MINING JOURNAL.

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

FROSTBURG, MD., DECEMBER 10, 1887.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL ITEMS

Married—At the M. E. Church parsonage, Thursday, Dec. 8, 1887, by Rev. H. S. France, Mr. WILLIAM HARRISON and Mrs. JEANNETTE SKIDMORE, of this place.

False Alarm.—A burning flue in S. T. Logsdon's Main street house Tuesday morning started an alarm of fire which brought out the department and a large crowd in double-quick. No damage.

Accidentally Shot.—While hunting Monday Richard Hawkins, of Grahamton, found that his gun would not go off at a pheasant then in range. Throwing down the gun to take one from a comrade the former went off, the load of shot entering one of his legs. He will be laid up for a while.

Pugilistic.—Ricketts, the Clearfield slugger, matched to fight Crowley, of this place, established an alibi on the day and at the place of the proposed contest.

But another match has been made between Crowley and Jack Crawford for six 3-minute rounds for points, for a purse of $150. A deposit has been made in the hands of a Cumberland sport, and the day and date will be further agreed upon.

E. W. Valentine, of Cumberland, has a man to whip Crawford or Crowley, he doesn't care which.

Christmas and New Year's Excursion Tickets.—The Passenger Department of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company announces that, in accordance with their usual custom, they will sell Excursion Tickets during the holidays, between all stations East of the Ohio River. Tickets will be sold on Dec. 23d, 24th, 25th, 26th, 30th, 31st, 1887, and Jan. 1st and 2d, 1888, good for return passage until Jan. 3d, 1888.

Brevities.—Suit for damages in the sum of $4,000 has been entered by Thomas Jackson et al., trustees of the Union League, of this place, against the Mayor and Council for the destruction of their hall in Brownsville.

Dr. Grahame says if the man who borrowed his three turkeys will bring one of them back he may retain the other for his distinguished consideration.

William Engle, butcher, received a consignment of 123 fine turkeys Tuesday from Petersburg, Pa. The walking being good, they came footback.

It is the JOURNAL's opinion that all parties wanting choice seats at the Kellogg concert should lose no time further; every gentleman who has a dog (profanely called "pup") that could wear it Wednesday evening, weather permitting.

Mrs. Phoebe Bourassa, aged 76, widow of Frederick Bourassa, of this place, died Friday evening at her home in Cumberland in the 72d year of her age.

Personal.—James Little, of Piedmont, W. Va., the genial and popular superintendent of the Big Vein coal company, called on the best paper in Allegany county Tuesday.

The Cumberland News of Wednesday says "Miss May McCulloh, of Frostburg, is visiting Miss Helen Gordon."

Benjamin Williams, of Allegany mine, has been quite ill this week.

Alexander Paul, son of R. C. Paul, sr., formerly of this place, is ill at his home in Cumberland.

Gen. Thomas J. Shryock, grand master of the grand lodge of Maryland Masons, remembered here as officiating at the unveiling of the Tennant monument, was married last week. Miss Cassie Belle Miller, of Syracuse, N. Y., is the fortunate bride.

Fuller Barnard, of Westernport, spent several days this week with Frostburg friends.

Announcement is made of the marriage at Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 22, of Miss Lama Martin, formerly of this place, and J. W. Hooper, of Baltimore.

Publications.—Babyhood, the magazine for mothers, begins with the December issue its fourth volume. It contains an article by Dr. Chapin on contagious diseases of children, is found especially helpful, giving, as it does the first symptoms of such diseases as scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, small-pox, chicken-pox, whooping-cough and mumps. The extended article on the prevention and cure of stuttering in children is also particularly valuable. A dozen contributors, among them Rev. Drs. John Hall and Wm. M. Taylor, discuss the question, "Ought Santa Claus to be Abolished?" with a decidedly entertaining difference of opinion. A very practical article on the baby carriage, and brief remarks on nose breathing are also noteworthy. Considerable space is devoted to holiday literature, and careful reviews are given of some dozen of the best books for the wee ones. Several pages are also given up to most useful hints for Christmas, nursery novelties, baby's wardrobe, the answering of nursery problems, etc. The number from beginning to end is a good one, and should have a place in every home where there are young children. $1.50 a year; 15 cents a copy. Babyhood Publishing Company, 5 Beekman Street New York.

The advertisement of the Baltimore Sun, elsewhere printed, is a reminder to its numerous subscribers in this section that Maryland's greatest daily will be abreast of the times during 1888. One of the greatest national contests will take place next fall, preliminary to and during which the newspaper will contain much of popular interest as denoting the trend of political opinion in all parts of the country. The Sun will be among the foremost as usual in satisfying the most exacting demands of the public for "all the news."

The Shenandoah (Pa.) Colliery Engineer sends the JOURNAL an interesting card of statistics showing in brief the number of mines, tons of coal mined and shipped, employees, days employed, fatal and non-fatal accidents, etc., in the anthracite region during the year 1886.
