LITTLE BLISSIE DIED TO-DAY.

In memory of ARTHUR BLISS STEVENS, who departed this life Nov. 11, 1886, aged 5 years.

The sunlight bathes the landscape fair,
And Nature's face is smiling glad;
How can she so much beauty wear,
While my poor heart is drooping sad?
The sky should be of sombre gray,
For little Blissie died to-day.

I hear the children in the street;
Their voices thrill my heart with pain,
For ne'er my lamb, with prattle sweet
Shall greet my listening ear again.
How strange to hear the children play,
When little Blissie has passed away!

Must I take up my daily yoke
And tread the weary path alone?
Alas! I bend beneath the stroke!
My blossom sweet forever gone!
Life's dearest joy has flown away,
For little Blissie died to-day.

I cannot realize the blow
That bears me down with crushing weight;
My burning tears rebellious flow
Against the stern decree of fate;
Forever to myself I say,
For little Blissie has passed away.

Perchance at some far distant time,
When flowers bloom upon his breast,
And wounds are healed by love Divine,
I then shall know that all is best;
But now I only feel and say,
For little Blissie died to-day.

Perhaps when dreary years are gone,
I 'neath the rod may meekly bow,
And "Father," say, "Thy will be done!"
But oh! I cannot, cannot now;
My heart's so sad I scarce can pray,
For little Blissie has passed away.

Publications.—Our Little Ones for February contains many interesting articles. The chapter entitled "The Little Harvest Mouse" describes the habits of this animal. "A Moving Nursery" tells of the Surinam Toad. "The Pitcher Plant" gives a description of a curious plant growing in China. There are other stories and poems, each prettily illustrated. "An Awful Animal," and "Freddie's Patty Killer" are amusing stories. 'Scamp's New Year's Calls," "Blucher and His Companions," "Fishing by Firelight," and many other stories make up a number of great merit. Startling Facts

WE have inaugurated and, until our immense lines for this season are disposed of, will continue our remarkable sales of

Milinery and Fancy Goods

DRESS FABRICS AND NOTIONS

NOW, THEN, THE QUESTION—

WHERE TO BUY A HAT OR BONNET?

Is an important one to every lady in Frostburg and vicinity. If a trimmed Hat or Bonnet is wanted we have patterns fresh from the centres of Fashion, from which a suitable design may be easily selected. In fact, our Millinery Department is one in which we take special pride, and this season we have given it redoubled attention. Every style of Hat or Bonnet, every description of Trimming and Feathers, and all weights, widths, qualities, styles and shades of Ribbon are the cheapest and best of their kind. For this branch of our business we claim that it is not only as good as any and better than most, but absolutely and unapproachably the best! Our stock of

Fall and Winter Wraps

Is complete. So many fascinating styles, attractive designs and all surprising bargains, which every lady, in justice to herself, should carefully examine before purchasing, cannot be described in an ordinary advertisement.

Besides the wonderful specialties alluded to we have "to tell the old, old story" concerning

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS

☞Remember, we do not ask you to visit us before going elsewhere, but we do solicit an examination of our goods before buying anywhere. To our gratification we have very often found that where buyers inspected the goods in other establishments first and ours last of all, the contrast was so overwhelmingly in our favor that numberless such sales gave the greatest satisfaction. Contrary to the usual custom of mercantile invitations, therefore, we ask you to see our goods, not before looking at others, but before buying any other goods, and generally because we want to make your visit a money-saving experiment for you.

Fatal Accident.—A fall of roof coal in New Hope mine Thursday morning killed William R. Cruse, of this place. He was working with John Bortlon when a slip on his (Cruse) side of the heading was reached with the sad result stated, Bortlon escaping unhurt. Deceased was 34 years of age, and in his untimely death an aged mother and two sisters are deeply afflicted. He was engaging in manner, courteous and considerate; hence was liked by all who knew him. An inquest was called for 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

An Early Crisis for the Pool.—The Boston correspondent of the Engineering and Mining Journal reports:

In bituminous coal the fun has begun. President Phillips, of the Fitchburg road, is reported as saying that he considers it a good time to buy coal, and that he is willing to receive bids and accept the one that seems advantageous, without waiting for the first of March or the pool price. Now, if any company wants to break the pool to smithereens, here is a splendid opportunity. The Fitchburg wants about 60,000 tons. No bid can be made until March 1st, if the public utterances of its representatives here are reliable, save that of $2.30 f. o. b., which is of course out of the question, as that is held to apply to coal to be shipped before March 1st. So we have a good test of the staying power of the bituminous coal shippers right at the outset. All looks fair on the surface, and, so far as can be learned, no one will respond to president Phillips' offer to bid.

Personal.—C. B. Luce, advance agent of the Noss family, was here Monday.

William Williams, who recently returned to the bosom of his family, bade them good-bye Saturday evening. Many suppose that the proposed indignation meeting had something to do with his exodus, but we are informed that this is most probably an error.

Rev. J. A. Whitaker was called away from home Wednesday morning to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law at Philadelphia. He will probably not be able to occupy his pulpit to-morrow.

Joseph Bear and bride reached here Wednesday evening. A reception, held at the residence of Mr. Bear's father, was numerously attended, and during the evening the happy pair were serenaded by the Arion band, of this place, and the Independent cornet, of Eckhart.

Dr. Jacobs is rapidly improving.

Eastern Views of the Coal Trade.

New York.—There has been an active demand for soft coal and prices have ruled firm. The pool has not yet definitely settled percentages, but progress is reported, and the question will probably be settled this week.—Mining Record.

Soft coal is in good demand at all points; the local trade was interfered with all last week by the strike of the loaders at South Amboy. This week work is being done there and coal loaded to supply the steamship trade. We cannot quote a price for odd lots or transient cargoes, for practically there is no market. As was to have been expected, the labor in the districts shipping soft coal to the tidal ports expect an advance of ten per cent. on the first of March; this is in view of the expected increase in the tide price. The pool is said to be on a basis of five million tons to the seaboard markets; if more can be sold, it will be forwarded.—Coal Trade Journal.

It is impossible to buy bituminous coal in this harbor. By needy consumers, $5 a ton would be looked upon as cheap. The bituminous coal pool, although not completed in all of its details, is still making satisfactory progress.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

THOUGHTS
Inspired BY THE Season

SINCE the establishment of the "Mammoth Hardware Store" in this town the people have enjoyed a service which has met every demand and pleased every taste.

The secret of this phenomenal achievement lies in our strict and constant adherence to the following principles:

1. We make no misrepresentations. The goods are just what we sell them for.
2. We handle durable and substantial goods
3. We keep a large variety in all departments of our business.
4. We sell nearly everything demanded by ordinary needs, and the extraordinary are furnished with almost equal celerity as the ordinary.
5. And we sell our goods as low as they can be priced commensurate with a profit sufficient to justify business.
