FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1882.

LOUIS E. McCOMAS,

Louis E. McComas, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland, is thirty-five years of age, a resident of Hagerstown and a prominent member of the Washington county bar, to which he was admitted in 1868. He graduated at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1866 with distinguished honor, and is now a member of the Board of Trustees of that institution. After his graduation he read law in the office of Milburn and Wallace of Cambridge, Md., and afterwards with Judge Alvey, in Hagerstown. Mr. McComas has never held a political office, but was the Republican Congressional candidate in 1876, when he was defeated by Mr. Walsh by the small majority of fourteen votes. The defeat was only accomplished after a second set of returns had been manufactured in Montgomery county. Indeed many of his political opponents concede that he was fairly elected. In that campaign, which was the most spirited ever witnessed in this district, Mr. McComas ran seven hundred ahead of the Presidential ticket. This phenominal vote is the strongest test of his personal popularity, and the coming election will demonstrate that he has a much stronger hold upon the affection and confidence of the people in the Sixth Congressional District than when he made his first appearance among them as a candidate. An affable and accomplished gentleman, whose public and private record is without stain or reproach, Western Maryland can send no worthier man to represent her in the halls of Congress than Louis E. McComas.

—A young nun escaped from a London convent by scaling the garden wall, a daring and difficult feat. Then she stole a dress and hat from a house in the neighborhood, donned them in place of the nun's clothes, and made her escape.

—The first arrest under the new law making attempted suicide a misdemeanor in New York has been accomplished. Christopher McCann is the man, and he had tried to jump overboard from a steamer. He will be tried and fined.

—Lieutenant Israel Greene, who commanded the detachment of United States marines which battered down the door of the engine-house and captured John Brown, at Harper's Ferry, is now a plain farmer living near Firesteel, Dakota.

—It is reported that the government has obtained some very important evidence that will be used in the new star route trials. Mr. Merrick, of counsel for the prosecution, is very confident of a conviction when the next trial is reached, which is set for the first Monday in December.

—For the week ending Saturday, September 19, the shipments from the mines of the Cumberland coal region amounted to 45,725.09 tons; of which 19,395.12 tons were by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 15,777.12 tons by the Chesapeake and Ohio canal and 9,241.14 tons by the Pennsylvania railroad.

—During service in the cathedral at Ragusa some days ago the officiating priest, a member of the Society of Jesuits, was stabbed to death by a girl whom he had betrayed. She inflicted five wounds. The congregation poured amid wild excitement into the streets, and the girl was taken into custody.

—Miss Sarah Elston, of Woodstock, Ontario, committed suicide by building a fire and deliberately standing over it until she was horribly burned from head to foot. Her last words were, "I am going to Jesus." She left a note saying she was tired of this world and had made up her mind to sacrifice herself.

—James Purdy, Jr., editor of the Tombstone, Arizona, Epitaph, and Pat Hamilton, editor of the Independent, went across the border into Sonora to fight a duel. When the ground was selected and measured off Purdy's seconds refused to use the revolver offered by the opposite party because it was new and "worked hard." Finally the parties separated with the difficulty unsettled.

—Three boys were rowing on the river near Reading, Pennsylvania, last Sunday night, when one of them threw a lighted cigar into the water, which was thickly covered with benzine from the gas works. They were enveloped in flames and jumped overboard. William Speirs had his face and neck badly burned; he may lose his eyesight. Matthew Buckley and Francis Cullen also received serious burns.

—A bulletin recently issued by the Census Office contains the following information relative to the population of the United States in 1880: The native born were: Whites, 36,843,291; colored, 6,632,549; foreign born, 6,679,943; total population, 50,155,783. Of the foreign born 2,772,169 were natives of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; 1,966,742 of the German Empire; 717,084 of British America; 194,337 of Norway; 181,729 of Sweden; 106,971 of France; 104,581 of China; and the remainder represent all the countries of the earth. The bulletin further states that while the population of Maryland is 934,943, there are 958,141 Marylanders in the country.

—Two severe earthquakes were experienced at Panama last Friday causing the destruction of $250,000 worth of property.

—A counterfeit silver half-dollar, made of Babbett metal and glass, is in circulation. It has a good ring, and is an excellent imitation.

—Charges have been filed against First Comptroller of the Treasury Lawrence for acting as the advocate of a claimant before the department.

—The steamar Alaska, from New York to Liverpool, has just made the trip across the Atlantic in six days, fifteen hours and nineteen minutes.

—The Greenbackers of Delaware inserted at least one sensible plank in their platform when they denounced the whipping-post and pillory as relics of barbarism.

—At the Massachusetts Democratic State Convention held in Boston on Tuesday, the irrepressible General Benjamin F. Butler was unanimously nominated for governor.

—The Governor-general of Canada has expressed his willingness to assist in colonizing French Canadians in the Northwest in order to prevent their emigration to the United States.

—There were fourteen cases of yellow fever and one death at Brownsville, Texas on Wednesday. The fever is slowly disappearing from Matamoras. At Pensacola there were forty-one new cases and six deaths.

A Word in Season.—In presenting to our patrons and the public our fall stock of clothing, we wish to state, in as few words as possible, our position as claimants for a share of the public patronage. We have a large stock of Fall and Winter Clothing suitable for all ages, sorts and conditions of men. We think it is the best stock ever opened in this comunity. We know it is the best stock we have ever offered, for the reason that we have employed in its selection more experience, more time, and more money than ever. We have studied the Fall syles and new patterns carefully and made our selections with particular reference to the wants and tastes of this community. Last, but not least, we have so taken advantage of the market and our opportunities for obtaining bargains that we are able to offer our large and elegant stock of Men's, Youths', Boy's and Children's Clothing, for Fall and Winter wear, at such phenomenally low prices as will astonish and delight you. By glancing through our advertisement you will see that our assortment embraces everything in the line of gents' clothing and furnishings, from a collar button to a full dress suit. We trust this effort of ours to place our desires and intentions before you in an attractive manner will meet with your approval so far as to determine you to call and see what we have to offer. In conclusion, those of our friends whom we already have the honor to number among our patrons, will recognize the force of what we have said, as they know from past experience that we speak the truth. Those who have not yet favored us by dealing with us can satisfy themselves of our veracity by calling at our place of business, inspecting our goods and learning prices, which we cordially and earnestly invite all to do. We shall always be glad to see both old friends and new acquaintances. Drop in on us "informally" at any time. We are always at home; and promise you, before hand, a hearty welcome. We announce our Fall opening to occur on September 26.

Respectfully,
LOWENSTEIN BROS.
