5. Resolved, as the opinion of this meeting that it is the duty of the assembly, in settling the great interests of the Eastern Shore in regard to a work proposed for its peculiar benefit, to consult the general views and interests of its inhabitants and property holders, and not precipitately to adopt any slight or partial survey of the country, or any suggestions arising therefrom; and that it is the right of the people to have a fair and perfect reconnoisance and ascertainment of the relative distances of different routes before any final decision be made upon the question of location.

6. Therefore Resolved, by this meeting that the Senators of the Eastern Shore, and delegates to the General Assembly from Talbot county, be and they are hereby earnestly requested to insist upon an amendment, as well of the aforesaid act "to incorporate the Eastern Shore Rail Road Company" as of the said bill "to provide ways and means to complete the works of Internal Improvement, and to promote the agriculture, commerce and manufactures of this State," as will afford an opportunity for a fair and deliberate survey of of the different routes obviously presented for consideration as fit and proper for the location a rail road intended for the general improvement of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and will secure to its citizens the actual benefit of such a public work passing through its improved and improveable lands, and not along the mere Eastern border of the State.

On further motion, Resolved, That the resolutions be sent to our Delegates to the General Assembly, to be then presented to the Legislature; and that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the several papers printed in this place.

COLONIZATION MEETING.

Pursuant to the notice given, a respectable number of the citizens of Easton and the vicinity, assembled in the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Thursday evening 16th instant, to organize a Colonization Society, Auxiliary to the Maryland State Colonization Society." Thomas C. Nichols, Esq. was called to the chair and Nicholas G. Singleton appointed Secretary.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Richard M. Greenbank; after which, the Rev. John H. Kennard, Agent for the Young Men's Colonization Society of Baltimore, moved to have a committee of three appointed by the chair to draft a constitution and report a list of officers for the society now about to be formed. The chair named Messrs Theodore R. Loockerman, S. Hambleton, Jr. and M. Hazel, who in a few moments presented a constitution, which was read and laid on the table.

Mr. Loockerman then arose, and after addressing the meeting for some time closed by offering the following resolutions, viz.

Resolved, That we highly approve the plan of independent state action, adopted by Maryland in the cause of colonization, as well on account of its tendency to produce harmony of action among its friends, as because of its peculiar fitness to the Southern States.

Resolved, That this meeting will use all [illegible] during the present year the sum of one hundred dollars in furtherance of the objects and views of the Maryland State Colonization Society. These resolutions were seconded by Mr. S. Hambleton, Jr. accompanied with a few suitable remarks, and was followed by the Rev. Mr. Kennard, who spoke for some time, and closed by moving the adoption of the resolutions.

Upon motion and vote the constitution as reported was adopted; and the officers appointed; after which a collection was taken up, and an invitation given to subscribe to the constitution.

Mr. John B. Kerr, then offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five persons be appointed by the chair to obtain subscriptions to the fund of one hundred dollars, proposed to be raised in aid of the cause of Colonization in this State, and also to obtain members "of the Talbot county Colonization Society."—The chair named Messrs S. Hambleton, Jr. J. B. Kerr, Doct. S. M. Jenkins, Rev. M. Hazel and Wm. H. Hayward, Esqrs. to compose said committee.

On further motion by the same gentleman accompanied with a few remarks, the following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, That this meeting adjourn, to meet again on the Fourth of July next, at 3 o'clock, P. M. at which time all the managers and friends of the Society are requested to attend.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the chairman, and attested by the Secretary, and published in both the papers printed in Easton.

The meeting was then adjourned with a benediction by the Rev. Wm. Kesley.

MARYLAND LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

ANNAPOLIS, May 23.

The Legislature commenced their adjourned session to-day. In the House about seventy members appeared, and in the Senate eight.

A memorial of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company, praying a supplement to their charter, was presented to the Senate by Mr. Morris, and referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Morris, Mayer and Emory.

A resolution expressive of the respect the Legislature entertained for the memory of Joseph K. Travers, deceased, late a delegate from Dorchester county, passed both Houses. The members will wear the usual mourning.

A short debate on the propriety of originating new business during the present session took place, which the presentation of a petition of an unimportant nature created. It was arrested by laying the petition on the table.

A message was proposed by Mr. WINDER to be sent to the Senate, to confine the action of this session to the subject of Internal Improvement, and the business postponed to this session.

A message proposing to adjourn sine die on Saturday was submitted, but made the order of the day.

Messrs. MERRICK and PRATT of the joint committee appointed to report to the Legislature what action should be had in reference to the subject of Internal Improvement, have not arrived. They are expected to be present to-morrow.

Tuesday, May 24th.

The speaker laid before the House a communication from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, enclosing a resolution of the Mayor and city Council of Baltimore, relative to the removal of a draw-bridge.

The speaker also laid before the house a petition of Sundry citizens of Dorchester county relative to the condemnation of a certain acre of land in said county.

Mr. Gilliss presented a memorial of a large number of the citizens of Somerset and Worcester counties, praying a declaratory act prohibiting the Eastern Shore rail road company from erecting any bridge or other obstruction over the navigable waters of the Wicomico river.

Mr. Palmer presented resolutions passed on the subject of Internal Improvement, at a meeting held in Centreville in Queen Anne's county.

Mr. Carter presented a petition of Abraham Griffith, of Caroline county, praying the passage of an act authorizing the levy court of said county, to allow an increased compensation to him as jailor, for the support of the persons that are committed to said jail.

Mr. Carter also presented a petition of Edward B. Hardcastle, and others, commissioners for the Village of Denton, in Caroline county, praying for a law to authorise them to complete their collection of the tax levied on the citizens of said village, for the year 1835.

Mr. Brookhart submitted the following message:

Gentlemen of the Senate,

We have determined not to take up any new business, and as the joint committee to whom the subject of Internal Improvements was referred, have made no report upon the subject which was referred to them, we propose with the concurrence of your honorable body to adjourn sine die on this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The speaker presented a memorial of Singleton Duvall, of Prince-George's county, praying that a law may pass to prevent magic, sorcery, necromancy, or witchcraft in this state.

Mr. PRATT submitted the following order,

Ordered, That the joint committee appointed to investigate and report upon the subject of Internal Improvement, be authorised to have said report printed for the use of the Legislature and that the report of the minority of said committee be also printed.

Which was twice read and adopted.

Mr. Hambleton, from the joint committe appointed to inquire into the manner in which the loan of the State at the last session, for the completion of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to Cumberland, has been appropriated by said company, and also to inquire into the causes which led to false estimates of the cost of said work, delivered a report.

On motion of Mr. Ely,

Ordered, That the joint committee appointed to investigate the causes of the erroneous estimates made by the president and directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company and also of the proceedings of other corporations relative to the Internal Improvements, be authorised to cause five hundred copies of the testimony which has not been printed, to be printed for the use of the House, together with their report,

The house adjourned until to-morrow morning nine o'clock.

The Annapolis Republican of yesterday publishes the following sketch of the debate which took place in the House on Monday, when the first petition was presented:

Upon the presentation of the first petition offered in the House of Delegates, the question of course arose whether to confine themselves to the single object which was the motive for convening an extra session, and debates more or less involving that question, arose upon the disposition of the petition, as well as upon the two messages, which were subsequently proposed.

On motion of Mr. Dennis the petition was laid upon the table, by ayes and nays—ayes 34, nays 32—and all propositions like customary legislative business subsequently shared a similar fate.

Mr. Dennis next offered a message to the Senate, proposing to adjourn the session on Saturday.

Mr. Richardson, after making some observations in objection to the message, moved to lay it upon the table, but as that motion precluded debate, he withdraw it to allow some remarks to be made upon the subject.

Mr. Duckett objected to the policy of occupying the house with propositions of this kind, the effect of which was invariably to consume time without progressing with business. What there might be presented to require the attention of the legislature, no one could undertake to say. Unless urgent occasion demanded the disposition of the large majority of the members might be depended upon, not to procrastinate the session by subjects that will allow to be postponed to the regular sessions. What time might be absolutely indispensible to act underd standingly upon the report which is expected from the joint committee no one could possibly tell at present. If it could be done by Wednesday evening we should be for adjourning then.

Mr. Brown, was as willing and as anxious, he said, to close the session and to return to his duties at home as any man in that house, but he felt it to be a more imperative duty to remain at the post which had been assigned him by his country and constituents, as long as their interest called for his attention. He could perceive no benefit whatever in adopting such message at this stage of their session No man in that house could possibly as he believed have yet formed a proper judgment, how long or how short the session might be The joint committee who had the subject upon which we are convened in charge, have not yet reported. He understood they were not prepared to report—we did not know whether they will report to-morrow or even next day, much less do we know what they may report, or how much consideration may be required upon the propositions they may offer to the Legislature, or what explanation may be required. We separated with a view of acquiring information throughout the State, in regard to the great object of Internal Improvement; before the least opportunity has been afforded to interchange the views and opinions thus acquired or to communicate the facts which have been learned, we are called upon to fix a day for adjourning. Mr. B. had no doubt but that the project, whatever it might be that the committee may report, will elicit debate and he regretted that the Legislature were not better provided with a reporter, in order that the arguments used by gentlemen from various sections of the State might be read and understood by the people at large:—it was the only way in which the people could be made acquainted as they should be, with the true posture of affairs, or the real merits of the question.

Mr. Dennis said, he had been an attentive listener to the debates of the past session, without hardly occupying the time of the house with any of his remarks, and he must say, that he dispaired of any debate that was likely to occur, doing much towards enlightening the community or the members either. It is true the joint committee have not yet reported, but it is in the power of the house to call upon them for their report at any moment. And if they have neglected the duty assigned them, it is no reason that we should be detained here waiting and doing nothing.

Mr. Ely, was confident that there was no member who had the experience he had, that would not join him in saying, that propositions of this kind were only calculated to consume the time, and obstruct the business of the house. He was as little disposed to procrastinate the session unnecessarily as any one in the house, but he was not for neglecting the business of the people. If they require the Legislature to attend to their business, he for one always felt bound to attend to their representations, whether in extra session or in the customary session.

Mr. McMAHON, in an acquaintance of some twenty seven years with the proceedings of the Legislature, had never seen any thing beneficial resulting from propositions of this kind. He was for taking up the business for which they had met, getting through with it and whatever else they found themselves imperiously called upon to do for the benefit of the State, and as soon as they had done, it would not take them long to send such a message.

Mr. Winder asked, upon whom the responsibility of delaying the session would be visited? will not the responsibility rest upon the majority,—the Anti-Van Buren party? Is not the attention of the people of the State now upon us, impatient that the Session should not be procrastinated? and yet we see every movement which is made towards limiting it, is resisted by our opponents! He cautioned the Whig party to be aware of their responsibility and to act with unanimity.

Mr. Ely briefly replied to the party complexion of Mr. W.'s remarks, and disclaimed any design for himself and in behalf of the members generally; of delaying the session one moment beyond what was requisite to fulfill their duties as faithful delegates.

Mr. HEARD addressed some pertinent remarks to the house in relation to what he deemed the proper course of proceeding, and submitted a proposition that the house should meet forenoon and afternoon.

Mr. BRUFF proposed a modification of Mr. Heard's motion, and also made some appropriate remarks.

Mr BURCHENAL also made some remarks which we were too distant to hear distinctly. The tenor of it related to a point of order, we presume, which was immediately attended to.

Mr. McLean and Mr. Long each had made some remarks at the commencement of the discussion, when we were not present. Several of the members we have named, spoke more than once.

FOR SALE

I have for sale a mare of fine blood now with foal by Maryland Eclipse. This mare's speed has been tried and she has proved a successful racer. She was raised by Mr Elisha Wilson of this county, who has raised some of the best blooded horses on this shore—Col Emory's Betsy Wilson, Quaker, and others.

I have also a mare colt out of this mare by John Richards, three years old this spring, which I will sell at fair price, on 3 and 6 months credit. A good work horse would be taken in part pay. The mare will be sold on the same terms as the colt. Sportsmen if you want good blooded horses attend to this.
