins and Geoghegan, entirely approved the course of the 19 Van Buren electors. How happens it that the Chronicle, has yet to learn the views of those gentlemen upon that by gone question? Dont be so fast, gentlemen, in propounding questions. Wait, until your Bucktown Convention meets, and brings out your own candidates. When you have done this, either in August, September, or August again, then let the candidates for the votes of the sovereign people, compare notes, and hold themselves ready to answer all questions, yes or no, categorically, satisfactorily and plumply.

The Chronicle begins to teem with communications, for the purpose of sustaining and justifying, the whig cause. It wont answer. The good people of Dorset, are not to be satisfied by the efforts of all the pens, the whigs can muster, that misrule and mismanagement have not marked their course, since they have had the reins in this State.

The case of Josiah Bayly Esq., connsel for William Stewart charged with the murder of his father Benjamin Stewart, has excited a good deal of interest, on account of the momentous principles involved. Mr. Bayly, finding that a strong excitement existed in regard to his client, and that prejudice might prevent a fair trial, when the case was first called up, urged a postponement, which was granted. He then published a brief address to the citizens of Baltimore, for the purpose, if possible, of allaying the excitement against Wm. Stewart. For this cause an order was issued by Baltimore City Court, before whom the case was to be tried, requiring Mr Bayly to shew cause why an attachment of contempt should not issue against him. Mr. Bayly appeared at the appointed time, and the matter was argued pro and con last week, when he was discharged. But we understand the Court maintaines that the publication in question was a contempt. If this position insisted upon by the Court be correct, which we cannot for a moment admit, it is high time that some legislative or constitutional proceedings take place, defining the powers of the Courts upon the subject of contempts.—The authority claimed is a highly important one, and if it is rigidly exercised what becomes of the freedom of speech and the freedom of the press and the right of every citizen to have a trial when accused, by his peers, which privileges are solemnly guaranteed by the organic law of our land? If the discretion of the Courts, however wise and prudent, is to be the measure of their rights and privileges, then into their holy keeping are deposited some of the dearest immunities purchased by the blood of our revolutionary ancestors. The prerogative claimed for the Courts is a towering one, and if it rests with the breast of the Judges to define contempt, constructive and otherwise, where is the use of a written constitution? The genius of our governments is adversary to any such power, and we cannot believe that it legitimately belongs to the Judicial department of our State government.

We have charged, in regard to the views of Mr. Steel upon the subject of Reform, that he was opposed to the governor being elected by the people—opposed to the Senate being elected by the people—opposed to giving an increase of delegation to the larger counties—opposed to giving the city of Baltimore an increase of delegation—opposed to placing Clerks and Registers in office, for a term of years.—We made these alegations in good faith. Mr. Steele does not deny that he was thus opposed to the specified measures of Reform, nor does the Chronicle, which may, under existing circumstances be considered Mr. Steele's official, pretend to deny our statements. Some anonymous correspondent in that paper, will still insist that he was not opposed to the above hamed measures of Reform. We cannot recognize the right of any such nameless author, to call for the proof. We repeat, that whenever Mr. Steele, or any authorised agent over a responsible name, joins issue with us, in regard to our charges, we shall then hold ourselves ready to furnish the necessary evidence, documentary or otherwise.

The writer in question, who styles himself "Whig," evidently from the fact of his mingling poetry with prose, upon the grave subject of politics, is merely writing for his own amusement, or in pursuit of fame.—And from the manner in which he flippantly denies and contradicts, does not comprehend, the length breadth and depth, of the subject he undertakes to discuss. Will he pretend to assert, that he has full knowledge of the views of Mr. Steele, upon the questions presented? If he has not, by what right or authority can he assume to contradict us? He has not yet told us what he mean by a gradual reform. He had better dispose of one subject satisfactorily before he commences another.

We publish to day the address of the Van Buren members of Congress to the people of the United States. It is a powerful document—presenting a fair, candid strait forward and satisfactory exposition of their principles which are the land marks of the present administration. It is a true republican creed, which they profess. It is promulged, with directness and without equivocation. It is written in a lucid, perspicuous and concise manner, and cannot fail to arrest the attention of every lover of his Country. Every patriot should read it, and ponder over its truths. Its doctrines are sound, and its explanations are beyond controversy. We commend it to the careful perusal of our readers.

SPECIE PAYMENTS.—At a Convention of the Banks of several of the States, recently held in Philadelphia, a resolution w. s passed, fixing upon the 13th of August next, for a general resumption of specie payments. Mr. Biddle must yield at last, or it seems, Gov. Ritner, may dissolve his concern by proclamation.

INTERESTING QUESTION.—The case of Josiah Bayly, jr. Esq., Counsellor at Law, upon whom an order has been served to show cause why an attachment for a contempt of Baltimore City Court should not issue against him, is put down for argument to morrow morning. The case was to have been acted upon on Saturday last, but owing to numerous cases before the Court, was put off until to-morrow. REVERDY JOHNSON, Esq. appears on behalf of Mr. Bayly; and we have no doubt, that on a subject involving questions so deeply interesting to the community, and of so much importance to the public press, the intellectual strength and legal acquirments of this distinguished counsellor will be finely developed.—Balt. Sun.

A Novel Way of Celebrating the Fourth.—The New Orleans papers of the last dates contain an account of the re capture of the schr. Lone, which had been taken by the Frenchmen, when attempting to force the blockade now in existence at Metamoras. It appears that she passed into port quite easily, but was taken on her return, and placed under the control of a prize crew, consisting of three French officers and six men. The crew of the schooner was divided, leaving but three on board. In this condition they bore away for the admirals station at Vera Cruz. The passage was as prosperous as could be desired, the three Yankees taking matters very 'thinkingly' until the morning of the Fourth of July ushered in. Then all their national feelings were aroused—they thought of the day—what had been done on that day and what might be done—and making a "declaration of independence," they determined by a bold stroke to achieve it. Five out of the nine of the prize crew were below—these they cautiously locked down. The man at the helm was then frightened into silent submissions, and the three others on deck were lit on and tied. The confinement of those below was an easy task. The tri-colored flag was then hauled down, and the stars and stripes floated in their accustomed place. All this was the work of but a few minutes—and the three yankees had the satisfaction of re capturing their vessel, and saving a cargo valued at $25,000, 15,000 of which was in specie. Some difficulty occurred on her arrival at New Orleans, between the French officer and the Custom House officer, but was thought it would all blow over.—Balt. Sun.

A NEW AND IMPROVED

PORTABLE HORSE POWER AND

THRESHING MACHINE.

Having obtained Letters Patent, bearing date Feb. 6th, 1838, for an improvement on a PORTABLE HORSE POWER, for propelling Threshing Machines, Clover Mills, Small Grist Mills, &c.

The subscriber takes this method of informing the public, that he will be prepared to supply all orders at the shortest notice. The superiority over other machines, consists in ease of operation, durability and simplicity Being constructed principally of iron, both Horse Power and Thresher, the bearings being surrounded with oil cups, which retain oil sufficient for one day, without replenishing, supercedes the necessity of hourly application of oil, which renders other machinery so liable to injury from neglect, and hazardous to those who may superintend them, consequently produced by applying oil during the operation or from a neglect of its mechanical construction. The vertical and horizontal bearings are supplied with oil by nutrition and capillary which is a great saving of oil, and prevents them from becoming dry and injuring the machine, which is so detrimental to other machinery. The Horse Power occupies the space of 3 feet by 3 feet 6 inches, which contains the moving machinery. This machine will thresh all kinds of grain, it also answers the purpose of cleaning clover seed, and with my late improvement is far superior to my former machines.

This machine can be transported in a common cart or wagon, without any inconvenience. A further description is deemed unnecessary, as those who would wish to purchase will call and examine for themselves. The subscriber has constantly on hand the above described machines, at his manufactory, north of Brandywine village, Del., where orders will be received and the machines sent to any part of the neighboring States. Hundreds of certificates can be produced that it is superior to any thing of the kind they have yet seen.

References to the superiority of this machine may be had in the surrounding counties of Philadelphia, Montgomery, Delaware, Chester and Lancaster, Pa.; New Castle, Kent and Sussex, Del.; Cecil, Kent and Harford, Md; Salem, Cumberland, Gloucester, and Burlington, N. J., where these machines have been justly celebrated and given entire satisfaction. JESSE URMY.
