My dear Sir Centre Ville Feby 28 - 1828

You will please to request my friend Doctr Whitely to have my papers in my desk in the senate chamber packed up by Mr Slicer the door keeper and bring them home with you -- In my bed chamber I left my testament and prayer book which you will also ask the Doctor for and bring with you on your return - Kelly's laws in my room Harris & Johnson's reports in my desk in the senate and the laws of 1784 in the committee room of the senate belongs to the Library which you will be good enough to have returned otherwise I shall be liable to be fined - In consequence of detaining one or two books longer than allowed by the rules, the librarian informed me he had me fined one or two ~~dollars~~ and which I intended to have remitted by the Speaker of your house and by the president of the senate. These books have been returned and you will speak to these gentlemen about remitting the fines - I must still more impose on your goodness by getting you to call on Nicholas Brewer Esq. in Bowie Hill Creek to send me a letter stating that no allowance can be made John Price's estate for surveying the land sold by his father as trustee
