COUNTY NEWS.

Death of Dr. G. E. Porter.—In all parts of the county the death of Dr. G. E. Porter at his residence, Lonaconing, Monday morning, Dec. 30, 1889, is deeply deplored. He had been ill for some time of typhoid fever, a disease which deepened into malignancy with the shock occasioned by his eldest daughter's sudden death about two months ago. Dr. Porter was born near Frostburg in 1830, and was twice associated with Dr. James M. Porter, of that place—once as student, and again as co-practitioner. In 1856 he located at Lonaconing, where he speedily won a large practice. In 1861 he went into the army, rising from a captaincy to lieutenant-colonel. Later he entered the hospital service, and in the fall of 1865 resumed his practice at Lonaconing. In 1871 he was elected to the House of Delegates, and in 1876 became the republican nominee for Comptroller of the State treasury, but was defeated. He was a man of great learning and public spirit—a leader of thought and enterprise who commanded professional and popular notice in all fields he chose to enter. As a physician and surgeon he excelled. He was schooled in the one and skilled in the other. He was one of those, it is said, who, without being rash or cruel, never discredited his own powers. Like all the truly great, he was approachable by all, and all received the kindest consideration. He was a man, with all the nobility implied by that term in its highest sense, yet endowed with a simplicity child-like in its tenderness, and a refinement of manner almost feminine in its beauty. His fine library and fond communion with his books attested his love of study. Occasional appearances in public and in print evinced talents that, exercised in other literary studios, might have crowned his name with far wider fame than that which haloes it to-day. The funeral took place New Year's day at the M. E. Church, Lonaconing, whence the remains were taken to Frostburg by special train for interment. The attendance in both places comprised large representations from all classes, creeds, nationalities, an attestation of sympathy for the stricken family more touching than words can measure.

Personal.—Harry C. Walker, lately telegraph operator and assistant of Mr. Wack at the depot, has been appointed station agent of the C. & P. R. at Barton. Harry is capable, bright and genial, and Barton circles gain in his promotion a valuable acquisition.

H. G. Meem, of Newburg, W. Va., formerly mining engineer of the Consolidation coal company, is quite ill with typhoid fever at Mt. Savage.

Married.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Christmas day, 1889, by Rev. J. R. Pardew, Mr. FRANCIS H. LEAKE, and Miss MARY C. HENRY, daughter of James N. Henry, of Loartown. Numerous friends were present and partook of a nuptial dinner of rare elegance.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Liquor License.—The prospect of a high license law this year is exercising the liquor men considerably. Expensive privileges and narrow limitations are not anticipated with pleasure. There is no doubt the passage of such a law will materially reduce the business to fewer places and perhaps enhance its respectability. And as every law abridges in some degree somebody's liberty, it is certain that any Act restricting the sale of liquor will work some hardship. Whatever is done, therefore, should be done soon, especially if the Act is to go into force this year. It should be passed in time for tenants to understand before April 1st whether they will "continue business at the old stand" or not; that is, if the new license year continues to begin May 1st, as now. Otherwise, tenants whose leases begin April 1st may be put to serious inconvenience and expense by the enforced use or non-use of their premises. Our legislators may save some of their constitutents trouble by keeping an eye on this matter.

Journalistic.—Every Marylander is interested in keeping up with the news of his own State and wants to be promptly posted in all that is going on within her borders. That splendid newspaper, the Baltimore Sun, never leaves us in darkness either in State or national affairs, and throws its light into every section of Maryland as clearly and regularly as its namesake in the heavens. It is non-partisan and independent in all things, and while conservative and careful in its treatment of all public questions, is always honest, courageous and manly.

Brevities.—A copy of the North Baltimore (O.) Beacon lies on our table. It contains a two-column advertisement of the mercantile business of D. J. Sloan & Co., indicating that the flies have no landing-place on that firm.

Dr. J. K. Miller, a brother-in-law of F. C. Beall and the Messrs. Colborn, of Frostburg, died Thursday in Somerset, Pa. He was a prominent physician.

A spicy letter, "Christmas in Alabama," goes over until next week.

ATTENTION,

HORSEMEN

I HAVE secured the agency for the sale in Allegany and Garrett counties, Md., and Mineral county, West Va., of the famous

Neverslip Horseshoe

with its removable steel-centred and

Self-Sharpening Calks.

If you have your horse shod with these Shoes you will save time, money and the horses' feet, as the Calks, being self-sharpening, remain sharp until entirely worn out, and, with the NEVERSLIP WRENCH you can, in a few minutes, put in a new set of Calks while your horse is standing in the barn.

The principal advantages of this Shoe are—

1. It never slips in any direction.
2. It saves horses from sprains and bruises which they constantly receive from insecure footing.
3. It greatly lessens the danger from calking.
4. It saves the time of both horses and owners, as the unscrewing of old and replacing with new Calks is the work of only a few moments.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Dora Kafer.

To the MINING JOURNAL.

While our community is losing a number of good people it is fitting to say that amongst those who have been removed from our midst none are perhaps more deserving of a word of praise than the late Mrs. DORA KAFER, of Ocean mines. She possessed the requisites essential to a noble christian—a loving mother and a faithful wife. She died as she had lived—a faithful believer in the doctrine of the gospel. Amid her domestic toils and pains her abiding faith in the Saviour was not disturbed. Ample evidence was observed during her closing hours to attest her deep inspiration of a hope of a future home, where sorrow and pain are never known. I voice the sentiment of all who knew her when I say she was esteemed very highly by all who enjoyed her acquaintance. It was the acme of her ambition to be ever ready to give relief to suffering humanity. To soothe the sick and bandage the wounds of the unfortunate were duties she was always glad to perform. Like the Apostles of old, she has fought the good fight and completed her mission here. Her body is now at rest in the bosom of mother earth in Allegany cemetery.

A FRIEND.

Asleep in Jesus! blessed sleep!
From which none ever wake to weep.

In loving memory of MRS. SUSAN E. SAURBAUGH, who died Dec. 9, 1889, aged 53 years, 4 months and 27 days.

Farewell, dear, but not forever!
There will be a glorious dawn!
We shall meet to part—no, never—
On the resurrection morn!

Tho' thy darling form lies sleeping
In the cold and silent tomb,
Thou shalt have a glorious waking
When thy blessed Lord doth come.
