LOCALS IN MINION.

Publications. — Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for March opens with the eighth of Mr. Powell's "Leaves from my Life," in which he treats of Thomas Carlyle in the same gossipy way as of the other papers of the series. A remarkably strong poem, "From Henceforth Sin No More," by S. B. Elliott, is in this number. It is above the average of magazine verse. Illustrated articles on "Russian Schools," "Some Memories of the Tuileries," "A Buried Greek City in Egypt," and "Famous English Literary Women," give variety and interest to this number. The last mentioned article is accompanied by six portraits. "The Bible Class Exercises" (formerly known as "Recreations") offer cash prizes for the best answers. Here is a fine opportunity for studying the Bible to profit. The serial stories are continued, and there is an abundant store of short papers poems, sketches, etc., The illustrations are numerous and beautiful.

The March number of Babyhood contains an exhaustive article on "The Feeding of Infants and Young Children," by Dr. L. E. Holt, physician to the New York Infant Asylum, which is designed to answer many of the perplexing questions concerning the subject so often asked of by mothers. Several valuable diet lists for children in health and disease are given, the peculiarities of the various articles of food being pointed out. Among the various important articles is one on "The Adulteration of Bread," by Dr. Cyrus Edson, Chief Inspector of the New York Health Department, and one on "The Child's Bath in Health and Illness," by Dr. L. M. Yale, the medical editor. The departments of "Baby's Wardrobe," "Mother's Parliament," "Nursery Problems," etc., are, as usual, interesting and varied. 15 cents a number; $1.50 a year. Babyhood Publishing Co., 5 Beekman St., New York.

We have just received from the National Republican, Washington, D. C., a handsomely illustrated edition, consisting of 18 pages and containing over one hundred and fifty portraits of Senators, Congressmen and Governors; the President and his Cabinet and many of the Foreign Legations. This edition is the first of the kind ever published, and is certainly one that should be read by all. Send 10 cents to National Republican, Washington, D. C.

County Commissioners' Proceedings. — At the meeting Monday George H. Fresh was appointed road supervisor for the Jackson road, vice Adam Boston, deceased. The road passes through the town of Lonaconing, and is the one which the committee of citizens from Lonaconing waited upon the commissioners in regard to at their last meeting and asked for a special appropriation. Supervisor Fresh has been instructed by the commissioners to at once repair that portion of the road complained of by the committee.

George Miller, jr. was appointed road supervisor in District No. 13.

Bids were ordered to be advertised for the sale of the $30,000 worth of insane asylum bonds. See advertisement in another column.

The board adjourned to meet Monday, March 28, when the bids for the asylum bonds will be opened.

Spelling B.—By invitation from A. W. DeWitt and Miss Essie Taylor, his assistant, principal E. A. Browning and Miss Mary J. Thomas, his assistant, visited the Bowery street public school Thursday evening, bringing nine pupils, selected from their fourth grade, to spell in competition with the same number taken from the same grade in the Bowery school. In the first contest all of Mr. Browning's pupils were "trapped," and one of Mr. DeWitt's; in the second all the latter s and all except two of Mr. Browning's. After a very appropriate speech by principal Browning the pupils were dismissed with the promise of another contest in the near future.

Fire.—An alarm of fire was sounded at 1:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, which was promptly responded to by the Fire Department. The fire was discovered in the western portion of the double block house owned by John Llewellyn, of Ocean, and occupied by George H. Miller, whose loss was the complete destruction of his personal effects. No insurance. The eastern half of the building was occupied by Lewis Harbel, who sustained serious losses by the removal of furniture, etc. Loss on building about $100. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Prospect.—The coal trade continues to promise well. A good demand for coal exists and prices are firm.
