PARTICULAR INFORMATION.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission are required to furnish evidence of their good moral character; or if from another college, a regular dismission. To enter the Freshman class, candidates must be prepared to sustain an examination upon all the studies pursued in the preparatory department, or what shall be deemed an equivalent. For admission to an advanced standing, they must be examined on all the studies that have been pursued by the class which they enter, unless they present a regular certificate of dismission from another College.

AGE.

Students under the age of fourteen years, are not allowed to have rooms in the college, except in special cases. Experience proves that they are not qualified to take care of themselves and a room under College regulations; but that they need the superintendance, resulting from boarding in a private family.
