Dear Sir,

Buttermere Sept 15 1838

I have the pleasure to inform You a letter, that came to our bar on Saturday, I expected to have had the pleasure of seeing You on Saturday, but Your Friends thinks You have return home, and I think I had better send the letter to You. I received letters from McPeak, on Saturday dated Oct 6 1837, and in a postscript, he says if Your Judge Buchanan should be in Buttermere, to say to Him that he should come unto Him in some hurry

I hope You will write unto McPeak, a long letter, about proceedings at Annapolis, as I invite by Very Intently to hear

Most Respectfully Yours

Samuel Riggs
