Brevities.—The Cumberladd Times says "Hagerstown is behind Frostburg in the skating rink line, having just started up its rink." And Cumberland appears to lag superfluous in the rear of Hagerstown.

A petition asking the Legislature for the right to vote on the toleration of liquor-selling in Frostburg and suburban villages was circulated last week.

The eclipse of the sun last Saturday was invisible at Pocahontas, Pa.

The Ocean and Midland people have a numerously signed petition prepared to submit to the county commissioners asking for a movement looking to the formation of a new election district.

Philip Wolf, weighboss at Eckhart, started last Sunday morning in a sleigh with his family to Cumberland. At Eckhart a shaft broke, alarming the horse, which finally became disengaged, meanwhile dashing the sleigh over the embankment. Mrs. Wolf, foreseeing the inevitable upset, dropped the babe out on the snow. The other occupants were thrown out, but, like the babe, escaped unhurt. Nothing daunted, Mr. Wolf secured another sleigh and the trip was safely made.

There will be several genuine attractions in Frostburg this year. Forepaugh has an eye looking this way, it is said; ice cream, Fourth of July and the JOURNAL we have with us always.

In one of the jams around the gift table at Madame Anderson's exhibition Wednesday evening the JOURNAL overheard a very attractive young lady remark that she "didn't mind being squeezed, but not this way." Seeing the JOURNAL smile as an individual, she begged the JOURNAL as a paper not to put her name in print, and our thousands of readers will bear testimony that we have tumbled to her sweet request.

James Powers, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., an aged gentleman and former resident of Frostburg, died last week at the former place. The remains were brought here Monday for interment, a large number of his old friends attending. Services were held in the Catholic church. He was 87 years old.

The JOURNAL is indebted to J. B. Carson, of this place, an employee of the House of Delegates, for a copy of the State School Report for 1886-7

The "Leap Year Party" committee wants the ladies to read our only "New Business Local."

Journalistic.—Rev. A. C. Haverstick, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, has distributed among his congregation a neat paper entitled "St. John's Parish." It contains pages of religions matter, prepared for Lenten reading. The first page comprises local advices covering a "Calendar for Lent" and "Lenten Services." The latter, aside from its general character, is subdivided into appointments for "Holy Week," "Holy Communion," and "Lenten Duties."

All Frostburgers who have enjoyed Madame Anderson's visit here are indebted for that pleasure to Ernest Shriver, of the Cumberland News. This gentleman suggested to the management the opening here, and stuck to the suggestion until it was adopted.

The JOURNAL congratulates Capt. W. E. Griffith, editor of the Cumberland News, upon the handsome preference shown him by Company A, of Cumberland, by making him its commanding officer.

Tariff Matters.—It is probable the tariff bill will be reported during next week

The following paper is a copy of the memorial signed by the miners of the Consolidation coal company:

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

We, the undersigned citizens of the George's Creek Coal Region of Allegany County, Maryland, do hereby respectfully petition your Honorable Bodies against a repeal of the existing tariff duty on foreign bituminous coal.

We beg leave to say that serious consequences would inevitably ensue to the people of this entire coal region if bituminous coal should be placed upon the free list.

We therefore respectfully ask that no action be taken by your Honorable Bodies in regard to this question, and your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, etc., etc.

Tuesday evening a meeting was held in Lonaconing and resolutions similar to those passed here last week were adopted. A little breeze was raised by the introduction and adoption of a resolution urging the enforcement of the law prohibiting foreign immigration under contract.

Leap Year Assembly.—The JOURNAL acknowledges receipt of an invitation to a "Leap Year Party, to be held in Nickel's hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, 1888." Misses Fannie M. Wack, Eva M. Walker and Janie I. Stewart comprise the committee in charge and it is safe to say that those invited have an occasion of rare enjoyment in prospect. Additional interest attaches to the enterprise in the facts that it is the first party of the kind ever projected here; that it is Washington's birthday, and that Mr. C. F. Nickel regards it as a most auspicious dedication of his new hall to purposes of social amusement. The JOURNAL'S invitation concludes with the announcement: "Grand March at 9 p. m." If life and health fail not, the JOURNAL will answer "ave"—both individually and collectively—as a person and a paper.

Next Monday Evening.—Go to Ravenscraft's Opera House and see one of the best shows on the road. The Utica (N. Y.) Times says:

The Merry Makers and Swiss Bell Ringers' Concert Band and Orchestra gave a first-class concert last evening to a full house. In the morning they serenaded the Times office. The Concert Band is the best that has ever been in Utica for the number of instruments.

Died—This morning, at his home in this place, A. D. HURLEY, son of W. C. Hurley.

MRS JANE PRICE, an aged lady, died at Eckhart, yesterday afternoon. She was the mother of Owen and Edward Price, of this place.

Fatal Accident.—Michael Coughlan was instantly killed in Koontz mine, Lonaconing, yesterday afternoon by a fall of breast coal. He was 35 years old and unmarried.

LOCALS IN MINION.

Publications.—The great interest attaching to the music dramas of Richard Wagner just now, make especially timely the article of Louis G. Elson on "Richard Wagner, his Life and Influence," in Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for March. Mr. Elson writes, not as a Wagner partisan nor detractor, but takes a calm and judicial view of the theories of the great composer. Wagner's works are more than operas, they are great epic poems in music, and must not be judged as operas. They deal with grand and heroic, though mythic characters, and teach valuable lessons concerning the Teutonic and Scandinavian mythology which Christianity has displaced. Another very interesting article is Dr. Felton's sketch of the "Emin Pasha Relief Expedition," which has resulted so successfully. Both of these articles are very fully illustrated. Emily Pierce's loving paper on "Helen Hunt Jackson" will be thoroughly appreciated by all who admired that gifted woman. Dr. Talmage's sermon on "the Proud Invalid" is one of his most characteristic efforts. The serial story, "In Exchange for a Soul," is concluded, and the other story, "His Banner Over Me," is evidently nearing its end. Both of these srories are exceedingly good in their different ways. There are many shorter and valuable articles and some very fine illustrations, which we have not space to mention.

Babyland for 1888 will be in general about the same as in '87. Nothing in Babyland ever pleased more people than Finger play rhymes and pictures. They have even been sought by Kindergartners here in Boston and elsewhere; and the author has personally taught them. Six of the '88 Babylands will contain new Finger-plays. The other six will have a series of baby stories in rhyme about Crickets, how they manage their babies, with many pictures. Me and Toddlekins is a baby-cat story all through the year by Margaret Johnson, with pictures also by Margaret Johnson. There will also be a lot of jingle bits and story bits and picture bits, so many as to make you wonder where the next year's entertainment is to come from. Fifty cents a year; a copy sent for five cents. D. LOTHROP Company, Publishers, Boston.

Eastern Views of the Coal Trade.

In the bituminous market the quotations were $3.70@$3.80 per ton in New York, with a general idea prevailing that the coming season will be one of exceptional activity in the soft coals.—Mining Record.

There is nothing worthy of note to record in the bituminous trade, nor can there be until the spring contracts are again under discussion. The snow storms of the past week have again interfered with the car service, and complaints are heard of a lack of transportation. This will probably continue for some time yet, until the weather settles, but it is hoped that before the spring comes the companies will have been able to catch up on their old contracts.

As a rule the tariff question does not create any excitement in the coal trade. It has of course, no effect upon the anthracite trade, since there is no anthracite to come in, duty or no duty.

The bituminous trade relies upon the better quality of our American coals and the less cost of mining them to protect it from the competition of Nova Scotia. At the very most, it is probably that not more than 250,000 tons of foreign coal would come in, even with the duty removed, and if, in exchange for free coal here, we can secure free coal into Canada, we would be largely the gainer.

Prices remain as heretofore, $3.50@$3.70 alongside in this harbor.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Thomas Terrell et al., Et parte.	No. 3729 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany county.

THE object of the petition in the above case is to change the name of Thomas Terrell to Thomas Bath, and of his wife Elizabeth Terrell, to Elizabeth Bath, and also to change the names of their infant children as follows: Kate Terrell, aged 15 years, to Kate Bath; Elizabeth Terrell, aged 13 years to Elizabeth Bath, and Laura Terrell, aged 11 years, to Laura Bath.

The petition states that the parties to this suit reside in Allegany county; that the children are infants, and the reasons for changing said names are as follows:

The father of the petitioner, Thomas Terrell, died in England when said petitioner was a small child, and his mother afterwards married Henry Bath and subsequently emigrated to America, bringing with her the said petitioner, who still being young, was generally called and known by the name of his stepfather, Bath, and of which name his children are now known; that he belongs to a number of fraternal and beneficial societies, in all of which he is registered by the name of Bath, and under this name he conducts his business affairs; that on the registration books of this county he appears in his true name, which leads to confusion and trouble, and that the petitioners desire legally to have the name by which they are familiarly known in the community in which they reside.

It is thereupon this 24 day of February, 1888, by the Circuit Court for Allegany county, sitting as a Court of Equity, ordered—

That the petitioners cause a copy of this order, with the object and substance of the petition, to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany county once a week for three successive weeks prior to the 27th day of February, 1888, giving notice to whom it may concern to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 5th day of March, 1888, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree shall not be passed as prayed.
