MINING JOURNAL.

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

FROSTBURG, MD.....JULY 28, 1888.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL ITEMS.

The Third Excursion to the Seashore.—Atlantic City, the most popular of all our seaside resorts, was never more active than at present. The season is at its height and thousands are taking a well-earned respite from business cares in a week's sojourn at the shore, enjoying the bracing air and the luxury of surf bathing.

The third select excursion via the picturesque B. & O. to Old Ocean is announced for Thursday, August 2d.

The trains will leave as named below, rate annexed:

Cumberland....1:40 p. m.; 2:45 a. m.; $7.50

Pullman buffet parlor cars will be attached to the noon train, and Pullman palace sleeping cars to the night train.

The tickets are good ten days with the privilege of a stop-off at Washington, D. C., on the return journey.

Religious.—"Children's Day" services will be held in the M. E. Church, South, to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 7½ o'clock. An interesting programme has been made out and a pleasant time is anticipated.

Rev. A. Homrighaus, of Washington, D. C., preached two able and eloquent sermons in the Reformed Church last Sunday.

Rev. D. L. MacKenzie, of Sioux city, Iowa, a former pastor, favored the English Lutherans the same day with similar efforts.

Rev. J. F. Ockerman, of Baltimore, preached in the M. E. church last Sunday.

B. B.—At Mt. Savage Saturday, 21st inst., the "Quicksteps," of Cumberland, were tied by the Borden mine club in an agreed game of five innings. Each made 0.

In Cumberland Tuesday the local team tackled "Barnie's boys" of Baltimore, and got flailed at the rate of 12 to 0. Cumberland lost through several costly errors, among which was—allowing a game to be played under anybody but a Cumberland umpire.

Deaths.—Jacob Keller, of Borden mine, lost an infant daughter by death Monday.

At her home in Plymouth, Pa., of malarial fever, Monday, July 23, 1888, Mrs. CHARLOTTE REES, wife of Rees D. Rees, formerly of this place. Her husband and six small children survive. The remains were interred at the former place Wednesday.

About Taxes.—State and County Collector John L. Porter's office will be in the Beall, Baush & Co. building, second story west from stairway.

The discount of 5 per cent. on corporate taxes will cease next Tuesday July 31. Those who want to secure the largest deduction should see Collector D. J. Williamson or before that date.

Publications.—Frank Lesslie's Sunday Magzine for August continues George Macdonald's fine story, "The Elect Lady," and begins a new story, the scene laid in Old France, entitled, "Genevieve; or, The Children of Port Royal." There is also a short story by Amanda M. Douglas, entitled, "Miss Brooke's Adventure." An illustrated article "Mission Life Among the Maories," tells of early missionary struggles in New Zealand. "Pen and Pencil Sketches of Shadeland," depicts a charming spot in our own country, and an elaborately illustrated article on "La Fontaine's Fables" tells us much about the French fabulist and his works. This number contains many portraits: the new Methodist Bishops, Vincent, Fitzgerald, Newman, Joyce and Goodsell, the Presbyterian Moderators: Dr. C. L. Thompson, and Dr. J. J. Bullock; the Rev. J. H. M. Pollard, of Charlestown, S., C.; the Rev. Ezekiel E Smith, the new Minister to Liberia, and the newly elected Bishop W. A. Leonard, of Southern Ohio. Dr. Talmage's sermon is on "Reformation from Evil Habits," and there are many interesting short articles and beautiful illustrations. The number concludes with a fine hymn tune: "We Give Immortal Praise," by Frank L. Sealy, of Newark, N. J.

An interesting article in Our Little Ones for August is "A Land Voyage." "When I'm a Man" is a beautiful poem characteristic of the air castles built by the little people. Numerous other interesting articles combine to make a number of rare merit. Russell Publishing Co., 36 Bromfield St., Boston, Mass.

A most excellent magazine is Trifet's Galaxy of Music, a monthly containing all the latest editions of vocal and instrumental music. It subscription price is very cheap—$1 per year. F. Trifet, Publisher, 408 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

BIG MISTAKE

CORRECTED!

SOME persons heve reported and others believed that I intend removing from here.

In order to set everyone right I would emphatically say

THIS IS A MISTAKE!

I am here to stay, and have just returned from the eastern markets with the largest, most fashionable, and cheapest stock of

CLOTHING, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, CARPETS, OILCLOTHS TRUNKS, SATCHELS, HATS AND CAPS,

Ever brought to a single establishment in our county. Moreover, as I am cramped for room to store all my goods, I will sell every article at about 6 per cent. profit—at least for the next thirty days.

I have not time nor space to put all on paper; therefore, I have mentioned but a few articles in order that you may appreciate and realize that all should come—not wait, but come at once and examine goods and prices. No one in want of goods, will leave my store without buying, but you should come right along before the rush begins and the assortment is broken.

☞ All persons coming by rail buying goods of me will have their fare paid both ways.

Don't forget that my place is opposite C. F. Nickel's furniture store—the first clothing store as you come from the depot. Thankful for past favors, I am respectfully,

May 12 M. WINELAND.
