its intrinsic importance. Hark my trainer thinks, she will have her about the mark, & that she will beat her race at Newmarket. Between this time & the 26th I rather expect to run her 2 mile heats at the Cross Keys, by way of preparation stakes. She has been tried 2 miles & we were satisfied with her performance, that distance. I may dish you a line after the Cross Keys race, if there should be a post office near, to convey the letter immediately on to you, but I doubt whether there is one near that place.

I hear Boston is moving finely, & that his trials are better than ever. This may be so, but I rather doubt it. It will I imagine be an interesting race. Portsmouth will not start but his willow will run in lieu of him, his name Omega.

I shall write tonight to Mr Foreman & suggest to him to come in before the Newmarket races. L. Blifden is very well, looks finely now.

I have bought, since I saw you, to be delivered soon, Hark the trainer. My colts will now have every advantage, for I have long thought with many others, Arthur Taylor a-
