Dear Sir

Wickliffe Jordy June 30th 1838

I have expected to hear from you before this or should have written you on the subject of your colts, I shall be highly pleased to train them for you this fall if you have made no arrangement to suit you better, I shall commence taking up next week and shall have a full stable of colts mostly untried but racing campaign commences the 3rd week in September, I have several engagements in stakes in Virginia to name to from the 1st of August to 1st September hence, I should be highly gratified to have yours, thereby strengthening my chance, some of my colts are engaged in N. Carolina, where I shall send a part of my stable, with the rest I expect to be in Baltimore, as I think now that I shall subscribe to the $1.000 stakes at Peldens
