My Dear Sir

Your letter of the 30th is before me – one which I received yesterday I was starting for home on acct of Mrs Pearce's sickness I have mislaid & I cannot now remember to what point you wanted some letters of introduction. Pray inform me and I will endeavour to supply you. – In regard to the platform my opinion is that it will be dangerous to make alterations without of Cincinnati. Important additions will be proposed I presume which if proposed will make great mischief. My desire is that nothing be added except what may meet with general acceptance & approval – and any such amendment cannot be of great importance. I had much rather avoid any contest over it if possible – If that cannot be avoided I should prefer to vote against any addition except such as received almost the universal approval of the convention – such I think is the general
