LOCAL NEWS.

B. B.

Nobody denies that the last game belongs technically to Lonaconing. What is claimed is—that it was not actually won. Lonaconing owes its apparent success to the bad eye and ear of an umpire at a critical moment In fact, the umpire was the only man in the field who regarded the ball as "passed." The true score is:

Frostburg.....3
Lonaconing.....3

As to what the Lonaconing Review "does not believe" is not above referred to.

An Earlier Mail.

An arrangement has been effected by which a Baltimore mail, containing the morning daily papers, now reaches here on the 12:47 train, about 5 hours ahead of the old time. Credit is due (1) to the JOURNAL; (2) to postmaster Benson, and most of all to Thomas Hill, of the railway mail service. The change is an advantage to all the line from Barton to Mt. Savage.

The man who can now get a Sunday afternoon mail from B. & O. No. 47 at Piedmont will be regarded all along the creek as a benefactor.

Since the above was put in type the following statement appears in the Baltimore Sun:

Postmaster Johnson has arranged for the dispatch of an important mail by express train 547, leaving Bailey station, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, at 3:49 a. m. This train does not run to Camden station, and extra mail-wagon service was necessitated. By this arrangement the Sun will be served to all points on the Cumberland and Pennsylvania railroad between Cumberland and Piedmont in the morning, instead of in the afternoon, as heretofore.

Election Incidents.

The picture of a nominee in a local print so disgusted him that it is said he countermanded an order for several hundred extras. He actually called it a fearful-looking daub. No wonder his standing Wednesday morning resembled something in the nature of a close call.

Mose Tross did not retire to his boudoir Tuesday night. Noticing J. Harrison Bepler's fresh meat gallery open early Wednesday morning, he went over to warm. Harry asked—"what's the news?" "Well, sah, the news is good. McKinlum has carried bofe Ohio and Philadelphia!"

Treasurer elect A. A. Doub informs the JOURNAL that the Cumberland Times misrepresented him; that in all his speeches he made no reference whatever to "treasury deficits." The JOURNAL takes occasion, therefore, to assure him it had no desire to do anything more than subserve justice, and, assuming the Times' remark as reliable, it built its own comments thereon. Meanwhile, the JOURNAL congratulates him upon his success, and, while thinking of the matter, it hopes also that he will have a worthy successor at No. 1.

Personal.

Fred. A. Kaufman, of the Babcock Printing Press manufacturing company, New London, Conn., was in town several days this week. He is a clever gentleman.

Mrs. Charles O. Michael, of Garrett county, is the guest of her sons-in-law, Lewis W. Boettner and William Hunter. Mrs. M. formerly resided here and this is her first visit within two years. She will remain several weeks.

"Mrs. Julia McLaughlin, of Frostburg," says the Meyersdale (Pa.) Commercial, "is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Michael Shannon."

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Harman returned Wednesday from their wedding tour.

The Meyersdale (Pa.) Commercial welcomes T. W. Gurley; also "the nice little girl" he threatens to take along.

Hon. J. M. Sloan paid the JOURNAL a call Monday. As an individual the great paper was regrettably absent.

Messrs. James Tibbetts and L. J. Ort, of Barton, came up Tuesday evening to hear the Sanford lecture.

Brevities.

Read about the splendid Thanksgiving gift for all our readers in another column.

You will be pleased to read the announcement we make in another column about the Thanksgiving present for all our readers.

Ike Tross says Jack Brown got off as a (wo)man slaughterer in the 33d degree.

Now for tax collector.

George C. Neville, of Millwood, Va., has taken and opened the blacksmith shop in east Frostburg. He comes highly recommended as a mechanic and citizen.

The town was never worse lighted than now.

The JOURNAL would like to hear from some good people wanting three or four of the best building lots in town. Come and learn location and prices.

See the Leonzo Bros. at Ravenscraft's Opera House next week.

Supervisor Owen England has changed the open ditch on Broadway at intersection of the avenue to a culvert. The open ditch across streets is a wheel-smashing invention, the patent on which expired before the Christian Era, and it ought not to be renewed.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

Monday evening, Nov. 6, 1893, at the residence of her son, Clayton Purnell, after a brief illness, Mrs. Henrietta Spence Purnell, in the 74th year of her age.

The deceased lady was the widow of the late William Thomas Purnell, of the Eastern Shore, and at one time United States consul at Bahia. She was born at Gennesar, near Berlin, Worcester county, this State, at the old Spence homestead, and was the daughter of the late Dr. John Selby Spence, a United States Senator from Maryland.

After a brief service Tuesday, Rev. A. C. Haverstick officiating, the remains, under the care of her son and W. C. Devecmon, were taken to Berlin, where the interment took place Wednesday afternoon. The pall-bearers in Frostburg were Messrs. C. H. Walker, Howard Hitchins, G. G. Townsend, W. C. Devecmon, T. G. Porter and J. B. Oder.

The survivors of her family are two sons—William M., of Baltimore, and Clayton, the wellknown and popular attorney of this place, and one daughter—Miss Louise, who resides with the latter.

Mrs. Purnell was an amiable, cultivated, christian lady. To the accomplishments which adorn the old school of refinement a love for literature had added to her native graces the charms of unostentatious learning. She was, therefore, a lady much above the average in all that goes to promote life's best estate.

Col. J. P. Sanford's Lecture.

Tuesday evening, 7th. inst., the largest audience that has yet come together to hear a lecture in Frostburg, was gathered in Moat's Opera House to hear Col. Sanford deliver his lecture, "Stories and Story Tellers," as embodied in his "Old Times and New." This being the first lecture in the course arranged by Rev. C. A. Britt for the season 1893-4, it was quite gratifying to have the course inauguarated under such favorable auspices, especially in view of the many distractions incident to election day. Col. Sanford, during the evening, was at his best, and in his own happy vein and inimitable way entertained his audience for fully two hours, at times convulsing his hearers with laughter. But mingling with all his humor and off-setting it to advantage, was a fund of information that was simply marvelous, gleaned by himself in his numerous journeys around and over and through the world—journeys which justly entitle him to the distinction of being "the greatest traveler, living or dead, the world has ever seen." It is needless to say that the Colonel's effort was highly appreciated. The best compliment that can be paid him is—that those who heard him were sorry when he was done. Everybody seemed to go away well pleased, and on all sides this first lecture of the course has been pronounced a grand success. Should Col. Sanford again come our way he will assuredly be accorded another hearty welcome. Such men as he can hardly come too often.

Died.

Mrs. Joanna Harris, mother-in-law of E. H. B. Prichard, died at the latter's residence Thursday of last week, aged 73 years.

Monday, Nov. 6, 1893, Eula, aged 2 years and 11 months, infant daughter of Roger Williams, of this place. Funeral Wednesday, Rev. W. A. Sites officiating.

The Sick.

John Stevens is quite ill.

Improvement.

St. John's church Broadway front and Steyer street sidewalk have been handsomely paved.

Married.

At the pastoral residence of St. Michael's church Thursday afternoon, Nov. 9, 1893, Mr. James E. Moore and Miss Mary E. Harriman, both of Eckhart.

A Shortened Walk.

The new shaft near Wright's Crossing affords an entry to Hoffman mine for Consolidation miners living in town which shortens their walk about four miles a day—a big saving about supper-time to tired men.

Religious.

Rev. T. C. Easson's subjects to-morrow (Sunday) will be in the morning—"An Earnest Appeal." In the evening the members of the Sunday school will render some music, recitations, reading and dialogues.

Coming Events.

At Ravenscraft's Opera House next week, commencing Monday evening, Nov. 13, the famous Leonzo Brothers' N. Y. stock company and their wonderful acting dogs begin a week's engagement at popular prices. The company is represented as first-class. They introduce specialties in all their pieces. The opening play is "Brother Against Brother," and they change the programme each evening. The Altoona (Pa.) Tribune of Nov. 7 has this to say of the Brothers:

The Leonzo Brothers appeared before a very fair-sized audience last evening in "Brother Against Brother." The characters were well sustained throughout and applause was very frequent. Indeed the best of satisfaction was given and the engagement will very likely be a successful one.

Musical Association.

Monday evening a number of gentlemen met and formed a musical association. The charter members are Messrs. George N. Beall, Dan. Krapf, jr, James B. Thomas, George Cook, George J. Conner, George G. Townsend, Alex. Hocking, G. Dud Hocking, N. T. Hocking, William Jeffries, A. V. K. Deekens, Charles Tucker and George B. Percy.

The organization combines the Mandolin and Guitar club, Mountain String Quartette, and Vocal Quartette.

Officers were elected as follows:

President—G. G. Townsend.
Vice President—Dan Krapf, jr.,
Secretary—George J. Conner.
Treasurer—George N. Beall.

The association's practice room is in Moat's Opera House.

Several entertainments will be given during the winter.

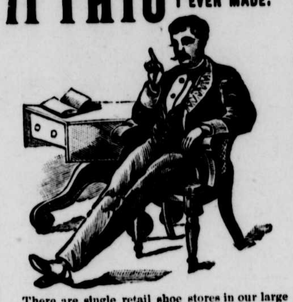
IT PAYS THE BEST AND IS THE SAFEST INVESTMENT I EVER MADE.



There are single retail shoe stores in our large cities which sell 2,000 pairs of shoes a day, making a net profit of $250,000 a year. We sell shoes low, but we sell a great many pairs, the clear profit on our ladies', misses' and childrens' shoes is at least ten cents a pair, and on our mens' and boys' shoes 15 cents a pair. We shall establish shoe stores in each of the fifty largest cities of the U. S., and if they sell only 300 pairs of shoes a day they would earn $225,000 a year. We should be able to pay a yearly dividend of $5.25 a share, or over 50 per cent. a year on the investment. We sell the stock at $10 a share. The price must inevitably be much more than $10 a share. No stock has ever been sold at less than this price, which is its par value. Stock non-assessable. Incorporated, Capital $1,000,000. We have over 1,000 stockholders, and the number is increasing daily. Some of the principal stockholders are: T. S. Walling, N. Y.; I. J. Potter, Boston; N. A. Reed, Jr., Chicago; J. B. Hen Fruit.

We love to hear the cackle of the chickens on the lawn
And see them scamper after worms 'til late from early dawn;
We love to gather eggs, the fruit of their erratic pick,
But how are we going to do it when they're with cholera sick?

If healthy you would have them with combs so nice and red;
If eggs you'd gather dozens from stable, coop and shed,
Just feed to them a powder put up in Krapf's drug store,
And soon the dread disease will "pass in checks" and trouble them no more.

If with a tottering step and soulless cackle
They still a cringing worm with bill would tackle,
There's time enough this powder to administer
For cholera has not yet attacked them with mien quite "sinister."

Save them, save them, then, from a death that is untimely,
And do a deed that in history would appear sublimely,
And on the festive board, cooked, raw, broiled, stewed and fried
Their luscious fruit you may enjoy whatever way applied.

Price, . . 10 cents.
